PA NEW OBSERVES

Pa New is of the belief that only a comparative few have any conception of what transpires each day at the Ben Franklin Trade Center. No doubt that a visit there once in a while would better inform one as to what actually is going on. There's plenty for the different department instructors to show. Included is an auto mechanics unit, cabinet making shop, machine shop, electrical shop and a printing department.

Word that different Boy Scout troops in the county placed food in the outdoors for wild game during the past winter has reached Pa. New and he wants to add his commendation.
Had this not been the case no doubt the death of an abundant supply of game would be the result.

Lawn rolling might be said to herald the coming of spring weather, but when the government believes in it that ought to put an official stamp upon it. The local post office yard was rolled early Tuesday afternoon, but all that it brought seemed to be a flurry of snowflakes.

Although yesterday was not just exactly springlike, employees at the New Castle postoffice were out rolling the lawn, preparatory to sowing grass seed. It won't be long now.

Lots of people are making ready to

Now across this state of ours, there are signs of fray and strife, for the candidates for office once again are showing life. And in strident tones and bell like they announce to one and all, that they now are asking voters, to pay some heed to their call. Are your taxes high my brother, hear what Goofus has to say, vote for Clunk and Pete O'Fumble and you'll profit right away. How they point with pride and valor to the records they have made, how they hurl the shaft of poison at the errors which are made. But it's all in fun I reckon, folks enjoy their antics, weather's

Tells Of Incidents In Home In Neshannock Township At Hold-up

Tells Jury That William
Grimm Was One Of Youths Entering Home

Dramatic story of the murder of his brother, Clark Rea, at their Neshannock township home, was told by Elias Rae in the trial of William Grimm before Judge J. A. Chambers in court here this morning.
Rea told his story in a simple, straightforward manner, that carried conviction.

He said that on the night of January 15th, he and his brother were warming their backs before a fire in the grate. Both were standing up.
Suddenly the rays from a flashlight shot through an east window. Clark Rea instantly grabbed a chair and hurled it through the window.

Then several shots were fired from the outside. Clark Rea took a step or two toward the center of the room and fell to the floor, shot through the head.

Men Wore Masks
Three men wearing handkerchiefs for masks, came through the windows.
They all carried guns in their hands.
Witness dropped to the floor near a sofa, threw up his hands and begged for mercy. A revolver was thrust in his face and a demand made for his money. He gave up all that he had, about 50 cents.

The gun was held at his head while the other two in the room searched

Prohibition Controversy
Churning Merrily In Washington—Plea

By WILLIAM S. NEAL

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Militant and defiant women marched before the house judiciary committee today denouncing all attempts to repeal the prohibition amendment and instead demanding that liquor buyers as well as sellers be prosecuted.

The score of women speakers, marshalled by Mrs. Henry W. Peabody of Boston, chairman of the woman's national committee for law enforcement, called prohibition a blessing to the nation, attacked proposals for a nation-wide referendum and flayed
"drinking dyes" on the government pay-roll.

At the same time, Rep. L. C. Dyer
(R) of Missouri, was appearing before the Hoover Law enforcement commission with a plea for legalization of 2.75 beer, and the house was confronted with a report from the Christopherson committee proposing drastic modification of the stern
Jones law.

Controversy Churns.
The prohibition controversy churned all over the capital.

The "Woman's Day" defense of prohibition was offered before the committee as an answer to the previous proposals of speakers for the nation's leading wet organizations to repeal the 18th Amendment and return liquor control to the states.

"No compromise" was the slogan of the women throughout their presentation.
They not only claimed the right to speak for 12,000,000 women belonging to organizations affiliated with the woman's national committee for law enforcement, but predicted that they would enroll millions more to back strict enforcement.

IRENE ENTERING COURT HOUSE

Irene Schroeder, extreme right, enroute to court house from county jail, for her trial now in progress here.

Sheriff Charles Wright And Arizona Witnesses Arrive In New Castle

After riding trains since Saturday evening Sheriff Charles Wright, of Phoenix, Arizona, arrived in New Castle Tuesday evening, with a party of witnesses who will testify at the trial of Irene Schroeder, blonde bandit who is on trial in the Lawrence County court house for the murder of Corporal Brady Paul of the State Highway Patrol.

With Sheriff Wright are his wife,
Hans Kuhn, a member of the posse that captured Irene, Rosie Smith, an octoiron and Mattie Jackson, a colored woman, the latter two being cell mates of Irene Schroeder in the jail in Phoenix. Leaving Phoenix Saturday night the party travelled by way of the Southern Pacific, Rock Island and New York Central lines, arriving in New Castle at 8:22 p. m. in the same scheduled train which carried Irene Schroeder, W. Glen Dague and the party of officers and newspaper men who made the trip to Phoenix in January.

For Sheriff and Mrs. Wright the trip is both business and pleasure. It is the first time they have been this far east and for the next few weeks they will be guests of the county. The entire party is stopping at the Castles-ton.

Sheriff Wright is the man who organized a posse of 100 deputies, cowboys and Indians and went up into the Estrella Mountains after Irene and Dague, following the shooting of

Groundhog Emerges After Sleeping Over Four Months

Old Brer' Groundhog has returned from a long winter spent in dreamland. The pet of the George Brooks' family on the Mercer road near this city came from his burrow yesterday, after sleeping for four months and twelve days.

The little fellow is about six years old, but he still knows when winter is over. He is thin but is not a pig, for he eats very little for the first few days. Having been away from his friends these months he still knows them and is just as tame as ever, the members of the family report.

This groundhog is like a family cat, playing in the house and rejoicing in finding his friends, the hound dog, once again,

DISTRICT ATTORNEY OPENS COMMONWEALTH'S CASE AGAINST IRENE SCHROEDER

Jury Is Completed Shortly Before Noon
And Actual Evidence Taking Is Started This Afternoon. Butler Witnesses Are To Be Called First

THE SCHROEDER JURY

Joseph D. Kelley, Laborer, Wayne Township.
C. Leroy Shira, Engineer, First Ward.
J. E. McDonald, Repairman, Ellwood City.
Clement Gardner, Tinworker, Fifth Ward.
Jennie Curtis, Housekeeper, Union Township.
Samuel Patterson, Farmer, Plaingrove Township.
Charles R. Hill, Laborer, Shenango Township.
L. Judson Rodgers, Farmer, Plaingrove Twp.
Theodore Warnock, Mechanic, Scott Township.
Gladys O. Rosenthal, Housekeeper, 2nd Ward.
Thomas Kennedy, Molder, Fourth Ward.
John Fullerton, Salesman, Mahoning Township.

At the opening of court this afternoon, the commonwealth opened its case against Irene Schroeder for the murder of Corporal Brady Paul on December 27th, 1929.
After two and a half days of examination, the jury was selected, the last one being taken at 11:40 this morning, and at one thirty District Attorney John S. Powers opened the case to the jury in court room number one.

The opening was a brief one. "We will show you that Corporal Brady Paul met his death on December 27th, 1929, on the Butler Road, just outside of New Castle," said he.
"We will show that this defendant Irene Schroeder was the person who shot him. By competent testimony which we will call, we will show you every phase of the case, giving you everything bearing upon the case we could find, and after presenting our case to you, we will ask for a conviction at your hands."

Two Women on Jury.

Two women and ten men comprise the jury, the second woman being selected from the special panel of talentmen brought in by Sheriff Johnston.
She is Mrs. Gladys O. Rosenthal, a housekeeper of the second ward. The other woman is Mrs. Jennie Curtis, housekeeper of Union township.

At 10:20 Tuesday evening the second panel of jurors was exhausted and Judge Hildebrand issued an order of tales de plurius, in which 40 additional talesmen were to be summoned. Sheriff Johnston had these special talesmen in court at 9:30 and their examination started immediately. Mrs. Rosenthal was the first one called.

With the filling of the jury box
Judge Hildebrand excused the other special talesmen from further duty and they were paid for one day's service. The jurors of panel No. 2 who were called and excused for cause, were excused from further service on today.

Further report of proceedings at court in the case of Irene Schroeder, are to be found on page 5.

Tuesday afternoon and also paid off.
The balance of the panel No. 1, which is being used in court room No. 2, is being held in the event that the case against William Grimm is disposed of before Saturday morning.

Butler Witnesses.

After establishing the corpus delicti, or the death of the man concerning whom the case arose, Brady
Paul, the commonwealth will call Wish Angert, proprietor of the F. H. Butler store in Butler, Pa., who was held up, gagged and robbed on December 27, 1929. Other witnesses will be called to substantiate his testimony.

Prior to the testimony of the Butler witnesses, the jury will be shown elaborate maps showing the location of the spot where Paul met his death, the distance to Butler, and to New Castle, and every phase of the case that can be shown by maps.

Dr. Loyal W. Wilson, who performed the post mortem on Paul, will be called to establish the fact that Brady
Paul is dead, and Coroner James P.
Caldwell will be called to testify as to the inquest which was held.

The long trail of testimony has started. For the next 10 or 12 days this will continue, on the one side the commonwealth, the testimony being convince the jury that Irene Schroe-

Two Killed In Mountain Feud

Two Reported Killed, One Seriously Wounded In Mountain Shooting

BELIEVED WORK OF "MOONSHINE" BANDS

(International News Service)
WILLIAMSON, W. Va., March 12.—Two men are dead, another is seriously wounded and a fourth is in jail here today while authorities of three states, West Virginia, Kentucky and Virginia, are piecing together details of a bloody battle in the mountain fastness of the tri-state border region which is believed to have climaxed the meeting of rival "moonshine" bands.

The dead are Charlie Maxwell, of Upper Mingo county, and Riley Hardin, 24, of Kentucky.
Jeff Hardin, 24, a cousin of one of the dead men, is in a local hospital with part of his leg shot away and a bullet wound in his body. George Hardin, another relative, is being held in jail.

Both maintain the stolidness of mountaineers and refuse to answer questions of police.
Mingo county deputy sheriffs say the shooting occurred Sunday night at Alvin, in a remote district. Due to the sparsely settled neighborhood and the absence of telephone service, first reports of the battle did not reach Williamson until late yesterday and the meager details were not learned until today.

Woman Witnesses Shooting
Officers returning from the scene of the shooting today said the trouble started between rival Virginia and Mingo county "moonshine" gangs, with Kentuckians as members of the West Virginia outfit. Mrs. Sam Mounts, in front of whose mountain cabin the men clashed, said she had seen two men cross the Virginia line in an intoxicated condition, carrying shotguns. A short time later, she stated, she heard shots.

Mrs. Mounts further told police that she had seen Ethel Harding, another relative of one of the dead men, fire a pistol at the men with a mountaineer across the Virginia border. The woman declared that more than 50 shots were fired and when the smoke cleared away, two men were dead and the third was wounded.

The border region, where the shooting occurred, has been the scene of several feuding gun battles in recent months.

plant their first spring peas on Monday, St. Patrick's day. Peas are rather hardy and can stand colder weather than many other varieties of garden vegetable. The biggest trouble is in getting the ground prepared.

Henry Bryson of State street owns a book of Scotch tunes, Highlands, Strathpeys and country dances that he found many years ago in the ruins of a log cabin. The book is probably over a century old and it is entitled "A New and Complete Tutor for the German Flute." The book was sold by J. Anderson, music seller, Perth.

The North street bridge is being used quite extensively Pa Newc noticed.

Mrs. Clark Norris and Miss Verna Usher of 106 N. Pine street were standing on the back porch of their home Tuesday when they were surprised to see a large robin sitting on the steps. Its breast was a beautiful brownish red. At about 4 o'clock, when it started to snow, the robin flew away.

The men of the families had to go to the cellar this morning, get the snow shovel and clear the sidewalks.

Frank McWilliams of Volant told Pa Newc the others day that the stretch of unimproved road between Volant and the paved road from East Brook is in bad condition. But then, he added, at this time of year most all unpaved roads are in bad condition.

March continued its reputation for dishing out variable weather last evening. A few minutes before 8 o'clock the sky was clear and the stars were shining. Shortly after that it started to lightning in the distance, although no thunder was heard. Then a blinding snow storm followed.

Pa Newc heard a flock of robins warbling last evening on his way home, but was unable to hear a sound this morning. Perhaps they are as much "regusted" with the weather as we are.

PRESIDENT HOOVER CASTING ABOUT FOR NEW COURT JUSTICE

ment should go to a Democrat to relieve the top-heavy Republicanism of the bench. And above and beyond these conflicting claims is the demand voiced in the Senate by opponents of the Hughes appointment that the new justice be "a liberal."

The impression prevails that President Hoover will turn either to the Federal Circuit courts or the Federal District courts for the successful candidate. This field furnishes plenty of candidates. There is Judge John J. Parker of North Carolina; Judge Curtis D. Wilbur of California; secretary of the navy in the Coolidge administration; Judge Wm. S. Kenyon, of Iowa, now a member of the Wickham law enforcement commission; Judge Xenophon Hicks of Tennessee, now on the Circuit Court of Appeals; Judge Paul McCormick of California.

Baker Mentioned
Almost every member of the federal judiciary might without exaggeration said to be a candidate in the sense that he has more or less support from one source or another.

In some quarters, Newton D. Baker, of Ohio, secretary of war in Wilson cabinet, and an outstanding "liberal," is considered a possibility. In the same breath is mentioned John W. Davis, Democratic presidential nominee in 1924.

No appointment is considered likely for several weeks. Some of the opposition to the Hughes appointment was engendered by the fact President Hoover did it without consultation with any of his advisers, and there is a considerable section of Mr. Hoover's own party that does not believe appointments of such importance should be made that way. Consequently, it is expected that Mr. Hoover will stop look and listen before making his second nomination to the supreme bench.

WAMPUM WOMAN BELIEVED DEAD AS HOME BURNS

pum-New Galilee road, southwest of here. A large force of employees of the Crescent Portland Cement plant has been searching the ruins for her body since early this morning.

Explosion of an oil stove in the kitchen of the home is believed to have been responsible for the fire, which totally destroyed the home and its contents.

Other members of the household escaped in their night clothing. One, a porch roof. The fire was discovered by Mrs. Cameron after the members of the household had gone to bed. She awakened her husband, presumably a short time after eleven o'clock. The smoke was beginning to escape from the upstairs apartments of the home at that time. They started downstairs to investigate. Mr. Cameron, telling his wife to follow him, and get out of the building.

Finding things in such shape as to indicate the house was doomed and all regular exits about to be shut off by the flames and under the impression that his wife had followed him and had made her way to safety, he rushed back upstairs and awakened his father, his daughter, Jean, aged 14, and his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Velma Cameron and her little son, Jimmy.

He trusted himself in effecting their escape all the time believing that Mrs. Cameron had escaped. The downstairs means of exit shut off, he managed to get the other members of the household outside in safety in their night clothing over a porch roof.

With the others outside and safe, he thought of turning again to his wife and she not being in the vicinity, he sought to re-enter the burning building again but found the flames so intense that he could not get in far enough to determine whether she was in there or not. He did not turn back from his efforts until he had sustained a terrible burned hand.

The entire building, a nine roomed brick structure, was a mass of ruins about 12:30 o'clock this morning and the walls were starting to fall in. The ruins made such a terrific heat that it was not until after daylight this morning, that much headway could be made in the effort to locate the body of Mrs. Cameron, believed to be in the ruins of the place.

According to Mr. Cameron, the only possible cause of the fire as far as he can determine was an oil stove in the kitchen, which must have been left lighted. It is believed that it exploded. It was only used as an auxiliary in the heating and cooking purposes of the home.

First intimation of the fire was about 11:30 o'clock last night, when Verd Douthitt of Upper Chewton saw flames and smoke to the southwest of Wampum. He called the telephone operator at Wampum and asked if there was a fire.

Advised that there was nothing known by the operator, he asked for a telephone in the direction of the fire. He was given the William Kirkwood residence on the New Galilee road and got Mr. and Mrs. Ray McBride, who reside there, to the phone, telling them what he saw.

They could see the blaze and started in their car for the scene, arriving there shortly after midnight. The home was in ruins then. They found Mr. Cameron standing nearby. The other members of the household were in a car near the barn, all in their night clothing. Employees of the Crescent Portland Cement company arrived with extinguishers but could do nothing.

The house destroyed was the property of the Crescent Portland Cement company. It was formerly occupied by R. B. McGeorge and family for many years. It is but a short distance from the former summer home of D. M. Kirk. It would cost approximately $20,000 to reproduce. The Camerons lost all their household effects and clothing.

Two Children Have Measles
Two children today were reported to the municipal health bureau as having measles. They are Marjorie Gordon, 320 East Lincoln avenue, 5 years of age, and Robert Sheehy, 802 Harrison street, 5 years old.

STAR LORE

STAR MOTIONS IN SOME FAMILIAR CONSTELLATIONS

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter

With the exception of two stars in the big dipper of Ursa Major, the rest—five—are flying in unison. They are real neighbors showing they are actually related to one another. Their proper motions (change of positions on the celestial sphere) are equal and parallel. The same is true of many of the stars in the constellation Scorpion. But Corona Borealis is made up of stars unrelated, for each of its stars has a velocity and a direction of motion of its own. After a long period of time, Corona Borealis will have entirely lost its crowlike form.

Bible Conference At Alliance Tabernacle

Rev. H. Miller Herr Of Butler, Pa., Begins Three Day Services Tuesday

The three week Three-Day-A-Week Bible conference got under way today at the Pearson street Gospel Tabernacle. Rev. H. Miller Herr, pastor of the Butler branch, also a teacher in the Whiteside Memorial Bible school is the speaker.

There are afternoon and evening sessions. At the afternoon sessions the Book of Ephesians is being studied. Yesterday afternoon Rev. Herr brought forth a mine of helpful spiritual truths. His message was rather preparatory to those that will follow, showing a general view and outline of the book. This, he said, is the middle book of the first group of seven books written by Paul. It sets forth the summit of Christian experience.

The evening services are held at 7:30. The pastor, Rev. E. C. Anderson, was in charge of the song service. Rev. Scripture of the Hoover Heights Tabernacle led in prayer.

a dozen states were read before the speakers took the floor. Among them were messages from Mrs. Henry Ford, wife of the auto magnate; Mrs. Thomas A. Edison, wife of the inventor; Mrs. Vic Donahay, wife of the former Ohio governor, and Mrs. James Lees Laidlaw of the New York committee for law enforcement.

"I am heartily in favor of the 18th Amendment without modification," said Mrs. Ford. "It is a law of the United States and should be observed by all of us. In my opinion it has been of untold benefit to the women as well as the men of our country in improved living conditions and a more prosperous nation."

The women claimed that the economic benefit of prohibition to the nation alone justifies the law. They asserted crime has decreased, drunkenness has lessened in colleges as well as generally; that the nation's health has improved, that more food is consumed and there are better homes.

Irene's Sisters At Court Trial

Come From Wheeling, W. Va., This Afternoon To Attend Remainder Of Trial

Relatives of Mrs. Irene Schroeder reached the Lawrence county court room this afternoon, when actual taking of evidence in the trial of the blonde was started.

Three sisters of Irene, Mrs. F. H. Muldoon, Mrs. Mamie Baum and Mrs. Ruby Schroeder, all of Wheeling, W. Va., and Mr. Muldoon have arrived and will remain in the court during the continuance of the trial.

The presence in the court room no doubt will act as a stimulus to Irene during the long ordeal that she is now facing.

Daring Holdup By Pittsburgh Thugs Surprises Officer

Policeman Sitting In Booth In Restaurant Heldup Along With Diners

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, March 12.—Now if you'll kindly give me your gun, please—

Patrolman Frank Waite, sitting in a booth today in the Regal restaurant here, looked up to find himself covered with a gun by a neatly dressed youth.

He turned over his gun. Another youth entered, covered the diners and the first intruder relieved Steve Doscalos, proprietor, of $30, rifled the cash register of $15, and the two departed.

They carried Waite's police gun with them.

Changing Lights In Local Streets

System Will Have Been Revamped By Next Wednesday

Louis Round, district superintendent, Penn.-Ohio Power company believes that the street light system here has been practically revamped by Wednesday of next week, after which Councilman Clayton Reeves and he will inspect the system and if further changes are desired they will be made.

Round said that while not all changes as yet have been made the big improvement has already been noticeable.

"Should persons see lights out at night they will be doing their duty by calling the P-O company," said Round.

"We want to have every light burn every night and any 'outage' report be immediately reported."

Arranging To Fix "Mun" Club House

Linoleum bought recently has not been laid at the municipal golf club house but will be soon as remodeling is completed. It is proposed by Councilman Genkinger and colleagues to remove the partition of the basement, install a "club house" with lockers before the golf season starts.

A Clear Complexion

Ruddy cheeks—sparkling eyes—most women can have. Dr. F. M. Edwards for 20 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave his patients a substitute for calomel made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients, naming them Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. Know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, causing a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headache, a listless, ungood feeling all out of sorts, inactive bowels, take one of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets—now and then to keep fit. 15c, 30c and 60c.

RUPTURED? Free Demonstration

at the Fountain Inn Hotel, on Friday, March 14

By Mr. A. E. MITCHELL

Hours, 10 a. m. to 7 p. m.

It costs you absolutely nothing to receive a free ten-day test supply of the herbal muscle- tonic "Plapao," and to examine and have demonstrated to you privately—a scientific self-treatment, which so many others attest under oath rid them of their rupture and saved them from the knife.

FREE - PLAPAO - FREE

Stuart's Plapao-Pads are patentably different from the truss, being mechanico-chemical applicators made self-adhesive purposely to keep the muscle tonic called "Plapao" continuously applied to the affected parts, and to minimize danger of slipping and painful friction. Fabric soft as velvet—easy to apply—inexpensive. During 24 years thousands have successfully treated themselves at home, without hindrance from work. Awarded Gold Medal, Rome; Grand Prix, Paris and Honorable Mention, San Francisco. Process of recovery is natural, so no subsequent use for any kind of support.

BE SURE TO CALL!

Do not fail to call on Mr. Mitchell, as you may not have another opportunity for some time.

Remember the time and place.

If not able to call, write for FREE TRIAL PLAPAO. Address Plapao Co., 998 Stuart Bldg., St. Louis, Mo.

One Juror Withdrawn From Schroeder Case On Tuesday Evening

Statements Alleged To Have
Been Made Some Weeks
Ago, Cause

SPECIAL PANEL OF
JURORS IS CALLED

Only Nine In Jury Box When Court Adjourned Tuesday Night

Following a private hearing which lasted nearly an hour Tuesday evening, E. C. Porter, a contractor of Wayne township, who was juror number four in the case against Irene Schroeder now on trial in the Lawrence County court house, was removed from the jury. The hearing or examination, took place at the opening of the evening session.

Briefly the facts surrounding the removal of Mr. Porter are these. Attorney Charles J. Margiotti, special counsel for the state in the case, learned from Attorney Joseph Humphrey of Ellwood City that Mr. Porter had made statements, which if true would disqualify him for service on the Schroeder jury. He was alleged to have said in a Bible class of the Presbyterian church of Ellwood City, that he thought Irene Schroeder was just a girl who ought to be given another chance, and that he would not vote to convict her of first degree murder.

Call Witnesses
In support of the allegations, E. C. George was called, and Mrs. J. A. Evans, both of Ellwood City. They testified to their recollections of Mr. Porter's statements, and Mr. Porter was himself called.

After some questioning by Mr. Margiotti, Mr. Porter said that he "might have made such statements". The commonwealth then moved that he be excused from further service in the case, to which the defense objected on the grounds that no law could be cited covering such a condition. Judge Hildebrand ordered the removal of Mr. Porter and allowed the defense 5 additional peremptory challenges. Mr. Porter had already exhausted 19 of the 20 allotted to them. The additional five made it possible for them to get rid of jurymen they did not want, but who could not be disqualified for cause. As he left the court house Mr. Porter said, "there has been a misunderstanding in this affair. I did comment upon the case in the class, but I did not say I was against capital punishment. I was against it five years ago but changed my mind. I said that there were many girls who were led astray by men these days and that the girls were cast out of society. Had I been retained I would have expected to have given Irene Schroeder a fair, impartial trial, according to the law and evidence."

District Attorney John S. Powers and Attorney Charles J. Margiotti deplored the incident but said that under the circumstances there was nothing for them to do but ask for the removal of Mr. Porter. Defense Attorneys Thomas W. Dickey, Kedgwin Powell and Benjamin Jarrett were satisfied with the court's ruling.

No Mistrial
No mistrial can be claimed as the result of the removal of Mr. Porter, nor can this be taken as grounds for an appeal, should the verdict go against the defendant. While each juror is sworn upon his voir dire, the life of the defendant is not in jeopardy until the jury of twelve has been sworn as a whole.

At 10:15 Tuesday evening the second panel of jurors was exhausted, with but nine jurors in the box. Two were selected in the evening session, but one of them, Clement Gardner took the place of Mr. Porter. Theodore Warnock, a mechanic of Scott township, was called and had no fixed opinion. He had no fixed opinion and was not opposed to capital punishment. Would not convict if an accomplice fired the shot. Challenged for cause and excused.

Edward Slevin, a clerk of Ellwood City, was called. Had no scruples against capital punishment. No prejudice against officers. Passed by the commonwealth. Knows County Detective Lee but said this acquaintance would not interfere with his judgment. Felt he would not be influenced by his opinion. Defense challenged peremptorily. This exhausted the panel at 10:17 p. m.

Should Start Today
Taking of testimony should start sometime today, probably shortly after the opening of the afternoon session. The prospect that this would be a long trial seems in a fair way to be fulfilled. Witnesses are arriving from other cities, and the total of commonwealth witnesses to be called will approximate 85 or 90. If they are all called, and it is probable that they will be, the commonwealth will complete its case before adjournment on Saturday afternoon, and this appears doubtful. The defense has some forty witnesses subpoenaed and they will probably take up four or five days. The examination of Irene Schroeder is expected to take up the major portion of the trial. Her story will probably be an account of her activities from the robbery of the P. H. Butler store in Butler, Pa., which she is alleged to have committed with W. Glenn Dague and a third man, thought to be her brother Tom, until she arrived in New Castle after being captured by a posse in Arizona.

The case will probably make history in criminal courts of Lawrence county. Never has there been such wide spread interest in a case being tried here, never has there been such an array of newspaper men and women covering the indications, never has a criminal case cost the county of Lawrence such a stupendous sum of money as this one will cost before it is finished. After that, there is the same thing to go over for W. Glenn Dague.

The jurors examined on Tuesday afternoon and evening follow:
Tuesday Afternoon
Daniel H. McQuiston, a manufacturer of New Wilmington, was the first juror called in the afternoon session. He had read of the case but had formed no opinion as to guilt or innocence. Mr. McQuiston qualified but Irene shook her head and he was challenged peremptorily.

Jennie Sankey, a housekeeper of Shenango township was called, had scruples against capital punishment. She was challenged for cause and excused. Samuel P. Long, a carpenter of the 2nd ward was called. He had formed an opinion but could lay it aside. The defense passed him. Had scruples against capital punishment. Challenged for cause and excused.

Robert Cochran, a laborer of South New Castle Boro, had read of the case and had formed an opinion, but could lay it aside. Had scruples against capital punishment and was excused. This name exhausted the panel and the jurors in the panel in court room number two were taken.

Gertrude Kyle had an opinion which was fixed and was excused. Daniel Kennedy, a clerk of the 2nd ward was called and also had a fixed opinion. He was challenged and excused.

Blanche Bright, a housekeeper of the 8th ward was called. She had read of the case and had an opinion which would interfere with her verdict. Challenged for cause and sustained.

Carrie E. Heitzman, a housekeeper of the 2nd ward was called. Had read of the case but had no definite opinion. Had no scruples against capital punishment. Powers attempted to bring out some statements made in Court Room No. 2 to which the defense objected. Objection overruled. The question was whether or not she would find all defendants equally guilty when one fired the shot. Commonwealth challenged peremptorily.

Harvey Spiker, a plasterer of Ne-shannock township, was opposed to capital punishment and was excused. Seventh Juror.
Charles R. Hill, a laborer of Shenango township, was called and said he had read of the case and had no fixed opinion. The commonwealth passed the juror. The defense accepted him as juror at 2:47 p. m.

Albert Cole, a laborer of Union township was called. He had an opinion in the case but could lay that opinion aside. An argument ensued over a question asked by Powell as to whether the juror understood that a defendant was innocent until the commonwealth proved him guilty. The court sustained the objection of the commonwealth on the grounds that the question could easily lead to many more such questions. The defense passed the juror. He had no scruples against capital punishment. The commonwealth challenged peremptorily.

G. W. Bell, a laborer of the second ward, had no scruples against capital punishment. He was excused.

W. S. Nickelson, a railroader of the second ward, was called and excused for cause.

Betty McKee, a housekeeper of Hickory township, was excused. Harriet Swogger, a housekeeper of North Beaver township, was excused because of poor hearing.

John Sickafuse, a farmer of Neshannock township, was called and said that he was a field agent for the department of agriculture. He had an opinion in the case but could lay it aside he thought. Powell attempted to have him excused because he was a state employee, which was objected to and sustained. The matter of his opinion was gone into. He was excused.

Alfred Marsh, a laborer of the 6th ward was called. He had read of the case but had formed no opinion. The commonwealth passed him. The defense challenged peremptorily.

James Peebles, a farmer of Scott township was called. He read of the case and had discussed it. Had a general opinion. He was challenged peremptorily by the defense.

Robert E. Bowman, a tinworker of the 2nd ward was called. He read of the case and had an opinion and was not sure whether or not it would bias his judgment. Challenged for cause but objected to by the commonwealth.

Joseph Veon, a laborer of Big Beaver township was called. He was excused because of defective hearing. William Smith, a farmer of Slippery Rock township was called. He was against capital punishment and was excused.

John Copper, Jr., a farmer of Slippery Rock township was called. Had read of the case and had some opinion but he could lay it aside. He was excused.

L. Judson Rodgers, a farmer of Plain Grove township qualified and accepted as juror number eight at 4:40.

Bertha Lozier, a housekeeper of Bessemer was called and said she had no opinion and was not opposed to capital punishment. Challenged peremptorily by the commonwealth.

Harry Kelley, a laborer of Hickory township had scruples against capital punishment and was excused.

John A. King, a minister of Ellwood City was called. He had read of the case and had discussed it somewhat. He had an opinion but could lay it aside in the jury box. The defense challenged peremptorily. Court adjourned until seven o'clock.

Evening Session.
Mrs. Maude Parker, a housekeeper of Wayne township, was passed by the commonwealth but was challenged peremptorily by the defense.

William R. Hunter, a teacher of Ellwood City, was called and said that he had read of the case and had discussed it. He had no fixed opinion. The defense challenged peremptorily.

Clement Gardner, a tinworker of the fifth ward, qualified and replaced E. C. Porter as juror No. 4.

Charles Tanner, a tinworker of Ne-shannock township, had read of the case and discussed it. Had no scruples against capital punishment. The commonwealth passed him. The defense asked him if his opinion could be changed and he said it could. He was challenged peremptorily.

Allen C. Noggle, a farmer of Big Beaver township, was called. He had read the case and discussed it. The defense passed him. Said he could not convict a person who did not fire the shot even though it was an accomplice. Challenged for cause and excused.

Frank Hogue, a carpenter of Shenango township was called. Had no scruples against capital punishment. Sex of defendant would make no difference. Could not find a defendant guilty if another person fired the shot. Excused for cause.

Theodore Warnock, a mechanic of Scott township, was called. He qualified for both sides and was accepted as juror No. 9 at 9:35.

George Ryan, a clerk of the sixth ward, was called and said that he could not convict a person of first degree murder if it was an accomplice fired the shot. He was excused.

Dora Cover, a housekeeper of Ellwood City, was called. She had an opinion which she felt could not be changed. She was excused.

Guy McCowan, a stationary engineer of Big Beaver township, was called. He had an opinion formed and felt it might interfere with his verdict. Challenged for cause and sustained.

Lloyd Wimer, a policeman for the New Castle News, was called. He had read of the case and had discussed it some. He said he was acquainted with one member of the state police. He had an opinion which he felt was too strong to be laid aside. Challenged for cause and sustained.

Walter L. Ashton, an inspector residing in the fifth ward. Had no fixed opinion and was not opposed to capital punishment. Would not convict if an accomplice fired the shot. Challenged for cause and excused.

George Martin, a farmer of Washington township, was called. Had an opinion which was not fixed. The defense passed the juror. No scruples against capital punishment. Could not convict if an accomplice fired the shot. Challenged for cause and excused.

Edward Slevin, a clerk of Ellwood City, was called. Had no scruples against capital punishment. No prejudice against officers. Passed by the commonwealth. Knows County Detective Lee but said this acquaintance would not interfere with his judgment. Felt he would not be influenced by his opinion. Defense challenged peremptorily. Bounty Payments Decrease $33,589
HARRISBURG, March 12—Final completion of bounty claims for 1929 made in the offices of the Game Commission show a total payment of $88,271, a decrease of $33,589 as compared to the previous year.

The decrease was caused largely by the smaller number of wildcats killed and the fact that the bounty on red foxes was removed on May 14. During the year claims were paid for 278 wildcats as compared with 416 in 1928. In 1929 bounty was paid on 6955 gray foxes, a decrease of 3025 over the previous year.

Weasel claims during 1929 made a new high record of 50,333 as compared with 34,870 in 1928.

Clinton Pupils Make Good Score
HARRISBURG, March 12—A report from Clinton county to the Department of Public Instruction indicates that during the past school year Superintendent Guy C. Brosius awarded certificates to 100 pupils who had been perfect in attendance for five years. During the past school year 703 pupils of the 4992 enrolled in districts under the supervision of the Clinton county superintendent were neither absent nor tardy, and 349 of these had maintained similar records during some preceding year or years.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS
When Back Hurts Flush Your Kidneys As You Clean Your Bowels
Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, sometimes get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders. You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is intended to flush clogged kidneys and help stimulate them to activity. It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so they no longer irritate, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

Sage Foundation Honors Dr. Sandy
HARRISBURG, March 12—Dr. William C. Sandy, director of the bureau of Mental Health, State Department of Welfare, is the author of an article on "Mental Illness," which will be included in the Social Work Year Book of the Russell Sage Foundation.

It has long been the custom of this foundation to include in its publications the work of outstanding men in their lines and Dr. Sandy who has a national reputation through his work in mental health was chosen to handle the subject in this year's publication.

9800 Receive Free Aid At Hospitals
HARRISBURG, March 12—More than 9800 residents of Pennsylvania receive free or part free treatment in the State-aid hospitals throughout the Commonwealth during February, according to a report to Mrs. E. S. H. McCauley, State Secretary of Welfare today.

A total of 137,391 days of free or part free treatment were given by the fifty-six hospitals included in the report. The report indicates that more free cases were listed than in any previous month.

Lutherans Observe Week Of Prayer

Union Services Held Tuesday
Evening In Bethany Lutheran Church

An evening of prayer in the Week of Prayer being observed by the Lutheran churches of the city, was held Tuesday evening in the Bethany Lutheran church by the missionary societies of the different Lutheran churches of the city.

Words of greeting were extended by Mrs. Oscar Woods, wife of the pastor at Bethany, and devotions were presented by the young women of the church with Mrs. Francis Thomas leading. A service of confession was given by the Katherine Von Bora society of St. John's Lutheran church and a duet was charmingly rendered by Mrs. L. E. Kramer and Mrs. William Runkle. Virginia Woods gave a reading, "Enlarge My Heart" and a prayer period was conducted by the Katherine Von Bora Society.

Mrs. George Campbell read a letter from the general secretary of young women, Nina Diehl and Mary Riser also read a letter from the executive, Evelyn McMillan gave a reading "The Church".

Mrs. John Ingham read a letter from the president of the W. M. S. of United Lutheran churches and a responsive exercise was given by the W. M. S. of St. John's Lutheran church with Mrs. John Rick leading. Emma Thompson gave the parable "The Prayer that was Answered", and a period of intercession for our foreign fields was led by Mrs. O. Woods, the women of the different societies joining in the responses.

A reading was given by Mrs. Warren McMillan and a call for consecration was offered by six women of Bethany church.

Rev. O. Woods made a brief address to the women and an offering was lifted, which is to be used for foreign mission debts.

Mrs. George Campbell was in charge of the program arrangements for this meeting.

Much Power Is Developed In Pennsylvania

Ranks Second In Middle Atlantic
Section In Developed
Water Power

WASHINGTON, D. C. March 12.—Pennsylvania ranks second of the Middle Atlantic States and sixteenth of the forty-eight in the amount of developed water power in plants of 100 horsepower capacity or more, with 50 such plants having a total capacity of 290,586 horsepower, the department of the interior reports. The figures are as of January first of the present year.

Of the 50 water power plants in Pennsylvania of 100 horsepower or more, 43 are devoted to generating power for utilities and municipalities and seven produce electricity for manufacturing and miscellaneous purposes. The utility and municipal plants have a total capacity of 285,655 horsepower and the manufacturing and miscellaneous power centers report a combined capacity of 4,941 horsepower.

California leads the nation in the capacity of such power plants of 100 horsepower or more, with plants having a total capacity of 2,300,529 horsepower. New York comes second with plants reporting a combined capacity of 1,805,195 horsepower.

Way to Get At a Cold Is Through the Bowels

As soon as you catch cold, the pores close, perspiration is checked. Gases and waste can't escape through the skin. That's why your doctor's first advice in case of colds is a mild laxative like cascara. Medical authorities agree it actually strengthens bowel muscles. You get cascara in its most pleasant form in candy Cascarets.

Remember this when you catch cold: whenever breath is bad; tongue coated; or you're headachy, bilious, constipated.

Why resort to harsher things when Cascarets activate the bowels so quickly, so harmlessly and pleasantly—and cost only a dime?

Peter's Adventures

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

HOP-O-MY-THUMBS

Every insect in the crowd was interested in the story of the Frog Hopper baby and all of them strained their eyes to see the cunning youngster in his foam cradle. The Frog Hopper orator continued:

"Of course I know that you and your family make fun of me and my family, but I don't care. Laugh long and be happy, that's my motto and if you don't already know I'll tell you—there's a saying in bug land that runs: 'The bug that makes an insect chuckle is worth his breakfast. Now I and my fellow performers are going to do our stuff! Watch us!'

The speech ended in a somersault and that was a sign for a general mixup. The funny folk hopped, skipped and jumped—tumbled born every one of them. How the insect audience applauded. Suddenly Peter noticed that the crowd was not so great as it had been. The insects had thinned out. What could have happened? As always when he was in the company of the Meadow People, Peter expected danger threatened every time things were different. Quickly he looked about him and above him—saw nothing unusual.

"What is scaring the insects off Biffer? Peter demanded. But Dragonfly answered.

"Nothing!" said he. "Everything's quiet in the meadow, and no danger threatens by water. The circus is over, that is all, and the insects are going about this business. By the way, there's a lovely cool spot beneath a fern by the brookside, just the place for you to spend a quiet hour. Won't you come and be my guest, boy?"

"That I will," cried Peter.

Iron And Steel Trade Summary

Confusing Picture Of Steel
This Week

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, March 12.—A confusing picture in the steel market, with business unevenly distributed geographically and demand for different finished products showing sharp contrasts will be noted by the Iron Age in its weekly summary of the iron and steel trade tomorrow.

Ingot production has declined from 78 to 75 per cent of capacity for the country as a whole but specifications show no further recession, while output at Chicago is holding at 95 per cent with the largest bookings in five weeks and that at Birmingham exceeding 90 per cent.

Steel makers with diversified production are faring better than those specializing in flat-rolled products. The outlook is for a continuation of the contrast between heavy and light products, according to the Iron Age, since one of the chief uncertainties confronting the industry is the flow of steel to producers of consumer goods.

Composite prices are unchanged, pig iron holding at $17.75 a gross ton and finished steel at 2.312c per pound.

MAD DOG BITES NINE CHILDREN

DAYTON, O., March 14.—Nine school children, all under 12, are recovering today from wounds inflicted by a dog in a school room here Monday afternoon.

Pupils in the first and second grades of Franklin school were attacked by a mad dog which entered a class room as they were busy with their studies and bit them and threatened several teachers before finally being trapped by a janitor.

Investigation showed the animal was suffering from rabies. All children were given serum treatment for their injuries.

Sage Tea Turns Gray Hair Dark

By RUTH WAITE

Every woman with gray, faded or streaked hair is entitled to do something about it, for it is every woman's birth-right to retain her youthfulness and charm as long as she can. When a woman mentions gray hair to me, I don't hesitate to advise the use of a restorer and I recommend sage tea and sulphur.

A brew of common garden sage, when properly combined with sulphur, restores gray hair to its original color, lustre and beauty. So perfectly does it do the work that its use is undetectable. You may either prepare the mixture at home or buy it already prepared ready to use. Wyeth's Sage & Sulphur is the name of the prepared article and it costs only 75c a bottle at druggists. Hence there's no need of your bothering to prepare the mixture yourself.

You simply moisten a comb or soft brush with it and draw it through your hair, one strand at a time. The very first application banishes the gray and one or two more sees the hair beautifully restored to its original life and color. One would be surprised if she or he knew of the thousands who use this preparation.

Thursday, March 13th, we start a special 9-day demonstration of the new Frigidaire HYDRATOR

Desserts and salads will be served. New recipe books will be given away. Be sure to attend

HERE'S your opportunity to find out all about the marvelous new Frigidaire Hydrator.

On Thursday, March 13th, we start a special 9-day demonstration—one of the most interesting ever held in our showroom.

We will show the Hydrator in actual use—just as you would use it in your home. You will see how lettuce is made tender and brittle by the Hydrator's moist reviving cold. You will see how celery and radishes take on added crispness—how tomatoes are improved in texture and flavor.

And that is not all you will see. The latest household cabinets in Porcelain-on-steel will be on display. The famous "Frigidaire Cold Control" will also be demonstrated. You will be shown how this device freezes ice cubes faster—how it permits you to make scores of unusual desserts that require extreme cold.

Will you be our guest?

SPECIAL OFFER

Until Saturday, March 22nd
We are prepared to make a liberal special offer to all who buy Frigidaire during our 9-day demonstration. Let us tell you about this offer. Let us tell you about our easy payment plan. Come in at your first opportunity. We will be open evenings until ten o'clock every day of the demonstration.

Detroit Residence Rule Hits 786
Teachers In Detroit
Schools

DETROIT, March 12.—Adoption of the proposed Detroit residence rules for teachers would mean dismissal of 786 instructors in the school system, including Mrs. Evangeline L. Lindbergh, mother of the famous flyer, Frank Cody, superintendent of schools reported to the board of education. Mrs. Lindbergh, a chemistry teacher at Cass Technical high school, and a board employee seven years, lives in Grosse Pointe.

The board deferred action on the proposal and likewise on the demand that all employees who are not citizens be discharged.

There are 29 teachers, according to the report, who have obtained only first citizenship papers. Among the non-educational employees, 73 lack first papers, 144 have only first papers and the status of an additional 47 is in doubt, the school inspectors learned. The number of employees in the system is 10,563 of whom 7,500 are educational workers.

Baptist Men Have Banquet

Bible Class Has Get-Together
At Church Last Night

STANLEY TRESER IS
CEREMONIES HEAD

Six large turkeys were a part of the vast quantity of food put away last night when approximately 100 members of the Men's Bible class of the First Baptist church gathered at the church for a banquet and merry get-together.

Starting the evening off was the radio program of "Amos n' Andy", following which the bountiful dinner was served. The task of serving was handled efficiently by members of the Women's Missionary society, section 8.

John W. Owens, chorister of the church, was in charge of the singing during the evening, with his daughter, Miss Elizabeth, as accompanist. A song period featured both the opening and closing parts of the program.

W. Stanley Treser officiated as master of ceremonies during the evening, and it was an enjoyable program that he with his committee on arrangements had prepared.

W. C. H. Matthews, who plays a saw just as easily as a violinist plays a violin, was first. Mr. Matthews' numbers were so enjoyed that the class demanded another exhibition of the saw playing later in the evening. Mont Skidmore, accomplished pianist despite his handicap of blindness was next. He played several encore numbers.

A mouth organ trio, composed of Charles Fombelle, Harry Caven and Howard Zeigler entertained next with Mrs. Harry Zeigler at the piano. Like the first performers they too responded to the hearty applause with encore numbers.

The principal speaker of the evening was the Rev. Rees T. Williams, pastor of the First Congregational church who brought a most stirring and inspiring address on the subject "The Fight I'm In".

Following the stimulating message on Christianity that Rev. Williams gave, the committee continued with its musical entertainment. Dave Williams was introduced and he responded with an impromptu musical hit.

Songs led by Mr. Owens interspersed the program and then a double quartet sang the closing number. Those who composed it were W. C. Williams, C. M. Fombelle, Dave Williams, George Jones, Charles Brown, Will Harris, Ralph Pattison and Ellis Reno.

Before the meeting was adjourned Chairman Treser called on George C. Fox, the president of the class. W. C. Fox took the floor and summed up the entire dinner by extending the men's thanks to the ladies of the church and others who united to make the dinner a success. Rev. G. M. Landis, pastor of the church, also spoke just before the program was closed.

Two Slightly Hurt When Auto Upsets

(International News Service)
ALTOONA, Pa., March 12.—Simon H. Sell, 44, Bedford attorney, and his daughter, Mrs. Leone Sponsler, narrowly escaped death today when their car swerved from the highway near Cessna, overturned and was destroyed by fire.

Sell and Mrs. Sponsler suffered only minor injuries. The attorney was enroute to Hollidaysburg to appear in an action in Blair county court.

Autoists Who Violate Parking
Rule To Have Cars
Towed Away

Autoists who persist in violating the ordinance which prohibits parking of automobiles in paved thoroughfares between midnight and six a. m. when spring weather arrives will have their cars towed away.

This was intimated today by Councilman Stanley Treser, department of streets, who announced that all paved streets in the downtown section will be swept and flushed between those hours this spring and summer.

The ordinance has not been enforced for some time but as soon as the city "white wings" flap their brushes and point their hose the ordinance will be enforced, Treser stated.

Superior Court Rules Against Divorce Action

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, March 12.—In an opinion handed down today by the Superior Court it was held that establishing a residence in Pennsylvania for the purpose of filing divorce proceedings does not entitle an applicant to favorable action.

The appellate court's decision set aside the opinion of a Philadelphia court which granted a separation decree to Bertha W. Auerbach and Henry G. Auerbach, of New York. In her action for divorce Mrs. Auerbach charged cruelty and indignities to the person. The charges were denied by the husband who filed an appeal.

In reversing the lower court the Superior Court cited the fact that Mrs. Auerbach moved from New York to Philadelphia in October, 1926. The divorce was granted in December 1927.

Action was brought on grounds upon which a divorce may be granted in Pennsylvania, while in New York only adultery is recognized as a legitimate ground.

Drainage

City council is preparing to purchase a street sweeper and road machine, it was announced today by Councilman Stanley Treser, superintendent of streets.

The sweeper which will be bought will have a vertical brush so that the thoroughfare close to the curb can be thoroughly swept.

And the road machine will be one that can cut ditches, round streets and the type Treser desires, he said today will make it possible to give proper drainage, as generally water allowed to "pool" causes most trouble.

Tuberculosis Society Investigates Cases

Executive Secretary Of Lawrence County Tuberculosis Society Gives Report Of Month

In the report of the Lawrence County Tuberculosis Society for February it is stated that 33 investigations were made and cases visited by Miss Sara Burkhart, executive secretary of that organization.

Twelve half days were spent at the well baby clinics, which are held every Thursday. Thursday morning a clinic for well babies is held in the New Castle Dry Goods building between the hours of 10 and 12 o'clock, in charge of Dr. William Wallace, with state and county nurses assisting. On Thursday afternoon the weekly clinic for colored babies is held in the Elm street Y. W. C. A.

One patient was taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital during the month, according to the report. Twenty-six babies were visited by a representative of the Lawrence County Tuberculosis Society at their homes.

Accuse Huston Of Trying To Evade Senate Questions

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, March 12.—Claude H. Huston, chairman of the Republican national committee, was accused of trying to conceal information from the Senate lobby committee today when he appeared before the committee to explain his connection with the Muscle Shoals lobby which sought to turn the plant over to private interests.

The accusation was made by Senator Caraway (D) of Arkansas, the committee chairman, after Huston asserted he did not know where the records of contributions to the Tennessee River Improvements Association could now be found.

Huston was first treasurer and later president of the association, which led the fight against government operation of Muscle Shoals. Testimony before the committee has been that the American Cyanamid Co. and the Union Carbide Co., which have been trying to get control of the billion dollar power investment in Alabama, furnished the Tennessee River Improvement Association with funds.

Game Commission Gives More Facts On Birds Of State

RAVEN. The Raven is so rare that it is hardly worthy of consideration from the economic standpoint. From the historical and literary standpoint the species is exceedingly interesting and important. It is known that the chief food of the Raven is dead fish, Crayfish, snakes, and refuse. Hundreds of pellets examined would incriminate the species.

CROW. The Crow has been so widely discussed that everyone is probably pretty well aware of the status of the bird in Pennsylvania. There is no doubt that in the nesting season the Crow destroys a great many eggs and young birds, as well as the young of certain game mammals. The point is that if other food is easily available Crows do not as a rule destroy valuable bird and animal life. They prefer smaller rodents, frogs and snakes, snails, various insects, and a good deal of vegetable matter. During the winter when Crows gather in great numbers and then food may be scarce they doubtless do a great deal of damage.

BLUE JAY. This species is not protected in Pennsylvania chiefly because of its habits of destroying the eggs and young of smaller birds. The Blue Jay is fairly common and adaptive and probably does not need protection. Some of its food habits are decidedly beneficial.

STARLING. Examinations of the stomachs of many Starlings have thus far shown that they are not particularly destructive to economically valuable vegetation. The species is known to prey upon Japanese beetles and other noxious insects so that may be said in its favor. Its habit of nesting in great numbers in sections of the State the Starling is becoming so terribly abundant we will probably have a considerable problem in controlling the species.

ENGLISH SPARROW. The English Sparrow is unquestionably becoming rarer as a result of the disappearance of the horse, or because of the presence of the European Starling. It may be said with some certainty that the English Sparrow now is not a very great enemy of our native birds except in occasional instances. Some of the food habits of the English Sparrows are decidedly praiseworthy. During the nesting period these birds destroyed many insects which our native sparrows and warblers pass by-foul-smelling, hard winged species which are not usually considered palatable.

GREAT BLUE HERON, BLACK-CROWNED HERON, and GREEN HERON. The herons of the State do some damage locally in capturing valuable fish. They are especially destructive in the vicinity of hatcheries and when they become numerous in these localities, must be controlled.

LOON. While the Loon occasionally captures valuable fish, it is usually so rare that it is not of economic importance.

Son Of Attorney Struck By Auto

Driver Of Car Failed To Stop, Neighbors Give Chase

GREENVILLE, Pa., March 12.—Running in the path of an automobile near his home in Columbia avenue, Billie, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Gilkey, was struck and seriously injured.

The child had seen his father, prominent attorney, drive up to the home, and was hurrying to greet him from across the street. He suffered several bruises and possible broken bones. X-ray pictures are to be made to determine the extent of the injuries.

The driver of the car did not stop, and two neighbors chased a car they believed to be the one which had struck the child. They overtook a car driven by Roy Mitchell of Greenville, but he said he had no knowledge of striking a child. He was released by police, pending a more thorough investigation.

Assembles Data On County Schools

HARRISBURG, Mar. 12.—The Department of Public Instruction has placed in the State Library and Museum what is believed to be the most complete collection of data ever assembled on "The County as a Unit of Supervision." This has been done in answer to numerous requests for information on this subject. The Pennsylvania Forensic league has sponsored a state-wide debate on this subject and the material has been gathered as a help to the high schools of the state which are participating in this debate.

Students and others interested may secure this material upon application either to the Department of Public Instruction, or the State Library and Museum.

Death Of Dentist Sudden At Butler

BUTLER, Pa., March 12.—Dr. William P. McIlroy, 70, dentist in Butler for 34 years, died yesterday at his home. He was in his usual health Monday night. Dr. McIlroy was a native of Cochran, Crawford county. He was a graduate of Edinboro Normal School and the Hahnemann Medical College of Philadelphia. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Jessie M. McIlroy; a daughter, Miss Florence, at home; a brother, H. Seymour McIlroy of Rochester, N. Y., and two sisters, Mrs. Frank Billig of Sandy Lake and Mrs. Harper Smith of Erie.

Game Feeding Of Scouts Is Cited

A letter conveying the appreciation of the Pennsylvania board of game commissioners for the assistance given locally by Boy Scouts who helped to feed wild game this past winter, was received by Boy Scout headquarters today.

The message bore the signature of Leo A. Luttringer, who is in charge of the board's division on education.

Whether those sore muscles have come from over-exertion or from a cold settling in the ligaments there is nothing that will ease the pain and quickly banish all that "achy" feeling like an Allcock Porous Plaster. Just cut the plaster to the shape and size required and apply wherever there is pain or soreness. You'll be amazed at the speedy relief it gives. Allcock's Porous Plasters are the original of all porous plasters and since 1847 they have been used by millions. They are fine, too, for lame backs, aching joints, umbago, chest colds—in fact any place where pain and soreness exists. At its regular meeting Tuesday in the Elm street Y. W. C. A. the Ministerial Alliance, ordered published the following appeal.

That whereas the pastor, officers and members of the Union Baptist church have suffered serious financial difficulties, in the past few months, and standing as they do for all that's best and capable of the highest development in our citizenship, and has been and now is an important factor in the religious, social and political life of this community.

And, whereas the Christian white people of this and other communities, are manifesting an unusual interest in this church at this particular time in raising funds to liquidate the outstanding debts so as to make it possible for both pastor and people to serve this community unhampered, and further the benefit given last week at the high school, under leadership of Mrs. Calahan and others, shall forever challenge our lasting gratitude.

And, whereas we believe that any race of people who hope to take their place in the affairs of life, must ever be mindful of self-help.

We therefore as Ministers of the Gospel and the religious representatives of our people in New Castle, do hereby make the following request, viz:

That Sunday afternoon, 3:00 p. m., March 16th, at which time a religious mass meeting is being held for the benefit of the Union Baptist church, that every citizen of color, wend his way to said church, with a special offering for the same. We are especially appealing to the Christian forces of our group, let us not forget that the high school auditorium was packed to its uttermost capacity last Friday night, with white people, and a few colored, notwithstanding the fact of the inclement weather, and remember that our good white friends are watching to see just what we are willing to do for ourselves.

A special message will be delivered by Rev. Huntley, pastor of the Second Baptist church of Farrell, Pa., and we are calling upon the community chorus to be present to serve in song it needed, trusting that we have made our position clear in regards to the entire matter, we shall expect you to cheerfully respond.

Reduce the Acid

In sick stomachs—instantly

Sick stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually means excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour.

Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless, tasteless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Since its invention, 50 years ago, it has remained the standard.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end with physicians everywhere.

In five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—every drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

Government Wants Names Of Airport Managers In State

Directory Of Aviation Is Being Compiled By Department Of Commerce

WASHINGTON, D. C. March 12.—The aeronautics branch of the department of commerce is anxious to compile a complete list of all airport managers and is appealing to aviation officials in Pennsylvania to cooperate by forwarding the desired information to Washington.

The aeronautics branch wishes the names of airport managers in full, along with the correct mailing addresses including the names of the nearest towns.

In addition to inaugurating this campaign to procure the correct mailing addresses of all airport managers, the branch is desirous of listing all new ports or landing fields, and it is requested that the branch headquarters here be notified of new fields or ports constructed or put into operation in the State.

Rev. William Slaughter, Negro,
Chicago Pastor Killed In Registration Row

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, March 12.—Police today held John Panpinnalla, a precinct worker, in connection with the fatal shooting of the Rev. William Slaughter, negro, which climaxed yesterday's election registration here.

Slaughter, said to be a precinct worker for the Mayor Thompson organization, was shot down and killed as he left a registration place last night.

Government Scores In Doheny Trial

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, March 12.—The government drew first blood today in the trial of Edward L. Doheny, the aged oil magnate, on an indictment charging him with bribing ex-Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall with $100,000 in connection with the Elk Hills, Calif., oil leases.

Justice William Hitz denied Doheny's plea in abatement, which was offered on Monday by the oil man's attorneys. Counsel for Doheny contended that Doheny, once acquitted of conspiracy in the same case, was being put in double jeopardy now by being tried for bribery.

Woman's Bravery Prevents Holdup

Woman Refuses To Be Heldup
By Thugs In Drug Store
Screams For Help

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, March 12.—It might have been bravery or it might have been that Mrs. Anna Baird, 25, soda fountain clerk, has a strong antipathy to being "ordered around."

But, aside from the psychology, Mrs. Baird was receiving congratulations today for foiling an attempted hold-up at the West Homestead Pharmacy here last night.

"Come on now, move to the back of the store—and move fast," one of two armed bandits commanded, covering Mrs. Baird with a gun.

"I will not," was the clerk's spirited retort. When the bandit attempted to reinforce his command by striking her with the butt of the pistol, Mrs. Baird ducked, ran from the store and screamed for help.

The frightened bandits fled, empty handed.

Says Naval Parley Is Due To Pirates

(International News Service)
ST. LOUIS, March 12.—The bold, bad pirates who sailed the bounding main in the seventeenth century are remotely responsible for the Naval Parity conference in progress in London in the opinion of Roland Green Usher, Ph. D., professor of history at Washington University here.

Mr. Usher in a recent address declared, "The history of piracy is the key to the origin of defensive and offensive navies. Pirates are responsible for the origin of the British fleet and its dominance, and they are responsible for the origin of the freedom of the seas as a practical proposition."

Would Bar Dogs From Atlanta Parks

(International News Service)
ATLANTA, March 12.—Councilman John A. White has asked the City Council to enact legislation barring all dogs from public parks. When informed of the request, Alderman Richards declared that all dogs "must be properly notified" before the legislation could be enacted.

Prize Winner

"Hazel May suffered from constipation," says Mrs. M. Hopkins, 7050 Ruskin Lane, Philadelphia. "She was sallow and bilious; didn't have any appetite; couldn't digest her food."

"California Fig Syrup has changed all that. It regulated her bowels quickly; improved her appetite and digestion. She has improved right along until friends say she's a regular prize-winner for health."

Mothers by thousands praise California Fig Syrup. Physicians endorse it. Its rich, fruity flavor appeals to children; its pure vegetable goodness is safe for any child. The prompt relief it brings bilious, head-achy, constipated children lasts; because it helps tone and strengthen bowels and stomach. Next time bad breath, coated tongue or feverishness warn of constipation, try it with your child and see how it helps!

When buying, look for the name California! That marks the genuine, famous for 50 years.

Accepts Call To Mercer Church

Rev. John Paul To Occupy U. P.
Pulpit After Graduation
From Seminary

Rev. John Paul, a student at the United Presbyterian Seminary at Pittsburgh, who was recently extended a call by the local U. P. church has announced that he will accept the call and enter upon his duties as soon as his work is completed at school, which will be in May.

RETURNS TO PEN

On Saturday Edward Frye was returned to the Western Penitentiary after serving 30 days sentence in the Mercer jail. On a charge of indecent exposure, and disorderly conduct. Frye at the time of his arrest was paroled from the penitentiary after being sentenced to 18 months for breaking and entering. Frye was returned by William Gaffney parole officer of the Western Penitentiary to serve the rest of his term.

HEALTH IS GOOD
While the health condition over the county seems to be worse with a decided increase of diseases reported for last week the report of Mercer shows a great improvement as the town is without a single case of any kind.

SEEK REVENGE
The State troopers are hard at work this week but not arresting people. They are spending every extra second at basket ball so they will be able to have their revenge on Saturday when the Lawyers come to Mercer to play. The defeat of last Saturday was crushing so Corporal White and his men are seeking revenge.

RETURN FROM SOUTH
With a few warm days and the days of March sweeping away many of the Mercer people now in the South are planning on returning home. Dr. Gaylord Buchanan and family are expected home the middle of the month. G. F. Reznor and family will no doubt return the first of April when the Reznor Manufacturing plant resumes work. Word has been received from Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ayer that they were enjoying themselves in the warm climes. Mrs. Stella Webster who is spending the winter in California rather than Florida reports a pleasant winter.

MASKREY NOT IMPROVING
Harry Maskrey who has been ill for the past two weeks shows little improvement. His many friends over the county will be sorry to learn of his prolonged illness.

Prosperous times are those in which people feel rich enough to take on more debt. —The Racine Journal News.

Police Magistrate Victim Of Suicide

Missing Police Magistrate Found
In Parked Automobile Shot
To Death By Own Hand

(International News Service)
CAMDEN, N. J., March 12.—The body of Robert L. Monroe, missing police magistrate of Paulsboro, N. J., apparently shot to death by his own hand, was found sitting upright in his automobile parked at the Pennsylvania railroad ferry station here early today.

Monroe had been shot through the heart. A .38 calibre revolver with one cartridge discharged lay on the seat beside the body.

Two policemen discovered the tragedy at 4 a. m. A search had been instituted for the magistrate yesterday when his wife reported he had left home on Friday.

The machine had been parked at the ferry terminal for two days and Cooper hospital attendants where the body was taken expressed the belief Monroe shot himself on Monday. A letter addressed to his wife, Mrs. Effie Monroe, expressing his intentions of committing suicide was found in his coat pocket.

He was 42 years of age, married and the father of three children, financial troubles are believed to have caused his act.

SEEK TO KEEP COSMETICS FREE OF IMPURITIES

(International News Service)
NORWALK, Conn., March 12.—A lady may use a compact and still be moral. Which fact is proved by the annual expenditure of over a half billion dollars by the respected womanhood of America for cosmetics and kindred beauty preparations. Which fact emphasizes the necessity for a law demanding the same purity for toiletries that is insured foods and drugs.

This was the consensus of opinion of a meeting of dermatologists, chemists and physicians, who gathered here recently.

"The frank use of cosmetics more than anything else marks the amazing advance women have made in the past generation," John J. Quinn, vice-president of Pinaud, Inc., cosmetic manufacturers, told the gathering. "Cosmetics were not included in the Pure Food and Drug Act of 1906 because they were not at that time in general use. The legislator who then sanctioned the inclusion of a ban on harmful creams and rouges was denounced as a degrader of the nation's womanhood."

Dr. Maurice Aisen, who supervises the research at the Pinaud Laboratory at Westport, told his fellow scientists that because there is no law governing the manufacture of beauty articles, many now on the market are either injurious or useless.

"A recent analysis showed that many toiletries include as ingredients excessive quantities of the highly dangerous lead salts, paraphenylenediamine, mercury compounds and phenol. Others not actually harmful, fall short of the scientific ideal in that they cannot fulfill their promises."

The meeting voted in favor of a beauty preparations to state the nature of the ingredients on all packages. Not until such a law is passed, the scientists said, will women be protected from both injurious and useless beauty products.

Search For Burke Resumed Today At Maywood, Illinois

(International News Service)
MAYWOOD, Ill., March 12.—Search for Fred Burke, gunman sought for the St. Valentine's day massacre and the slaying of Frankie Uale, Brooklyn gangster, centered here today.

Authorities at Freeport, Ill., have in custody Frank Thompson, reputed seller of machine guns to the massacre squad gangsters, who is believed to know Burke's whereabouts.

Two Brothers Are Fined For Fighting

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, March 12.—A family quarrel concerning the merits of a family quarrel broke out in North Side police court today.

Frank Martin, 32, told the court that his two brothers, Albert and Anthony, quarreled incessantly, to the annoyance of both his mother and himself.

"No, we don't," chorused Albert and Anthony indignantly. "Why, judge, we're the best of friends," they gazed affectionately at each other.

Turnkey Andrew Carter broke the spell of amity.

"Your Honor," interrupted Carter hurriedly. "I had to separate 'em from a fist fight in their cell this morning."

Albert and Anthony were fined $10 each.

Legion Meeting Tuesday Night Well Attended

Banquet Report Shows That It Was A Complete Suc- cess In Every Way

Meeting of Perry S. Gaston post No. 343, American Legion, held Tuesday night at the Legion home on North Jefferson street, was very well attended and much business was transacted with marked enthusiasm.

Partial reports were received from the recent national commander's banquet, showed that it had been a success in every way and that although the object of the affair had been to break even, that there would be a small surplus left after all expenses of the affair had been paid.

General Chairman Harry M. Long expressed his appreciation of the work of the various committees and the way they had functioned in making the affair a success.

Letters of commendation from the various posts that had been in attendance were read in which the local post was accorded high praise for the manner in which the affair was conducted and all spoke of the wonderful place in which the affair was held and urged that the local post hold the event again next year.

Reports of the welfare committee were received and approved, showing that work is being done along those lines. A complete report of the American Legion employment bureau was made and was found satisfactory to the entire membership.

Reports made showed that the present membership is now well over 400. The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served. As the members were leaving, in walked Sheriff Frank N. Johnston and Deputy Sheriff William Reynolds and subpoenaed a considerable group as special witnesses in the effort to select a jury to try Irene Schroeder.

Clark Rea, dying on the floor. They got about $50. While they were searching the room some one outside, called, "Make it Snappy."

The three left through the west window, which had also been broken. Soon after Rea ran outside, shouted "murder, murder." He went back inside, placed his dying brother on a bed, and then summoned help.

Window Heel Mark
Among the exhibits which were produced at court this morning was a piece of the window sill from the west window of the Rea home. It bore the imprint of a rubber heel. The heel mark had been made by some one going out of the room.

The bullet, which was taken from the brain of Clark Rea, was exhibited by Coroner Caldwell. It was a 22 calibre, lead bullet. It entered on the right side of the head above the ear.

Most of the testimony at this morning session was given by officials who had made investigations.

Wednesday Morning
Earl Clayton was the first witness called Wednesday morning. He lives with Bert Easton. On the night of January 15th he saw Elias Rea at Easton's. Telephone was used in calling Bert and Will Cunningham. When they arrived at Eastons all went to the Rea home.

"We entered the back door," said witness going into the first room. Clark Rea was lying on a bed. He was breathing and there was a gurgling sound in his throat.

"Elias Rea, the Cunninghams and Easton were all in the room at the time. Will Cunningham and I went to Mrs. Stewart to call the police. Sheriff Johnston came in about 25 minutes with state police. I met them on the road and we went to the Rea place. Andy Vendetti, deputy sheriff went to call an undertaker. Mr. Rea was dead the second time I saw him.

Cross examined What time did Rea come to the Easton house?
About 8 o'clock.
And you called Cunningham?
Yes, sir.
Then you went to Rea's and later called the police?
Yes sir.

Why was an undertaker called before Rea was dead?

Mr. Cunningham told Vendetti of Mr. Rea's condition.

Undertaker Testifies
Charles Kelly undertaker called. I went to Rea's on the night of Jan. 15. My brother went with me. I arrived there about 8:30. I found Clark Rea lying on a bed. He was dead at that time. I did not touch the body until the coroner came. The body was then taken to my room. Mrs. Zerner and Stutz and the coroner held a post mortem on Jan. 16th between 9 and 10 o'clock. I was called by the city police department.

Coroner J. P. Caldwell testified he had gone to the Rea home on the night of Jan. 15th and found Rea dead. On Jan. 16th he had been present at a post mortem held by Drs. Zerner and Stutz. A bullet was found in Rea's brain. The bullet was exhibited. It was a 22 calibre lead bullet.

Sheriff Called.
Sheriff Frank Johnston told about being called to the Rea home on the night of January 15 about 8 o'clock. Deputy Sheriff Vendetti and several state police went with him.

Meeting someone near the house Johnston asked if Rea was dead. He was told that he was not. He directed that an ambulance be called and the man taken to the hospital.

On going into the Rea home Sheriff Johnston found Rea dead.

He left the house in about ten minutes to notify other officials and hunt the perpetrators of the crime.

John Gondell, state police officer, told about going to the Rea home with the sheriff and deputy. "We arrived there about 8:25. We were met by Will Cunningham and Earl Clayton on the road. They conducted us to the house.

"Elias Rea was waiting for us outside the house. Bert Easton and Bert Cunningham were there. Clark Rea was lying on the bed. I saw a bullet hole in his right temple.

Windows Smashed.
"I saw a pool of blood on the floor, also that two windows had been broken out of the house and the openings covered with horse blankets. Also noticed a davenport with the back broken.

"While I was looking about Private Shuler called my attention to a heel mark on the west window sill. It was the imprint of a rubber heel. The front of the heel was pointing out. I examined all the shoes in the house, the shoes of the men on the premises at the time, but found it would have been impossible for any of them to have made the mark.

"The next morning with County Detective H. M. Lee I went back to the Rea home and cut out the window sill containing the heel print." Piece of wood was exhibited to witness who identified it as the one cut from the Rea window. It had been left with the county detective.

Calibre of Bullet.
Asked if he was familiar with firearms, witness said he was. Shown bullet taken from head of Clark Rea, he said it was a 22 calibre.

Cross examined: "This heel mark was called to your attention by your assistant."

"It was."

"You had not seen it since you took it from the window until this morning?"

"I had not."

"Should not the letter on the imprint be as clear now as when it was cut out?"

"No, there may have been some dust got on it."

"Did you make a record of the lettering on the heel print?"

"I did. The first letter looked like an L or a D. The others were I, G, H, I, S."

Found Old Rifle.
County Detective H. M. Lee told about going to the Rea home on the night of Jan. 15th. He examined the premises with other officers. My attention was called to the heel print on the window sill. Next morning I went with Gondell to the house and cut out a part of the window sill.

Witness shown piece of wood. Pointed out heel print. It was a trifle plainer when we cut it out, he said.

Witness said a piece of wood found outside the house was brought in and fitted the back of the broken davenport. Walls were searched for bullet holes, but there were so many nail holes, it would have been necessary to wreck the plaster to determine accurately.

A shot gun, barrel of a gun and an old rifle were found in the house. The rifle was covered with cobwebs.

Window sill with heel marks was admitted as an exhibit. It was then passed around among the jurors.

Constable Sharp Leslie told about being at the Rea house with County Detective Lee.

Many Nail Holes
He examined walls for bullet holes, but there were many nail holes and he could not tell if any had been made by bullets.

He found an old fashioned muzzle loading rifle on the stairway. He saw a spot on the floor. Did not know what it was. Saw heel mark on window sill. Examined shoes found in house. None had heels that would fit mark on sill.

Windows on east and west side of house were broken out. Glass inside and outside.

Private Michael Shulak told about going to Rea house with Sheriff Johnston and others. He found windows broken and glass on floor. He discovered heel mark on west side window sill. He did not find anything with which the window had been broken.

Brother Testifies
Elias Rea, brother of Clark Rea, the murdered man, said that he is past 55 years of age. His brother was 61. Neither had ever been married. They kept house together. "On the night of January 15th," said he, my brother was shot. It was about 8 p. m.

My brother slept in a bed in the front room and I slept on a lounge. There were three windows in the room, one on south was boarded up, one window on west, one on east. Did not use front door. Used door from kitchen to get into front room.

On the night of the shooting there were 4 chairs in the room. Bed was in southwest corner, sofa on east. Bureau on south. Fireplace on north side.

About 8 o'clock my brother and I were both standing in front of the grate warming our backs. We usually went to bed at 9 o'clock.

As we stood there we were facing south, I was on east side. He was on west.

Someone came with a flashlight to the east window. My brother picked up a chair and hurled it through the window. Then there were shots on the east side. My brother fell to the floor about the center of the room.

Two men came in at the east window and one at the west. The west window had also been broken.

Each of the three had revolvers. I was down in a corner with my hands up begging for my life. One of the men had a revolver to my face. He said where is that money? Hand it over and be quick about it! I handed over 54 cents, all the money I had. The others went through my brother's pockets. They got about $50. They then searched the house.

A man outside cried "Hurry up boys and make it snappy."

"One of the men told me if I made a move for 10 minutes I would be a dead man. The three then went out the west window. I waited a little while and then went out.

"I called murder several times, but no one came. I then went to Bert Easton's. The men were gray coats. Before I went to Easton's I laid my brother on the bed. He was still alive."

Witness was asked if he could recognize any of the men. He said he could.

"What about the defendant, William Grimm; was he one of them?"

He was asked, replied Rea.

Questioned further, Rea said that several nights before men had come to the Rea home and asked for oil. They were told to go away as there was no oil except what was in the lamp. One of the visitors said his name was Black.

On another night men were there wanting to be pulled out of the mud. They were told no help could be given. Witness gave evidence regarding furniture and firearms.

Cross Examined.
Cross examined: "What was the first thing you saw on the night of January 15?"

"A flashlight at the east window."

"Yes."

"What did he do then?"

"He stepped forward to about the middle of the room."

"What happened then?"

"Shooting started and my brother fell to the floor."

"You say the boys came in at the east window. How were they dressed?"

"Had gray coats and handkerchiefs over their faces."

"You don't know who the boys were?"

"No, I was so badly scared."

Were there any shots from the west side of the house?

No.

When the men went out they went out the west window?

Yes, they stepped over the bed.

There wasn't any shooting done inside the house?

No sir.

Those people who were there several nights before, you don't know who they were, do you?

No sir.

Direct examination. Did you have an opportunity to see any of the men?

Yes, the handkerchief dropped off one.

How do you recognize the defendant?

By his hair and complexion.

Cross examined. You saw this defendant at the alderman's office?

Yes.

And you recognize him as the same man you saw there, and that's the way you identify him?

Yes.

Robert Cassidy testified that on the 15th of January he saw Grimm, Llewellyn, Martin and McDevitt, between 5 and 5:30 p. m.

Had you spoken with any of the boys before that time about going to the Rea farm?

Yes, with Jesse Martin.

Where was that?

On the night of January 14.

Martin was said.

Martin wanted me to take them to Coalstown in a taxi on the night of January 15. Grimm and Llewellyn were with him.

They said they knew where there was some money. This talk was in

RULES CHILD IS NOT CLINIC VICTIMS' SON

Top, Miss Lovella Rush and Baby Carl Long Jr., below Mr. and Mrs. Carl Long

AKRON, O., March 12—A smiling little boy who was supposed to have been born two years ago to Mrs. Carl H. Long of Barberton, O., was officially recognized in court here Tuesday as the son of Miss Lovella Rush, 20, also of Barberton, who said she "loaned" him at birth to the other woman.

If the recognition is made official, as attorneys expect it will be, the child will lose all claim to the $40,000 estate left by Mr. and Mrs. Long when they were killed in the Cleveland clinic disaster nearly a year ago.

front of the Leslie hotel. We went and sat down in a car.

"They wanted me to go with them to Coalstown. They said there was a couple of old fellows there who had some money. They said they would go about 7 o'clock."

They wanted me to meet them. McDevitt, Martin, Llewellyn and Grimm were all present.

They wanted to know if I had a gun. I told them I had a trip at 7 and could not meet them. I then left.

About 8:30 p. m. I saw Martin going across the East Washington street bridge. Later when I was at the P. and L. E. depot I heard of the murder.

During the talk near the hotel how much money did the boys say they could get?
Between $15,000 and $20,000.
Did they say from whom?
They did not.

Cross examination. How long have you been driving a taxi?

About 5 years.

How long have you known Llewellyn?

Not very long.

Had you much acquaintance with Grimm?

Not very much.

Direct. Did they come back after you at 7 o'clock?

I do not know.

Were you so informed by any one?

I was.

Charged With Murder
Asks Husband's Help

Lila Jimerson, said to be the "last of the Indian princesses," is being held, together with an aged Indian squaw, Nancy Bowen, in connection with the murder of Mrs. Henri Marchen, wife of a Buffalo, N. Y., artist. She has sent a letter to the bereaved man, asking him to help her in her hour of need.

'SKIPSTOP' PLAN MAY BE ADOPTED

Reeves Anxious To Have More
Rapid Movement Of East
Side Traffic

Councilman Clayton Reeves today requested C. C. Coulthard, Penn.-Ohio railway superintendent to try out the Skipstop system on the East Side route, between Croton and West avenue.

He has found that traffic behind cars is stalled on the hill sections and believes that a Skipstop system might help to solve the situation which will be aggravated by the spring travel.

According to the councilman he believes the best stops are at Croton avenue, railroad crossing, County Line street, Milton street and West avenue.

Superintendent Coulthard, it is reported, will try out the plan.

Chief Horner Seeks Counterfeit Bills

Chief of Police C. C. Horner today issued a request to persons of this city, who may have had counterfeit ten dollar bills passed on them in the past two weeks, there were at least two reported to the police, to bring them to him, as he believes that they may have some connection with those alleged to have been passed by three persons, James A. Vozzolo and M. A. Puselle of Ellwood City and Doris Kinskey of Pittsburgh, who were arrested at Greensburg, Monday, on a charge of passing bad bills in Vandergrift, Apollo and New Kensington recently. The persons under arrest are now in jail in Pittsburgh and local cases may provide additional testimony needed.

Witnesses Tell Of Scenes In Home Of Clark Rea On Night Of Shooting

Several Witnesses Are Heard In Case At Session Tuesday Afternoon

Testimony Centres Around Heel Print Seen In Window Sill Of Home

With the work of selecting a jury in the case of William Grimm, charged with the murder of Clark Rea, completed Tuesday afternoon, taking of testimony in the trial of the case was started. The case was opened by Special District Attorney George W. Muse reciting the facts which the commonwealth hoped to prove.

In this statement Attorney Muse outlined the case, stating that the commonwealth would show that Clark Rea was shot on the night of January 15. "It would be shown," said Attorney Muse, "that the robbery of the Rea home had been deliberately planned, and that Rea was shot after the windows in the Rea house had been smashed, and three men had entered the room. He said that it would be shown that William Grimm, the defendant, was one of the men, and that a verdict of first degree murder would be asked.

Plot of Surroundings. Albert Treser, civil engineer, first witness called, testified that he had gone to the Rea home with County Detective Peck Lee and Attorney George W. Muse on Feb. 28, 1930. The Rea house is near the lower Mercer road, sometimes called the valley road. The valley road comes out on the Coalton road near the Pleasant Valley school house. The Rea home is east of the Coalton road. Witnesses reached the house by a footpath from the Coalton road. Making a sketch of the interior of the house witness was assisted by Elias Rea, brother of deceased. Witness exhibited a sketch showing that the Rea home faces south. It is a two-story house with porch on southern end.

Blueprints were admitted as exhibits and shown to the jury while questions were asked by attorneys.

The Stewart house, southeast, is nearest the Rea house. It is 935 feet from the valley road to the Rea house. There is a window opening on the front porch, closed by shutters. In the front room the bed is against the west wall. It is a little below the window. A sofa sits on the east side of the room, below a window.

Photographer E. E. Seavy testified that he had made photographs of the Rea property on March 9. Photos were produced, admitted as exhibits, and shown to the jury. The photos embraced pictures taken east, west and south and also one taken from the East Brook road, 1,000 feet away.

Neighbor Testifies. Bert Easton, a neighbor of the Reas testified that he lives about one-eighth of a mile northeast of the Rea home. "I live about three or four hundred yards from Bert Cunningham's."

"On the night of January 15th I went to the Rea home about 8 o'clock. Elias Rea came to my home and said they had been held up. I got Cunningham's boys by telephone and called them. Earl Clayton was with me when Elias Rea came in."

"After I had telephoned to the Cunningham's, Bert and Will Cunningham came to my house. We all went down to the Rea house. We went in at the kitchen door. We all went into the house, going into the sitting room. There are only two rooms down stairs. We saw Clark Rea lying on the bed. He was making a gurgling sound. The east and west windows were broken. There was an oil lamp in the room. There was a little bit of fire.

I examined Clark Rea, there was a wound in his right temple. His head was toward the south. We did not do anything with him."

Saw Blood On Floor. "There was a sofa under the east window. The top of the back was broken off. "We saw blood on the floor. It was about half way between the bed and the fire place. I saw a chair near the east window. It was right side up.

"Mr. Cunningham left the house. I stayed there until about 2 o'clock. When we went into the room, Will Cunningham went first. I was last to go in.

"The Reas used the back door to enter their house. Cunningham was the first one to leave. It was not more than 2 minutes after we entered. Earl Clayton went with him. Remaining in the room were Bert Cunningham, Elias Rea and myself.

"As the windows were broken out we pulled up horse blankets to keep out the cold. We then put coal on the fire. It was about 10 minutes after we entered until we tacked up the horse-blanket.

"In about 25 minutes Sheriff Johnston and two state police came."

"Rea died about five minutes after we entered the house. He was dead when Sheriff Johnston came. Rea was unconscious all the time I was there.

"The gurgling sound appeared to come from Rea's throat. It kept up about 5 minutes. It was the absence of the gurgling sound that led me to believe Rea was dead."

"Will Cunningham and Earl Clayton did not come back before the sheriff.

"The sheriff and state police were there only about five minutes when they left."

"Several other officers then came. I think Mr. Leslie was one and the county detective, Coroner J. P. Caldwell also came, around 10 o'clock. No one had touched the body on the bed until the coroner came. Undertaker Kelley took the body out of the room. I do not know who carried the body up to the road."

"I stayed in the house until 2 o'clock. Elias Rea was taken away by the officers."

Heel Mark On Window

"I next saw Clark Rea three or four days afterward."

"There were a number of other persons there that night, among them Joe Brooks, Will Fisher, Herman Lentz, and Ed Lentz."

"District Attorney, John Powers, John Barrett and Louis McAnaney also came."

"My attention was called to the outside sill of the west window. Officers were looking at it with a light. There was a heel mark on the window. I could not tell what it showed."

"The Rea house is in Lawrence county, Pa."

Cross examined: "You say that when you went to the Rea home that night the top of the back of the sofa was broken, do you know if it had been broken that night?"

"No, I do not."

"When had you been there before?"

"Two or three weeks previous."

"Have you told us all that you observed?"

"As near as I can tell."

"Where was the bed located?"

"On the southwest corner."

"Where was the sofa?"

"Under the east window."

"Where was the bureau located?"

"On the south end."

"Where was the fireplace?"

"Between the kitchen and sitting room."

"When you saw the officers looking at the window, you looked also?"

"Yes, sir."

"Could you tell if it was a heel mark?"

"No, but the officers said it was."

"Who was looking at it?"

"Mr. Leslie, I think, and the state police. I did not know them."

"When did you leave?"

"About 2 o'clock."

Bert Cunningham

Bert Cunningham testified that he lives about 800 yards from the Rea home.

He went to the Rea home that night in response to a telephone call.

He found Clark Rea lying on a bed. There was a bullet wound in his right temple. He died in about 10 minutes after witness arrived.

Blood Spot Described

Witness saw a blood spot about as large as a tin cup near the center of the room. He described the furniture and its location. The bed ran past the window on the west side.

Cunningham told about the arrival of Sheriff Johnston and two state officers. Later the coroner, undertaker, county detective, district attorney and others came.

"The body was not disturbed before the officers came," said witness.

"After the body had been taken away, Mr. Leslie and the county detective remained."

"I saw a rubber heel print on the window sill. I could see some letters on it. From the time I arrived no one had gone out of the window."

Cross examined: "Was there carpet in the sitting room?"

"Yes, but not on the kitchen. It was reddish."

"There was a good deal of rubbish in the room, was there not?"

"Yes, considerable."

Did Not Touch Spot

"Did you touch the blood?"

"No, I did not. It was a dark stain."

"You do not know now what made that spot except that it was a reddish spot on a reddish carpet?"

"Not positively, but I feel that it was a blood stain. It was fresh."

"What attracted your attention to the mark on the window sill?"

"I saw the state police examining it."

"Did you look at it with your naked eye or through a glass?"

"With my naked eye."

"Did the heel mark indicate the man had been going in or out of the room?"

"Going out, I think."

William Cunningham told about going to the house with his brother, Bert, and the others. He saw Clark Rea lying on the bed. He was making a gurgling sound.

"I spoke to him but he made no

Called Sheriff

"At Stewart's I called the police station. I could not hear very well and asked for the sheriff's number. I called the sheriff and waited until he came to flag him. When the sheriff came a deputy, and two state police were with him."

"Sheriff Johnston asked me what was the matter and I told him. I went with him down to the Rea house. They looked around the room, stayed a few minutes and then went out. Alex Clayton and I went with the sheriff and others up to the road."

"I went back to the house. Mr. Kelley, undertaker, had come and went with me. I was there when the coroner came. Mr. Kelley was there before the coroner."

"When I went back to the house I found Rea dead. I saw Francis Barrett and Louis McAnaney there. My attention was called to a mark on the window sill. One of the men asked me if I knew where there was a looking glass. I got one in the kitchen. They used it in looking at the mark on the window sill. I saw a heel mark on the sill."

Trade Mark On Heel

Cross examined: "Are you sure it was a heel mark?"

"Absolutely."

"What did you see on it?"

"There was a trade mark and some letters."

"What were the letters?"

"I could not tell you that."

THINK OF YOUR AUTOMOBILE IN TERMS OF TOMORROW

Ultimate cost is as important as first cost in the purchase of an automobile

WHEN you purchase an automobile you are making an investment of a considerable amount of money. It is essential, therefore, that you give careful thought to the best selection and know what you are getting for your automobile dollars.

The first cost is important because it may mean an immediate, satisfactory saving. Of equal importance is the ultimate cost after thousands of miles of service. This ultimate cost is the true measure of automobile value.

THE first cost of the new Ford is unusually low not only because of economies in manufacturing, but because the same principles that inspire these savings are extended to every other step that means greater service to the public. It is easy to see that economies in production would be of little value if they were sacrificed later through high charges for distribution, selling, financing and accessories.

The Ford dealer, therefore, does business on the same low-profit margin as the Ford Motor Company. His discount or commission is twenty-five to fifty per cent lower than that of any other automobile dealer. You gain because he makes a small profit on many sales instead of a large profit on fewer sales.

Court adjourned until Wednesday morning.

Jury Completed

When court convened Tuesday afternoon work of selecting a jury was resumed.

Perry Book, farmer, Washington township, examined by prosecution. Married. One child. Had read of case and formed opinion. Could not change opinion. Challenged for cause.

Alice Adams, Taylor township. Married. Wife of Richard Adams. Five children. Four at home. Had read of case and formed an opinion. Could not change it; challenged for cause by defense.

F. B. Chapin, farmer, Neshannock township. Married. Four children. Did not know any of boys concerned in murder. Had formed an opinion. Believed he could lay it aside. Not opposed to capital punishment. Passed by prosecution challenged peremptorily by defense.

Mrs. Mary Bentrim, Ellwood City. Husband's name John Bentrim, deceased. Came to Ellwood from Butler county. Four children, two married, two at home.

Had not formed an opinion as was not much interested in case. Passed by defense.

Had no scruples against capital punishment. Could find verdict of guilty against any one concerned in a robbery, resulting in murder.

Did not know any of persons concerned in crime. Did not know any of attorneys. Sons are 13 and 16. Girls, 23 and 27. Accepted as twelfth juror.

The jury was then directed to stand up and the arraignment was read by Deputy Prothonotary John Edgar.

Will Prepare Book On Health History

HARRISBURG, March 12.—Secretary of Health Dr. Theodore Appel today announced that he has authorized Dr. W. C. Miller, chief of the bureau of state clinics, to prepare a history of public health in Pennsylvania.

"This material," said Doctor Appel, "will be in narrative form and in popular style. Among the outstanding features will be a chapter on the present activities of the department of health; an account of the Colonial health work; the story of the old board of health and the historical record of the activities of the present state health department."

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Gymnasts To Perform.

Plans are going forward for the annual exhibition of the local association, for which March 28 has been selected as the date. Both men and boys will share the program. Featuring the performance will be fancy apparatus work by special performers and different drills by the boys classes and junior and senior leaders.

Climaxing the program will be a basketball game in which the Central Christians will play the Temple Israel basketballers.

Choose Banquet Date.

Friday, April 4, has been chosen as the date for the annual physical department and basketball banquet.

Henry T. MacNicholas, physical director, announced today. Tentative plans are to have J. Truett Maxwell, state Y physical director, as the principal speaker on that occasion.

Workout for Wrestlers.

Wrestlers of the Y are asked to meet tonight at 7 o'clock for their regular weekly workout. Apparatus men who expect to perform in the annual exhibition on March 28 are also urged to attend.

Handball Standing.

The up-to-date standing of the handball tourney now in play follows:

Miz Dart, won 38 and lost 9.

J. Markley, won 31 and lost 20.

Sam Maxwell, won 23 and lost 22.

Oscar Levine, won 20 and lost 32.

Carl Paisley, won 40 and lost 37.

R. E. Meermans, won 30 and lost 35.

A. Venditto, won 10 and lost 14.

Clark, won 2 and lost 9.

TOO MUCH ACID?

"Not now," writes Mrs. Mary Evans, 2344 N. 4th St., Philadelphia, Pa. Her letter to us says: "Last winter I was almost a cripple. My knees cracked as I walked and the doctor said it was acid. I purchased a package of ACIDINE and after using the second package I felt like a new woman. I no longer have any aches or pains. Acid was good to me when I had this wonderful medicine ACIDINE."

If you, too, suffer from gas, sour stomach, indigestion, too much acid and the resulting troubles, go to your druggist and get marvelous ACIDINE. ACIDINE combats stomach trouble, surely, safely, swiftly, successfully. ACIDINE is guaranteed to help in your case or money back.

Trial Of Gun Woman And Dague Resulting In Enormous Expense

If the total money spent on the trials of Irene Schroeder and W. Glenn Dague could be totaled at the end of the trials, the amount would represent a comfortable fortune, it is estimated. Various amounts have been suggested, but it is probable that it may be from $50,000 to $75,000, a great share of which will be paid by Lawrence county.

The expense of sending officers to Phoenix, the reward, the expense for witnesses and jurors, court costs and the like represent the county's expense. In addition the state of Pennsylvania has special counsel here and the expense attendant to this will be borne by the state.

Good Hotel Business.

The hotels are faring well in the trial. The Castleton has about 45 men and women quartered there who are here because of the trial. This includes the party brought to New Castle by Attorney Charles J. Margiotti, rooms used by the district attorney, county detective, special investigators and witnesses, newspaper men, news photographers, telegraph operators and others.

The Leslie hotel is housing the jury in the case against Irene Schroeder, and tipstaves attending them, while the Colonial hotel is housing the jury trying William Grimm.

Toll costs to the newspapers represented here are mounting into important money. Special representatives are here from International News Service, Associated Press, Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh Press, Ellwood Ledger, New York Daily News, Cleveland Plain Dealer, Youngstown Telegram and Vindicator and others and the number of words sent out daily is stupendous.

To handle the load of copy the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies have special corps of operators on duty with special wires installed in houses along Court street. On Monday there was a total of approximately 15,000 words filed in the telegraph offices while on Tuesday the total ran near 20,000. This is expected to increase once the taking of testimony starts and when Irene Schroeder takes the stand in her own behalf, there will be a veritable sea of words clicking out on the telegraph keys.

Most Expensive Yet.

The trial is one that will go down in the history of this county as the most expensive yet. And while it is all very interesting to the world at large to know that the Trigger Woman and her paramour are being brought to trial here, the taxpayers of Lawrence county cannot help but remember that all this expense is being engendered to try two people who did not live here, had no business here and only the accident of geographic lines forced the expense upon this county.

To Irene Schroeder, who sought the thrill of banditry, the publicity attending the whole thing must satisfy even her, whose desire for thrills left a courageous state highway patrolman on a concrete road, his life snuffed out in the prime of his youth.

There is some phase of the affair between Irene and Dague which has not yet been brought out. Tuesday Dague sent word to Irene that he "would never tell that it would be disloyal to her and unmanly to himself to tell what really happened."

Irene answered his message by urging him to "tell the truth, regardless of what it meant to her." What the "truth" is may never be known, what the secret is may never be divulged, but from the tone of the messages sent it seems that there is something bothering them and which may come out later.

Island Craft Is Jammed In Ice

SANDUSKY, O., March 12.—The Messenger, 60-foot oil burner from Sandusky, is fast in the ice in Lake Erie, about 1,000 feet off the Kelleys Island south shore dock.

A tug has been dispatched to her aid by Captain A. G. Morton, commander of the U. S. Coast Guard Station at Marblehead.

At about the time the tug left Marblehead, another tug was sent out from Sandusky; it was reported.

As the lake is open except off the shore of Kelleys Island in the direction of Put-In-Bay, the tug will not have much trouble getting near the Messenger.

The Messenger left here this afternoon for Kelleys Island in charge of Capt. John Neuman, Ray Smith and Art Webster, with several male passengers and a small amount of freight for Kelleys Island. The boat has been making daily round trips between Sandusky and Kelleys Island since the ice went out a week ago.

The Messenger is a sister ship of the Mascot which, with Neuman and several others aboard, went down in Lake Erie between Marblehead and Kelleys Island early last December while trying to deliver an emergency cargo of winter supplies to Pelee Island, in Canadian Lake Erie.

War Veteran Wins Disputed Award

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, March 12.—A jury in District Supreme Court has ruled

a World War veteran, disabled in action, should not be deprived of his compensation if he works occasionally. The U. S. Veterans' Bureau intends to take the case to the District Court of Appeals.

The decision was given in the case of Arthur Marvin, Minneapolis, Minn., who was granted $7,450 in back compensation the bureau refused him because he worked at times. He claimed total disability as the result of blindness in one eye and impaired vision in the other. He is also suffering from tuberculosis.

State Expects To Build 1400 Miles Of Road During Coming Summer

From News Bureau
State Capital
HARRISBURG, Mar. 12.—Approach of favorable weather is eagerly watched by officials of the Highway Department who are anxious to swing into action of the State's largest road building program. With a schedule of approximately 1400 miles to be completed this year they desire to get started so that the mileage can be completed before the close of the fishing administration.

By the time the touring season started after the close of school hardily a section of Pennsylvania will be without its road improvement project. When the first detour bulletin is issued in a few weeks it will resemble a child's face in the early stages of the measles.

Hundreds of miles of incomplete road projects have been held over from last season. During the winter months the department has awarded contracts for the grading or paving of many additional miles. By May it is the aim of the department to have all its road improvement projects advertised.

Department forces also are in for a busy year. Approximately 300 miles of graded road is to be given a macadam surface during the season by the department. Then there will be almost 200 miles of worn-out macadam that will be resurfaced.

Within the next month road building will be moving along at a record breaking pace if favorable weather permits. Contractors will work on hand are being urged to speed up. The department has a balance in excess of $25,000,000 on hand to the credit of the motor fund to pay for this work. In addition other millions will be coming in from the gas tax during the summer months.

Candy Not Forbidden TO THE FAT

No need to deny yourself all good things because you are overweight. Modern physicians do not advise starvation. They know the dangers of it. They know that people who are over-fat have generally an under-active gland. So they supply the factor, for lack of which too much food goes to fat.

This modern method is the basis of Marmola prescription tablets. These tablets were perfected, and are prepared, by a famous medical laboratory. A book in each box states the formula and explains the reasons for results.

For 22 years Marmola has held the top place in its field. Millions of boxes have been used in fighting fat. The people who gained new youth and beauty, new health and vigor, have told others. Now the results are seen everywhere. Excess fat has largely disappeared.

There is usually no excuse for an abnormal figure and the dangers which go with it. If the cause is an under-active gland, Marmola is the right way to combat it. For 22 years, countless people have been learning what it does.

Go try Marmola and learn what they have learned. Read the book in the box, then do as directed. Take four tablets a day. When you see that results are coming, go on and complete them. You owe that to your future. Start today.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 a box. Any druggist who is out will gladly order for you.

Pennsylvania Dry, Poll Shows

Prohibition Vote Taken In Pennsylvania By Pathfinder Shows Drys
In Majority

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent of The New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 12.—Pennsylvania is dry at heart, according to a prohibition poll taken by the Pathfinder, weekly published here.

Of the 38,887 votes cast by Pennsylvanians, the drys numbered 25,450 and the wets 13,437, the returns just made public reveal.

In the dry column, 4,539 in the state approved prohibition "as is" and 20,911 approved it and asked for stricter enforcement.

The 13,437 classified under the general heading of "wet" included 5,811 who favor government sale of light wines and beers, 4,002 would have the government sell hard liquor, 1,883 want their saloons back and 1,741 advocate the private sale of liquor at non-drinking places.

Only six states and the District of Columbia indicated a majority enlisted in the wet cause.

Aged Woman Dies, 116 Descendants

CENTRAL CITY, Pa., March 12.—Mrs. Christina Holoppe, aged 91, who had 116 descendants, died yesterday at her home after a long illness. She is survived by eight children, 44 grandchildren, 64 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild.

Mrs. Holoppe's death was the second to occur in this section within the last 24 hours, where a large family of descendants survive. Mrs. Frances Malone, aged 92, died Monday at her home in Spangler. She is survived by 102 descendants.

The Most Famous Boys' Suit In The State Is Fisher Bros. Castle Clothes

At $6⁹⁰

Made In Our Own Factory

In these days when people think in millions and speak in billions, Fisher's still sell an immense quantity of Boys' Suits. We don't sell a million of them or a billion either but we do sell as many if not more than most companies. We don't know just how many and haven't time to stop now and count them...

but we sell enough to be one of the few, if not the only, retail company in America to make Boys' Suits in their own factory and sell them direct through their own stores... and the quantity each year is growing, growing, growing. Only mass production has built for "Castle Clothes" this renown.

ALL WOOL

"Castle Clothes" are wool (by wool we mean all-wool, chemically tested) and come in a wide assortment of new tweed, blue chevot, suiting and herring-bone materials. They are tailored to 21 point perfection (illustrated above) and offered in a most comprehensive display of new spring patterns. The sizes are 6 to 16 years. Each suit consists of coat, vest and one pair of knickers.

MATCHING TROUSERS

Boys will be boys and none of us wish them otherwise yet they always do seem to ruin the wrong pair of trousers. And that is just why Fisher's decided to always provide an extra pair of matching trousers for $1.95. You needn't buy them with the suit for any time during the season they will be here for you. Fisher Brothers Suits consist of coat, vest and one pair of trousers because boys grow so fast, and provide for an extra pair of trousers in case of accident or calamity.

OH, THESE WOMEN!

By LEOLA ALLARD

After panning the merry bachelor who wrote me that his is the only life, this comes from Chicago. Is he a bachelor? Wouldn't you know it?

"Dear Miss Allard," is more formal if he was very much disgusted. "In order to determine how much it matters whether you 'adore' bachelors or are indifferent to them, it would be interesting to me to know (approximately) how old you are, as most of the ladies I have seen working in an editorial capacity for newspapers have been rather passe."

(That "approximately" shows he wouldn't believe anything a woman told him anyway, and I certainly hope he doesn't think I'm the kind of a goof to tell him my age! The fact that I won't should tell him something.)

"Your parenthetical repartee in the bachelor letter printed this morning is weak. It is almost as silly as the letter itself."

(Maybe, but it was honest, that's one virtue. Anyway I got money for it. You know I too wonder sometimes, at the things people get paid for. But I'm not so passe I don't want clothes and water waves, and I'm one of those weak, silly people who have to earn them.)

"A bachelor is expected to give up his independence, share his home, and everything he possesses with one woman for life."

(Yah, and in return some of these wives devote their entire time trying to make their men happy and comfortable. While you are "giving up your life" what is she doing with hers?)

HE'S bachelor all right! Mister, there isn't any love without faith, hope and charity, and if you didn't have charity you wouldn't be a bachelor. If you think what you write, he would have jumped off somebody's roof long ago. I notice you didn't mention love?

Perhaps your trouble is that you expect to see returns the minute you drop your money in the collection box? I'll wager you haven't met the right kind of women. You have been

Veterans Of Foreign Wars Will Hold Big Celebration This Evening

This evening's open house celebration at the Legion Home association building on North Jefferson street will be open to the public in general, John LaRue, chairman in charge for the Harry L. McBride Post Veterans of Foreign Wars, announces.

There will be 500 and bridge for those who care to play, in addition to bingo and other games. During the evening the post will give away a radio.

Every effort has been made to show all those who attend a good time, and it is expected that there will be a large crowd in attendance at the meeting tonight.

British Army Upkeep Lower

(International News Service)
LONDON, March 12.—British army estimates for 1930 revealed a reduction of 605,000 pounds (about $3,000,000) from army expenditures in 1929 when they were made public today by secretary of state for war Tom Shaw. In 1929, 41,105,000 pounds (about $205,000,000) were spent for the upkeep of the British army. The 1930 figure was placed at 40,500,000 pounds (about $202,000,000).

NEWSIE DANCES FOR KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

"Stucky" Staske, newsboy dancer, was a feature at the dance given by the Knights of Pythias in their hall here last night.

"Stucky" sprang into fame several years ago, when the Charleston was first introduced and earned the sobriquet of the "Charleston Kid". He has never taken any lessons but is a clever entertainer with his wily steps, including the buck and wing, waltz clog and tap dances. He will be seen again at the dance to be given Saturday evening.

Toxin Anti-Toxin Given Students

Treatments Against Diphtheria
Under Way; 240 Injections At Shenango

Two hundred and forty Shenango township high school students were given the first of three toxin anti-toxin treatments as a preventative measure against diphtheria, on Tuesday, under the direction of County Medical Director H. C. Harper.

Dr. Harper and his staff of assistants visited the schools at Hillsville and Bessemer to administer injections today, and on Friday they will treat school children at Mt. Jackson.

Three injections are given each student, the medical director said. Shenango high will be visited again next Tuesday and the second treatment given then, and the third some time later. The Hillsville, Bessemer and Mt. Jackson schools likewise will be visited three times.

Assisting Dr. Harper in the work are Miss Bertha Smith and Miss Grace Ackerman, local nurses of the state health department, and Miss Sarah Burckart, associated with the Associated Charities here.

McBride Post Is Gaining Steadily

Local Veterans Post Stands
Fourth In Stand In Point
Of Membership Gain

Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars is continuing its steady march to state leadership, and now stands fourth in the state of Pennsylvania in point of membership gain during the current year. They are seventh in point of gain in percentage over their previous membership.

The post is very near the 200 mark in membership, which vantage point, will place them among the first ten in the state if achieved and a strenuous effort will be made to soon gain the needed members to put them over the top.

An intensive drive for new members will be made by the post in the near future, under the leadership of membership Chairman, Fred Thompson.

Any veteran who has served overseas during any war or offensive by the United States, is eligible to join the Harry L. McBride Post.

Stage Is Set For Minstrel And Revue Here

Annual Event For Jameson
Memorial Hospital To Be Given Thursday
And Friday

BIG ATTENDANCE IS FORECASTED

Final arrangements have been completed for the big annual minstrel and revue which will be given at the Cathedral Thursday and Friday evenings, for the benefit of the Jameson Memorial Hospital.

Some of the finest talent in the city will be seen in action in both the minstrel and revue parts of the show, which will be one of the most stupendous events of its kind ever held in the city.

Snappy choruses, drilled to the minute will cavort in the revue, and there will be a number of specialty dance numbers. One of the features will be the appearance of Miss Dorothy Fletcher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fletcher of North Merwin street, in a series of special dance numbers. There will be a special high school group in addition to other choruses.

The show will start promptly at 8:15 both evenings and every effort will be made to conduct the performance with dispatch, so that there will be no waits between acts. This has all been arranged and the stage is all set for a finished production.

Rehearsals have been in progress for more than a month. Able assistance has been rendered by Miss Betty Rea, who has played at the rehearsals for the revue numbers, and Mrs. H. Reinhardt, who has been playing for the minstrel numbers.

Indications point to a record attendance on both evenings of the show, which has now become an annual event for the benefit of the hospital.

Indian Leader Begins March

der merits the electric chair for the murder of Brady Paul; on the other, the defense, for the purpose of proving that she is not guilty.

The blonde seemed to be feeling better today. All morning she sat at the counsel table, bundled in her black coat, conferring with her counsel, scrutinizing jurors and paying no attention to spectators, jurymen or the commonwealth counsel.

The jurors who were examined today follow:

Morning Session.

Mrs. Gladys Rosenthal was the first of the special panel called. She had read of the case, had discussed it and had no fixed opinion. She qualified and was accepted as juror No. 10 at 9:30 a. m.

Frank C. Conner, a railroader of the second ward, was called. No fixed opinion and no prejudice against capital punishment. He qualified but was challenged peremptorily.

L. G. Laurel, a teller of the First National bank, was called. Had read of and discussed the case. Acquainted with Corporal Schmidt of the highway patrol. Could lay aside any opinion and render a fair verdict. Defense challenged peremptorily.

William R. Sturdy, a railroader, yardmaster of the second ward, was called and qualified for the commonwealth. Examined by the defense he said he thought it would be difficult to lay aside the opinion he had. Challenged for cause and excused.

Kennedy Accepted.

Thomas Kennedy of Huron avenue, a molder, was called. Had formed an opinion, but could lay it aside. Defense passed him. No scruples against capital punishment. The commonwealth accepted him as juror No. 11 at 10:34 a. m.

A. H. Robb, a salesman, of Shennango township, was called. He was challenged peremptorily by the commonwealth.

Samuel Hogue, a tinner residing on Mulberry street, was called. He had formed an opinion but could lay it aside. Passed by the defense. Had no scruples against capital punishment. He was challenged peremptorily by the commonwealth.

Charles M. Bohn of 18 West Falls street, a salesman, was called. Formed an opinion. No scruples against capital punishment. Challenged peremptorily by the commonwealth.

Last Juror.

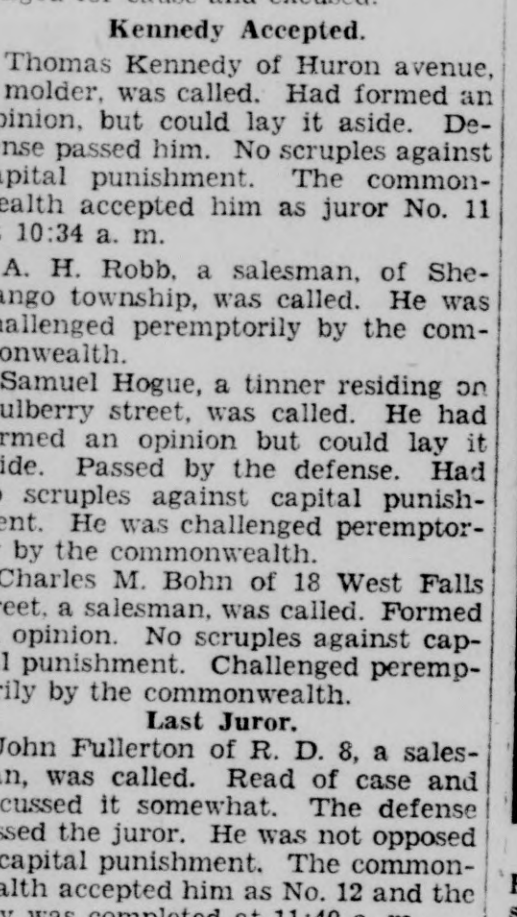

John Fullerton of R. D. 8, a salesman, was called. Read of case and discussed it somewhat. The defense passed the juror. He was not opposed to capital punishment. The commonwealth accepted him as No. 12 and the jury was completed at 11:40 a. m.

TEACHERS MEET

The teachers and officers of St. Paul's Lutheran church met at the home of the pastor, Rev. A. M. Stump, 301 North Jefferson street, Tuesday evening for their regular monthly business session.

You are paying for a PACKARD

Why not own one ?

It really costs no more to own a distinguished Packard Standard Eight than a lower priced vehicle of like size. Operating costs are no greater. And the higher first cost is completely offset by the longer period the Packard owner gladly keeps his car.

THERE in a nutshell is the reason so many of your friends and acquaintances are driving Packard cars.

Why not enjoy the distinction and satisfaction of Packard ownership yourself?

Let us give you a Packard demonstration—the new kind of demonstration with facts and figures set down on paper in black and white!

We can quickly show you that gasoline, oil and tire costs are just as great for your present car as for a Packard—if your car compares with a Packard in size. This is true even if your present car cost but half the Packard price.

And we can show you that license, insurance, garaging and repairs for your present car cost just as much in the aggregate as they would cost for a Packard.

This leaves only depreciation to consider. And depreciation on half-price cars traded in every two years or so is just as great as depreciation on a Packard kept twice that long.

That is why we say, "You are paying for a Packard."

And that is why we invite you to own one.

We know you will want to keep your long-lived, always-modern Packard far longer—in months and miles—than you ever kept a lesser car. And that its beauty and luxury will be a source of satisfaction long after the purchase price has been forgotten.

The price of the most popular model of the Packard Standard Eight—the five-passenger Sedan—is but $2485 at the factory. Ten other body styles are available on the 127½ and 134½-inch wheelbases at from $2425 to $2885.

Why not let us appraise your present car—and tell you about the convenient Packard monthly payment plan?

Over Three Hundred Added To Library

Forty Of New Books For Local Library Were Selected By Ministerial Committee

An interesting development of the past month at the New Castle free public library has been the cooperation of a committee from the Ministerial association in the review and selection of approximately forty books on religious subjects.

The committee consists of Dr. E. A. Crooks, Dr. Phillip C. Pearson and Mr. Bennett.

Three hundred thirty-four books have been added to the public library during February, according to the report read by Miss Alice M. Sterling, librarian, to the board members, at the monthly meeting, Tuesday.

Of this number, 321 have been added by purchase, 12 by gift and 1 by subscription. Three hundred ten books were catalogued and 490 books were discarded.

During February, 244 new borrowers were added, making a grand total of 13,761 borrowers. Of the total borrowers, 8,389 are adult and 5,372 are juvenile. Of the new borrowers, 155 are adult and 89 juvenile.

The Parent Problem

by GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Parents Should Recognize Jealousy As Source Of Unhappiness In Child

Are you ever jealous? Are your children? Certainly.

To have jealous feeling occasionally is to be alive; never to have them is to be dead.

Go to a social gathering; look and listen for a few minutes to discover on the faces and in the speech of others there, good evidences of jealousy. If you can be very objective with yourself you may observe it in your own feelings when some one you considered of your level has been singled out for very generous compliments. Even you may feel the pangs of jealousy betrayed by a curious feeling somewhere above your waist, with a still more curious creeping something in your face.

You may get relief as you keep on trying to say kind words about the other person; or succeed in turning the attention of the group to something else. Or, caught off guard, you may act childishly, directing at some one a "dirty dig," or by shutting yourself in away from everyone.

Jealousy is an unpleasant feeling we have toward another person who wins or seems to win the approval which we hope to get ourselves or felt that we deserved. As a rule we do not try to have this feeling. It just comes, and sometimes it comes when we strive the hardest to avoid it.

Such experiences come to all—to parishioners on their bended knees at a prayer service, teachers in a Sunday school, deacons in a church, missionaries at a conference, scholars at a scientific meet, delegates at a hobo convention, relatives at a family reunion, or a family funeral, children by the fireside or ice-box. Some men marry women, some women marry men, for no other reason than to keep other men and women away from them.

Warmly praise a butcher, preacher, lawyer, doctor in the presence of another butcher, preacher, lawyer, doctor, generally considered of the same level of success or eminence, and observe the absence of a genuine commendatory response. Some, by virtue of self-discipline and rare culture, rise above the force of jealousy and prove themselves exceptionally good sports. There seems to be no evidence of jealousy in Jesus, but some of his disciples surely were afflicted by it. It is the spirit of his Sermon on the Mount, which is the greatest antidote for this affliction.

In the Child Welfare magazine for January I pointed out that jealous feeling implies that as the other person has received approval we have been robbed of it. "His loss has been our gain. This ugly feeling toward him exists whether he purposely caused us to seem to be considered inferior to him, or did so unawares."

As a rule, the one toward whom jealousy is felt, is wholly innocent, particularly among children. The baby is not aware that he caused his older sister or brother to feel jealous of him. Even if he were, he could not keep his parents from devoting so much attention to him, nor could he reduce the adoration of the adult relatives and friends.

The girl of nine who is more prepossessing than her sister one year older, or who has overtaken the older child at school, can hardly be expected to make herself less attractive or more stupid.

Nevertheless, we parents ought to recognize in jealousy a source of much unhappiness in children and of many problems of behavior.

Tomorrow: Ways of Reducing Jealousy.

Hundreds of People in New Castle are Poisoning Themselves Every Day and Suffering All the Time

World Tonic Man Says You Can Pick Them Out on the Street by Their Looks

"Yes," said the World's Tonic representative, "I mean what I say when I repeat that a lot of people in this town would be better off if they took a quick poison, instead of permitting themselves to be poisoned every day. You can see them on the street, dragging themselves along in misery, some of them brave about it, but some clear down in despair."

"The pity of it is that their suffering is unnecessary. Stomachs that are too weak to retain their food, eyes that show how they need sleep, weary steps that tell the story—all of these are evidences of slow catarrhal poisoning—not so slow in many cases either. These victims have let catarrh run on until the body is full of waste products, and the blood is so full that the poisons are not thrown off."

"Stomach, liver, kidneys—something gives way, and is in distress all the time. I'm sorry for these folks, for I have seen thousands in that condition who were speedily restored by this good-working medicine. They have come in different stages of catarrhal poisoning, and after they had taken one or two bottles of World's Tonic I hardly knew them when they came back, they were so much better."

"If the people of New Castle who have catarrh had seen what I have seen they would waste no time in visiting the druggist and taking World's Tonic." World's Tonic is for sale by Eckerd's, McKee's, Paisley's, Smith's and all other good drug stores. (A-54)

"What states have abolished capital punishment?" asks a reader of the Question Box.

Kansas, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Rhode Island and Wisconsin. Some of these states do inflict the death penalty for murder committed by prisoners already serving life sentences.

Who owns Southern or Lower California? Southern California simply is the southern part of the state of California (and belongs to Hollywood). Lower California is Mexico.

What is Turkey's population? Constantinople? According to the October, 1927, census: Turkey, 18,641,810; Constantinople (now officially known as Istanbul), 699,602.

Who invented the Zeppelin and who holds the patents on it?

Lighter-than-air craft date back to the Montgolfier brothers (French) in 1783. Thenceforward attempts at dirigibility continued almost uninterruptedly until Henri Giffard (also French) attained it, in very calm weather, with a steam engine, in 1851. The modern dirigible's birth year may be regarded as 1898, with Count Ferdinand Zeppelin (German) getting the bulk of the credit but a share of it going to Alberto Santos Dumont (Brazilian). As a whole the dirigible is unpatented, though patents on many of its accessories are variously held.

Prayer In Congress

The house met at 12 o'clock noon and was called to order by the speaker.

The chaplain, Rev. James Shera Montgomery, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, at whose footstool the morning stars sing together and in whom there is perfect love and harmony forevermore, Thy providence hast brought us to another day. How much more intelligently and bravely we can serve our fellow men with Thy truth to guide us and Thy Spirit to inspire us. O bestow upon us the mercy of these blessings. Life's limitations would be bitter, indeed, had we not the assurance that this is God's earth, and it bears testimony of His presence and His goodness. Blessed Father, as we live, make us eager to love and follow Thee. Amen.

Victoriously Proved ... in performance, economy and value

during ESSEX Challenger week

Local Records

"Challenger Week" Results in New Castle were as follows: The Essex Challenger reached a top speed of 73 miles per hour—was driven 58 miles in 69 minutes—topped North Jefferson street hill in New Castle at 52 miles per hour—topped Mount Jackson hill at 49 miles per hour—averaged 20.7 miles per gallon of gasoline—accelerated from 5 to 35 miles per hour in 10 seconds, and from 10 to 60 miles per hour in 21 seconds.

Prove What Every Essex Can Do

Come take a ride yourself. Know by personal experience what this brilliant New Essex Challenger can do. Its exploits of Challenger Week have swept the country. Essex owners led the demonstration. They were so widely followed and aided by public participation that we are continuing the invitation to Ride—Ride—Ride!

Every locality now knows Essex for the accomplishment of some great feat. Hills seldom attempted in any car were climbed by Essex in high gear. Remarkable economy proofs were established. New acceleration marks were made.

Most important of all—Challenger Week convinced motorists everywhere that Essex represents the greatest dollar for dollar value in car satisfaction that the industry offers. We will gladly give you a personal demonstration of any of these proofs which Essex has established.

Clark House On Diamond Is Furnished Entirely In Style Modern Century Ago

Unheeding the buildings which have been erected beside it and the buildings which have been torn down in the past century, the Clark house on the Diamond, beside the First Christian Church, stands quietly watching the world's rapid progress. It is a two story frame house, with a shingled roof and is not at all unusual in appearance. But there is something about this house which bespeaks of an almost human worldly wisdom. Mrs. Mary Wilder Clark has lived there for the past 50 years and the house was built many years before that, it is said. But it isn't the house, so much as what is in it, that is remarkable.

The furniture, pictures on the walls, mirrors and table covers, practically everything is nearly a hundred years old.

In many homes, antiques can be found among the furnishings, but a home furnished entirely with antiques is a rare thing. The furniture came into Mrs. Clark's possession from her mother, years ago, who was a member of the Wilder family, pioneers in New Castle.

There is, among the many old articles, an "ada chere," (perhaps the French word from the spelling of that word) made of beautiful rose wood. That is an article of furniture that is not often seen nowadays.

The parlor chairs are also of rose wood, and the seats of the chairs are of padded haircloth. They look like the type used in the days of George Washington.

Paintings of Shubail Wilder, Mrs. Wilder's father, and Miss Emily Kurtz hang on a wall of the living room. In the dining room, adjoining, is an engraving probably many, many years old, entitled "The Landing of the Pilgrims." The engraving was presented to the pilgrim society at Plymouth.

Another picture of interest is entitled "The Artist's Mother." It is a signed Rembrandt picture, dated 1639. The original stood in the Imperial Museum, Vienna.

Marble topped tables, several are

Large Crowd At Annual Tureen Of M. E. Church

Rev. C. A. Hartung Of Beaver Falls Gives Fine Address At Dinner-Meeting Here

ELLWOOD CITY, March 12.—Two hundred members of the congregation of the M. E. church contributed to and enjoyed the third annual tureen dinner of the church. The affair took place Tuesday night in the church dining room and the speaker of the evening was Rev. C. A. Hartung of the First M. E. church of Beaver Falls. He spoke on "The Value of the Church", giving some interesting facts concerning religion in relation to the human race. Richard Saxter of Youngstown, Ohio contributed a fine violin solo; C. P. Clark, chairman of the Finance committee, outlined the program for the coming year, and a large percentage of the amount needed, was underwritten by the members of the congregation present last night.

W. Ray Smith gave a short talk and exhorted the members of the Wesleyan Bible class for winning the recent district membership contest by such a large majority. And last but not least, there was a large birthday cake with three candles, denoting the third anniversary of the tureen dinners.

MILLER'S ANTI-PAIN OIL
Formerly Known as

Snake Oil

STOPS PAIN
From cramps to rheumatism and women are sure to find the use of Miller's Anti-Pain Oil a most powerful, penetrating, pain-relieving remedy. It will penetrate the thickest sole leather in a few minutes. Mrs. B. Verne, New Orleans, La., writes, "Thanks to your wonderful penetrating oil, I relieved me of Rheumatism and deep-seated cold after other remedies failed."
"I had rheumatism so bad I had to walk on crutches for nine years," says H. C. Hendrix, old soldier of Minneapolis, Minn. "After three months' treatment with Miller's Anti-Pain Oil I laid off my crutches and now can walk like a boy."
J. B. Moore, Pittsburgh, Pa., railroad man, says, "Anti-Pain Oil" is the only ointment that ever gave me relief from rheumatism. I use it regularly after being exposed to bad weather. For rheumatism, neuralgia, lumbago, stiff joints, pain in back and limbs, corns, bunions, chest colds, sore throat "Anti-Pain Oil" is said to be without an equal.
Refuse imitations. Nothing like the original. Sold in 70 cent bottles. Get it from your druggist. Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc.

NEW YORK, March 12.—A hotel man over in the Snooty Mid-Town Section said the other day:
"You'd be astonished if you knew how many of us regret ever having extended the smoking privilege to women. Some day, soon, when the modern readjustment is completed, it'll be all right. In the meantime our rest rooms and corridors are crowded with idle women who spend no money here in the hotel, mean absolutely nothing to us in a business sense, merely dropping in to kill ten minutes and consume a cigarette."

UP TO JULIUS
Somebody told me the other day that Julius Tannen, musical comedy Pooh-Bah, is the creator of "Cohen on the Telephone."

I want to go on liking Julius. He's a Gentleman, first—after that a great comedian, and a man who can make the world laugh, is, to my way of thinking, one of the noblest works of God.

Be that as it may, the next time we meet I am going "up to him" and say in a cold, unpleasant manner: "Mister Tannen, a man whose word I have no reason to doubt, tells me you are the author of 'Cohen and the Telephone.' For the sake of Gettysburg, Julius, say it ain't so!"

I hope he sees this paragraph before we meet. I'd rather have him lie to me than hear the miserable truths from his lips.

Ice Producer's Told Advertising Wonderful Thing

International News Service
PITTSBURGH, March 12.—Newspaper advertisers share in the prestige that newspapers enjoy in the community.
Robert McKnight, advertising director of the National Association of Ice Industries, today had delivered this message to the 12th annual convention of the Pennsylvania Ice Producers' association here.
McKnight told the assembled delegates that "advertisements form part of the news of the day and are so looked upon by the public."

Ten Taxicabs Are Burned In Fire

YOUNGSTOWN, O., March 12.—Ten taxicabs, owned by the Green Cab company, were destroyed in a blaze which raged in a one-story garage building on Commerce street here this morning. The fire was discovered at 2 o'clock this morning and had gained such a start, that firemen had difficulty in confining it to the building in which it originated.
The loss to the building was estimated at $10,000 and the loss of the taxicabs at a similar amount.

Robinson Hopes Brooklyn Team Will Make Grade

Mostly All "If's" With Manager Wilbert Robinson This Year

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Sports Writer

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 12.—"More pep out there!" shouted manager Wilbert Robinson as he sat in the shade of the dugout here today and directed the training workout of the Brooklyn ball club.

"That's what I want—pep," said the genial, roly-poly "Uncle Robbie" in an aside to the International News Service reporter.

"Robbie" tried to look stern. The fans in Brooklyn have been accusing him of being "too soft." And so this spring, his tenth year as manager of the club, he has started out to rule with an iron hand. He has "cut out" a lot of "kidding" and he is making the boys work. He already has assessed $25 fines on Adolpho Laque and Hollis Thurston for reporting a

Post Season Game At New Wilmington Causing Furore

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., March 12.—The interest in the post season game to be played between the Volunteer Fire Department team and the Minter Construction Company team has aroused basketball fans in the town of New Wilmington and local speculation on the outcome of the game is taking a great place in conversation.

Both teams are composed of former college and high school luminaries and a great game is certain. The Fire Companies team has John Lawther, mentor of the Westminster Titans, Skillin, McQuiston and Pitzer, former Scholastic stars, Karsten, former Northwestern star guard, Tom Hutcheson, Howie Eagleson and John Backson, former New Wilmington High stars and Black, Anderson, Shaffer, and Earl Hutcheson, all men of no mean ability. Then too, they have Jess Allen, six-foot six center and Rosy White, postmaster of the town and coach and manager. The team has an incomparable roster.

The Minter Construction team has Red Anderson, former Westminster College player, and a flock of good men in Pete James, T. Davis, Glen McConnell, Put Greer, Bill Greer, Dutch McFarland and Art Minter, coach. All of these boys are former high school and college star players and all worthy of note. They also boast of a nice record. In the past season they have played ten games of which only one has been lost. They have been playing in the Titusville District and Little can be said as to their opponents.

The referee of the game will be Sheriff Frank Johnston of New Castle. With Sheriff Johnston on the whistle, there is little doubt in the minds of the boys that they will be able to get rough.

The proceeds of the game will go to the Fire Department.

New Castle Plays At Pitt Saturday

Duquesne And North Braddock
Have Good Team; Locals
Hold Practice

New Castle high basketball team, winners of Section Three of the W. P. L. A. L. and who have reached the semi-finals of the schoolboy tourney held another long workout on Tuesday afternoon, in preparation for Saturday when the Red and Black team plays the winner of the Duquesne North Braddock game at the Pitt Stadium.

Coach Bridenbaugh is eager for his team to win the second trophy in four years and for this reason he drills his lads daily so that they will be in the peak for Saturday. Both Duquesne and North Braddock have good teams. New Castle will have to play better basketball than they played Saturday night to beat either team.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner is arranging for a special train on the Pennsylvania railroad.

Carnegie Boys Win Over Falcon Five

Drop Basket Through Net To Win 15-14 As Final Whistle Sounds

Overcoming a 14-13 handicap in the final minutes of play, the Carnegie Midgets came through last night to win from the Polish Falcon Midgets by the count of 15 to 14. Vigali tossed the winning basket for Carnegie just before the final whistle blew.

The game was a preliminary to the Kandy Kid-Falcon Juniors game.

The summary:

Carnegie 15	Falcons 14
Sheldone	F. Kendra
Gallagher	F. H. Kozella
Vigali	C. Mehalic
Ross	G. Garzewski
Campbell	G. Sniezek
Substitution: Budai, Zapasnik.
Field goals: Gallagher, Kendra, Kozella, Mehalic, Vigali 4, Sniezek 3.
Penal goals: Carnegie 3 out of 10; Falcons 2 out of 11.
Reeree: Mehalic; scorer, Ciambotti; timer, Perrett.

SO BRILLIANT A CAR . . .

BUICK

. . . That's why BUICK wins from 2 to 5 times as many buyers as any other car priced above $1200 . . .

One reason why Buick has steadily won from 2 to 5 times as many buyers as any other car priced above $1200 is because nowhere at or near Buick's low price can so brilliant a car be obtained.

This also explains why Buick today is awarded from 35 to 50 per cent of the combined sales of the fifteen makes of cars in its price class.

Clearly, with six of Buick's fifteen luxurious body types priced at only $1260 to $1330, f. o. b. Flint, Buick is easily within your means.

Remember—all Buicks are identical in beauty, in performance, and in dependability—all provide the same remarkable Buick value.

Put Buick's famous Valve-in-Head engine to any road test you wish and learn what truly brilliant performance you can obtain at this low Buick price.

Sure Way to Get Rid of Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. Then you destroy it entirely.

To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

NEW YORK STOCKS Speculative Selling Forces Down Stocks

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, March 12.—Sharp declines in prices of the leading industrial stocks this morning accompanied the heavy wave of speculative selling which passed over the whole market. A 79,000 decrease in freight car loadings as compared with the same week last year and a reported deduction of steel mills operations to 82 per cent of capacity started the selling wave which set the stock tickers behind twenty minutes in the first hour. Industrial Alcohol lost an additional 6 1/2 points and sold down to 105, compared with yesterday's high at 119 1/2. Westinghouse lost 4 1/2 at 170 1/2. United States Steel broke to 179 1/2 for a loss of 3 points. Simmons was down 4 1/2 at 53 1/2; General Electric down 1 1/2 at 76 1/2; American and Foreign Power down 4 points at 85; National Cash Register down 1 1/2 at 77 1/2.

Pure Oil, Texas Corporation, Standard of New Jersey and Sinclair sold higher. A 23-cent increase in the selling price of crude oil in California was taken as an evidence of the clearing up of crude over-production in that section of the country.

Uncertainty as to the outcome of the Bethlehem-Youngstown merger was reflected in another dip in Bethlehem to 101 1/2, down 1 1/2, and in the falling off in buying demand for the independent steel shares. Vanadium dropped off about 3 points to 82 1/2.

The trading pace was speeded up in the second hour, the ticker falling behind 27 minutes. There was little difference between prices bulletined from the floor of the stock exchange and those appearing on the tape, showing that market was steady at the lower price levels. There was little sign of a rally in the industrials and specialties which have been leading the upward move in recent weeks. Commodity markets were fairly steady, with cotton and grain slightly lower, and call money renewed at 4 per cent.

using the entertainment. Special guests were Mrs. Leonard Dandy and Mrs. Nora James.

After the games the host's mother and sister Helen served a tempting lunch with Irish colors predominating in the appointments.

The annual election of officers will be held April 8 when the society will meet at the church.

Legion Bureau Gets New Head

Change Is Necessary When First Supervisor Becomes Schroeder Case Juror

American Legion Employment bureau in the Greer building ceased to function for a few hours this morning, as a result of John H. Fullerton, supervisor in charge of the bureau was summoned as a special juror in the effort to secure a jury to try Irene Schroeder.

When Fullerton was selected as the twelfth juror on the case at noon today, Dr. H. H. Rosenthal, commander of Perry S. Gaston Post found it necessary to appoint his successor for the period of the trial.

He named E. T. McKee as the new supervisor, and took charge at once and the bureau was functioning as usual this afternoon.

High schools of the county participating in this contest are, Princeton, Volant, Plaingrove, Enon Valley, Harlansburg and Wampum.

BOSTON TO GET THREE NEW DIAL PHONE STATIONS

(International News Service) BOSTON, March 12.—Boston's principal business district will soon be served by a triangle of dial telephone exchanges.

The third point of the three-cornered system has been started on an historic site in Bowdoin Square. When finished it will be the West End telephone exchange rising ten stories in height, with a tower effect created by lofty vertical piers, enhanced by corner setbacks. The other two points of the triangle are the Back Bay—Kenmore—Copley—Commonwealth exchange office in Belvidere Street, and the Liberty—Hancock—Hubbard exchange office in Harrison Avenue.

The foundation work on the Bowdoin Square building has been started and it is estimated that the exchange will be in operation within two years.

Less than 200 years ago, the site of the new exchange flourished with homes and gardens. Two adjoining lots were owned and lived on by Charles Bulfinch, designer of the State House. Later, it became the site of the old Baptist tabernacle, and then was transformed into a hotel and lodging house. It remained thus until the telephone company razed the building to make way for the new exchange.

Health Nurses Visit Many Rural Schools Last Month

Monthly Report Of Tuberculosis Society States That 545 Pupils Were Weighed And Measured

Twenty-two rural school rooms were visited by representative nurses of the Lawrence County Tuberculosis Society, during February, 1930.

During these visits health talks were given and health contests were started. Thirty-two tooth brushes and 38 cruetes were given out. Five hundred and 45 pupils were weighed and measured during the month, according to the report submitted by Miss Sara M. Burkhart, executive secretary of the Lawrence County Tuberculosis Society.

Much interest is shown among grade school children, in the story hour conducted at the New Castle free public library after school, every Thursday afternoon.

Miss Alice Joyce, children's librarian, has proved herself to be most capable in this capacity.

Mail Pilot Forced To Use Parachute When Motor Stalls

Albert De Witt Joins Caterpillar Club By "Chute" Jump To Save His Life

(International News Service) MISHAWAKA, Ind., March 12.—The Caterpillar club today had a new candidate for membership in Albert De Witt, airmail pilot who cut loose from his airplane in a parachute last night and landed safely three miles southeast of here.

De Witt became lost in a blinding snow storm as he was flying his regular run to Chicago. After circling several times to get his bearings De Witt decided to leap. He landed uninjured, but his plane, the property of the Thompson Aeronautical Corporation, was totally wrecked.

De Witt's plane had previously circled the landing field at South Bend, Ind., but continued westward without landing.

New Orleans Fire Loss Two Million

All Firemen In City Battle Wharf Blaze; Investigation Is Under Way

(International News Service) NEW ORLEANS, La., March 12.—Fire marshalls and dock board officials today investigated the fire which practically destroyed the Mandeville street wharf late yesterday and did extensive damage to the steamship Munaries of the Munson

Line and the British Steamship Pacific. Including the $400,000 damage to the wharf, the loss was estimated at close to $2,000,000. The flames did nearly $100,000 damage to the Munaries.

The whole New Orleans fire department, with fire tugs and fire boats, battled the flames for three hours before the fire was brought under control.

EFFORT TO BRING DAGUE INTO COURT IS BLOCKED

HIDE STOMACH IF FEDS ARE COMING ROGERS WARNS 'EM

(Special To The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., March 12.—Say, these scientists and chemists are getting smart. They get some kind of a concoction called "Black Light." The prohibition authorities have already bought the exclusive right.

If you have been drinking, they can give you a swig of their dope on top of yours, and immediately your insides loom up like a bulletin board. It registers the brand of stuff you have been drinking, the city it comes from, the color of the bootlegger's hair, and the price you paid.

If it's in Oklahoma City, the Jamaica ginger will loom up like you was going to bake a cake, so if you see a dry officer coming, don't only hide the bottle, but conceal your stomach.

Yours,
WILL.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Pa New is of the belief that only a comparative few have any conception of what transpires each day at the Ben Franklin Trade school. No doubt that a visit there once in a while would better inform one as to what actually is going on. There's plenty for the different department instructors to show. Included is an auto mechanics unit, cabinet making shop, machine shop, electrical shop and a printing department.

Word that different Boy Scout troops in the county placed food in the outdoors for wild game during the past winter has reached Pa. New and he wants to add his commendation. Had this not been the case no doubt the death of an abundant supply of game would be the result.

Lawn rolling might be said to herald the coming of spring weather, but when the government believes in it that ought to put an official stamp upon it. The local post office was rolled early Tuesday afternoon, but all that it brought seemed to be a flurry of snowflakes.

Although yesterday was not just exactly springlike, employees at the New Castle postoffice were out rolling the lawn, preparatory to sowing grass seed. It won't be long now.

Now across this state of ours, there are signs of fray and strife, for the candidates for office once again are showing life. And in strident tones and bell like they announce to one and all, that they now are asking voters, to pay some heed to their call. Are your taxes high my brother, hear what Gooftus has to say, vote for Clunk and Pete O'Fumble and you'll profit right away. How they point with pride and valor to the records they have made, how they hurl the shaft of poison at the enemies which are made. But its all in fun I reckon, just the usual bit of play, and the folks enjoy their antics, weather's thirty-eight today.

Tells Of Incidents In Home In Neshannock Township At Hold-up

Tells Jury That William Grimm Was One Of Youths Entering Home

Dramatic story of the murder of his brother, Clark Rea, at their Neshannock township home, was told by Elias Rae in the trial of William Grimm before Judge J. A. Chambers in court here this morning.

Rea told his story in a simple, straightforward manner, that carried conviction.

He said that on the night of January 15th, he and his brother were warming their backs before a fire in the grate. Both were standing up, shot through an east window. Clark Rea instantly grabbed a chair and hurled it through the window.

Then several shots were fired from the outside. Clark Rea took a step or two toward the center of the room and fell to the floor, shot through the head.

Men Wore Masks

Three men wearing handkerchiefs for masks, came through the windows. They all carried guns in their hands. Witness dropped to the floor near a sofa, threw up his hands and begged for mercy. A revolver was thrust in his face and a demand made for his money. He gave up all that he had, about 50 cents.

The gun was held at his head while the other two in the room searched

Women Defend Prohibition In Defiant Manner

Militant Women March Before House Judiciary Committee Defending Prohibition

SUGGEST BUYER BE MADE GUILTY

Prohibition Controversy Churning Merrily In Washington—Plea Is Made For Beer

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, March 12.—Militant and defiant women marched before the house judiciary committee today denouncing all attempts to repeal the prohibition amendment and instead demanding that liquor buyers as well as sellers be prosecuted.

The score of women speakers, marshaled by Mrs. Henry W. Peabody of Boston, chairman of the woman's national committee for law enforcement, called prohibition a blessing to the nation, attacked proposals for a nation-wide referendum and flayed "drinking dries" on the government pay-roll.

At the same time, Rep. L. C. Dyer (R) of Missouri, was appearing before the Hoover Law enforcement commission with a plea for legalization of 2.75 beer, and the house was confronted with a report from the Christopher commission proposing drastic modification of the stern Jones law.

Controversy Churns.

The prohibition controversy churned all over the capitol.

The "Woman's Day" defense of prohibition was offered before the committee as an answer to the previous proposals of speakers for the nation's leading wet organizations to repeal the 18th Amendment and return liquor control to the states.

"No compromise" was the slogan of the women throughout their presentation.

They not only claimed the right to speak for 12,000,000 women belonging to organizations affiliated with the woman's national committee for law enforcement, but predicted that they would enroll millions more to back strict enforcement.

IRENE ENTERING COURT HOUSE

Irene Schroeder, extreme right, enroute to court house from county jail, for her trial now in progress here.

Sheriff Charles Wright And Arizona Witnesses Arrive In New Castle

After riding trains since Saturday evening Sheriff Charles Wright, of Phoenix, Arizona, arrived in New Castle Tuesday evening, with a party of witnesses who will testify at the trial of Irene Schroeder, blonde bandit who is on trial in the Lawrence County court house for the murder of Corporal Brady Paul of the State Highway Patrol.

With Sheriff Wright are his wife, Hans Kuhr, a member of the posse that captured Irene, Rosie Smith, an octonoon and Mattie Jackson, a colored woman, the latter two being cell mates of Irene Schroeder in the jail in Phoenix. Leaving Phoenix Saturday night the party travelled by way of the Southern Pacific, Rock Island and New York Central lines, arriving in New Castle at 8:22 p. m. the same scheduled train which carried Irene Schroeder, W. Glenn Dague and the party of officers and newspaper men who made the trip to Phoenix in January.

First Trip East

For Sheriff and Mrs. Wright the trip is both business and pleasure. It is the first time they have been this far east and for the next few weeks they will be guests of the county. The entire party is stopping at the Castle-ton.

Sheriff Wright is the man who organized a posse of 100 deputies, cowboys and Indians and went up into the Estrella Mountains after Irene and Dague, following the shooting of

Groundhog Emerges After Sleeping Over Four Months

Old Brer' Groundhog has returned from a long winter spent in dreamland. The pet of the George Brooks' family on the Mercer road near this city came from his burrow yesterday, after sleeping for four months and twelve days.

The little fellow is about six years old, but he still knows when winter is over. He is thin but is not a pig, for he eats very little for the first few days. Having been away from his friends these months he still knows them and is just as tame as ever, the members of the family report.

This groundhog is like a family cat, playing in the house and rejoicing in finding his friends, the hound dog, once again, the family relates.

COURT DECIDES DAGUE WILL NOT BE BROUGHT IN FOR IDENTIFICATION

Jurors Are Taken To Scene Of Crime Before First Witnesses Are Heard—Blonde Gun-Woman Again At Scene Of Brady Paul Shooting.

Glenn Dague, the insurance salesman who deserted his wife and children for the sunshine of Irene's smile, will not sit in the court with the Trigger Blonde as she is tried for the murder of Brady Paul. Overruling a motion of the commonwealth late this afternoon Judge Hildebrand refused to allow Glenn Dague to be brought into the court room for "identification purposes," and Irene will continue to sit alone.

It was the purpose of the commonwealth to bring Dague in and as witnesses identified Irene Schroeder, to identify Dague also who was with Irene when Brady Paul was murdered on December 27th. When Attorney Margiotti made the motion, counsel for the defense objected strenuously and after some deliberation Judge Hildebrand overruled the motion "for the present at least."

Irene On Road Again

Once again Irene Schroeder stopped at the lane to the Baldwin Farm on the Butler Road. Once again she saw the long lane of trees that leads down to the home, rode past Adams street, and for a time might have imagined herself again on the road with Glenn Dague.

The difference was today that she rode in the custody of the sheriff, and with her rode the jury, the court, counsel and newspaper men who went to the scene of the shooting of Brady Paul for the purpose of familiarizing them with the place.

The taking of testimony this afternoon was in the main, routine. Drs. Kaplan, Loyal Wilson and Paul Wilson were called and established the death of Brady Paul, the first link necessary in the chain of evidence which the commonwealth hopes will link the Trigger Woman to the arms of the chair that hurls its victims into eternity.

Sisters In Court

Irene's sister, Mrs. C. H. Muddoon, of Wheeling, W. Va., and her husband, a traction formen, arrived in the courtroom after the luncheon recess. With them were Mrs. Ruby Schroeder, of Bellaire, Ohio, and Mrs. Mary Baum, also sisters of the blonde gunwoman. The three sisters will be used to bulwark Irene's defense, all probability as character witnesses.

Irene's sisters each went the blonde and buxom defendant one better, so far as avoidpoids goes, when they swept into the courtroom. All are considerably larger than Irene, herself well above average weight.

The three smiled a heartening recognition to Irene when she was led into the courtroom at the beginning of the afternoon session. The smiles were replaced by tears, however, after Irene had taken her seat at defense counsel tables with her back to the sisters.

With the sisters was old Crawford, father of Irene and grandfather of Donnie. The old man is a respectable looking old gentleman and is respected in Benwood, W. Va., where he lives.

Paul's Mother Sobs

Defense and prosecution counsel tables are in close proximity to each other in the courtroom. When Irene walked to her seat she almost brushed the arm of Mrs. Vinita McGugin, mother of the slain patrolman, for whom a place had been made at the prosecution table.

During Powers' detailed recital of the Enghart holdup, the wild ride on the Butler-New Castle highway and the gun battle with the bandit car, Irene sat staring indifferently at the district attorney.

Mrs. McGugin broke down and sobbed as Powers, in a resonant voice, recited the wounding of Paul and the officer's death. Irene flashed the slain officer's mother a quick side-glance and faced again to the fore.

Go To Scene

At 2:15 District Attorney Powers closed his remarks to the jury and Margiotti asked that the jury be taken to the scene of the murder.

There being no opposition offered by the defense the court ordered Sheriff Johnston to secure a bus which was done.

Accompanied by the court, by tipstaves, counsel, sheriff and deputies, newspapermen, camera men and some spectators the jury walked over the ground where Paul was shot, went down the Baldwin lane, visited the

Two Killed In Mountain Feud

BELIEVED WORK OF "MOONSHINE" BANDS

(International News Service) WILLIAMSON, W. Va., March 12.—Two men are dead, another is seriously wounded and a fourth is in jail here today while authorities of three states, West Virginia, Kentucky and Virginia, are piecing together details of a bloody battle in the mountain fastness of the tri-state border region which is believed to have climaxed the meeting of rival "moonshine" bands.

The dead are Charlie Maxwell, of Upper Mingo county, and Riley Hardin, 24, of Kentucky.

Jeff Hardin, 24, a cousin of one of the dead men, is in a local hospital with part of his leg shot away and a bullet wound in his body. George Hardin, another relative, is being held in jail.

Both maintain the stolidness of mountaineers and refuse to answer questions of police.

Mingo county deputy sheriffs say the shooting occurred Sunday night at Altwick, in a remote district. Due to the sparsely settled neighborhood and the absence of telephone service, first reports of the battle did not reach Williamson until late yesterday and the meager details were not learned until today.

Woman Witnesses Shooting

Officers returning from the scene of the shooting today said the trouble started between rival Virginia and Mingo county "moonshine" gangs, with Kentuckians as members of the West Virginia outfit. Mrs. Sam Mounts, in front of whose mountain cabin the men clashed, said she had seen two men cross the Virginia line in an intoxicated condition, carrying shotguns. A short time later, she stated, she heard shots.

Mrs. Mounts further told police that she had seen Ethel Harding, another relative of one of the dead men, fire a pistol and then flee with a mountaineer across the Virginia border. The woman declared that more than 50 shots were fired and when the smoke cleared away, two men were dead and the third was wounded.

The border region, where the shooting occurred, has been the scene of several feudal gun battles in recent months.

plant their first spring peas on Monday, St. Patrick's day. Peas are rather hardy and can stand colder weather than many other varieties of garden vegetable. The biggest trouble is in getting the ground prepared.

Henry Bryson of State street owns a book of Scotch tunes, Highlands, Strathspeys and country dances that he found many years ago in the ruins of a log cabin. The book is probably over a century old and it is entitled "A New and Complete Tutor for the German Flute." The book was sold by J. Anderson, music seller, Perth.

The North street bridge is being used quite extensively, Pa Newc noticed.

Mrs. Clark Norris and Miss Verna Ueber of 106 N. Pine street were standing on the back porch of their home Tuesday when they were surprised to see a large robin sitting on the steps. Its breast was a beautiful brownish red. At about 4 o'clock, when it started to snow, the robin flew away.

The men of the families had to go to the cellar this morning, get the snow shovel and clear the sidewalks.

Frank McWilliams of Volant told Pa Newc the others day that the stretch of unimproved road between Volant and the road from East Brook is in bad condition. But then, he added, at this time of year most all unpaved roads are in bad condition.

March continued its reputation for disagreeable weather last evening. A few minutes before 8 o'clock the sky was clear and the stars were shining. Shortly after that it started to lightning in the distance, although no thunder was heard. Then a blinding snow storm followed.

Pa Newc heard a flock of robins warbling last evening on his way home, but was unable to hear a sound this morning. Perhaps they are as much "regusted" with the weather as we are.

two deputies, one of whom, Lee Wright died. He had charge of the pair in the Phoenix jail and while they were there it is alleged that Irene and Daguer made confessions to the sheriff and Irene's to the two cell mates named above. Hans Kuhr was a member of the posse.

Charles Evans, of Benwood, W. Va., who was a school mate of Tom Crawford, and who knows Irene Schroeder also arrived Tuesday night and will be a witness in the case.

Advised that there was nothing known by the operator, he asked for a telephone in the direction of the fire. He was given the William Kirkwood residence on the New Galilee road and got Mr. and Mrs. Ray McBride, who reside there to the phone, telling them what he saw.

They could see the blaze and started in their car for the scene, arriving there shortly after midnight. The home was in ruins then. They found Mr. Cameron standing nearby. The other members of the household were in a car near the barn, all in their night clothing. Employees of the Crescent Portland Cement company arrived with extinguishers but could do nothing.

The house destroyed was the property of the Crescent Portland Cement company. It was formerly occupied by R. R. McGeorge and family for many years. It is but a short distance from the former summer home of D. M. Kirk. It would cost approximately $20,000 to reproduce. The Camerons lost all their household effects and clothing.

Two children today were reported to the municipal health bureau as having measles. They are Marjorie Gordon, 320 East Lincoln avenue, 5 years of age, and Robert Sheehy, 802 Harrison street, 5 years old.

ment should go to a Democrat to relieve the top-heavy Republicanism of the bench. And above and beyond these conflicting claims is the demand voiced in the Senate by opponents of the Hughes appointment that the new justice be "a liberal." The impression prevails that President Hoover will turn either to the Federal Circuit courts or the Federal District courts for the successor to Justice Sanford. This field furnishes plenty of candidates. There is Judge John J. Parker of North Carolina; Judge Curtis D. Wilbur of California, secretary of the navy in the Coolidge administration; Judge Wm. S. Kenyon, of Iowa, now a member of the Wickersham law enforcement commission; Judge Xenophon Hicks of Tennessee, now on the Circuit Court of Appeals; Judge Paul McCormick of California.

Baker Mentioned
Almost every member of the federal judiciary might without exaggeration be said to be a candidate in the sense that he has more or less support from one source or another. Newton D. Baker, of Ohio, secretary of war in Wilson cabinet, and an outstanding "liberal," is considered a possibility. In the same breath is mentioned John W. Davis, Democratic presidential nominee in 1924.

No appointment is considered likely for several weeks. Some of the opposition to the Hughes appointment was engendered by the fact President Hoover had it without consultation with any of his advisers, and there is a considerable section of Mr. Hoover's own party that does not believe appointments of such importance should be made that way. Consequently, it is expected that Mr. Hoover will stop, look and listen before making his second nomination to the supreme bench.

pum-New Galilee road, southwest of here. A large force of employees of the Crescent Portland Cement plant has been searching the ruins for her body since early this morning. Explosion of an oil stove in the kitchen of the home is believed to have been responsible for the fire, which totally destroyed the home and its contents.

Other members of the household escaped in their night clothing, covered by a porch roof. The fire was discovered by Mrs. Cameron after the members of the household had gone to bed. She awakened her husband, presumably a short time after eleven o'clock. The smoke was beginning to come into the upstairs apartments of the home at that time. They started downstairs to investigate. Mr. Cameron telling his wife to follow him, and get out of the building.

Finding things in such shape as to indicate the house was doomed and all regular exits about to be shut off by the flames and under the impression that his wife had followed him and had made her way to safety, he rushed back upstairs and awakened his father, his daughter, Jean, aged 14, and his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Velma Cameron and her little son, Jimmy.

He busied himself in effecting their escape all the time believing that Mrs. Cameron had escaped. The downstairs means of exit shut off, he managed to get the other members of the household outside in safety in their night clothing over a porch roof.

With the others outside and safe, his thought turned again to his wife and she not being in the vicinity, he sought to re-enter the burning building again but found the flames so intense that he could not get in far enough to determine whether she was in there or not. He did not turn back from his efforts until he had sustained a terrible burned hand.

The entire building, a nine roomed brick structure, was a mass of ruins about 12:30 o'clock this morning and the walls were starting to fall in. The ruins made such a terrific heat that it was not until after daylight this morning, that much headway could be made in the effort to locate the body of Mrs. Cameron, believed to be in the ruins of the place.

According to Mr. Cameron, the only possible cause of the fire as far as he can determine was an oil stove in the kitchen, which must have been left lighted. It is believed that an explosion, it was only used as an auxiliary in the heating and cooking purposes of the home.

First intimation of the fire was about 11:30 o'clock last night, when Verd Douthitt of Upper Chewton saw flames and smoke to the southwest of Wampum. He called the telephone operator at Wampum and asked if there was a fire.

Advised that there was nothing known by the operator, he asked for a telephone in the direction of the fire. He was given the William Kirkwood residence on the New Galilee road and got Mr. and Mrs. Ray McBride, who reside there to the phone, telling them what he saw.

They could see the blaze and started in their car for the scene, arriving there shortly after midnight. The home was in ruins then. They found Mr. Cameron standing nearby. The other members of the household were in a car near the barn, all in their night clothing. Employees of the Crescent Portland Cement company arrived with extinguishers but could do nothing.

The house destroyed was the property of the Crescent Portland Cement company. It was formerly occupied by R. R. McGeorge and family for many years. It is but a short distance from the former summer home of D. M. Kirk. It would cost approximately $20,000 to reproduce. The Camerons lost all their household effects and clothing.

Two children today were reported to the municipal health bureau as having measles. They are Marjorie Gordon, 320 East Lincoln avenue, 5 years of age, and Robert Sheehy, 802 Harrison street, 5 years old.

STAR LORE

By Arthur Dev. Carpenter

With the exception of two stars in the big dipper of Ursa Major, the rest—five—are flying in union, i. e., they are real neighbors showing they are actually related to one another. Their proper motions (change of positions on the celestial sphere) are equal and parallel. The same is true of many of the stars in the constellation Scorpion. But Corona Borealis is made up of stars unrelated, for each of its stars has a velocity and a direction of motion of its own. After a long period of time, Corona Borealis will have entirely lost its crowlike form.

Bible Conference At Alliance Tabernacle

Rev. H. Miller Herr Of Butler, Pa., Begins Three Day Services Tuesday

The three week Three-Day-A-Week Bible conference got under way today at the Pearson street Gospel Tabernacle. Rev. H. Miller Herr, pastor of the Butler branch, also a teacher of the Whiteside Memorial Bible school is the speaker.

There are afternoon and evening sessions. At the afternoon sessions the Book of Ephesians is being studied. Yesterday afternoon Rev. Herr brought forth a mine of helpful spiritual truths. His message was rather pertinent to those that will follow, showing a general view and outline of the book. This, he said, is the middle book of the first group of seven books written by Paul. It sets forth the summit of Christian experience.

The evening services are held at 7:30. The pastor, Rev. E. C. Anderson, was in charge of the song service. Rev. Scripture of the Hoover Heights Tabernacle led in prayer.

a dozen states were read before the speakers took the floor. Among them were messages from Mrs. Henry Ford, wife of the auto magnate; Mrs. Thomas A. Edison, wife of the inventor; Mrs. Vic Donahey, wife of the former Ohio governor, and Mrs. James Lees Laidlaw of the New York committee for law enforcement.

"I am heartily in favor of the 18th Amendment without modification," said Mrs. Ford. "It is a law of the United States and should be observed by all of us. In my opinion it has been of untold benefit to the women as well as the men of our country in improved living conditions and a more prosperous nation."

The women claimed that the economic benefit of prohibition to the nation alone justifies the law. They asserted crime has decreased, drunkenness has lessened in colleges as well as generally; that the nation's health has improved, that more food is consumed and there are better homes.

Irene's Sisters At Court Trial

Come From Wheeling, W. Va., This Afternoon To Attend Remainder Of Trial

Relatives of Mrs. Irene Schroeder reached the Lawrence county court room this afternoon, when actual taking of evidence in the trial of the blonde was started.

Three sisters of Irene, Mrs. F. H. Muldoon, Mrs. Mamie Baum and Mrs. Ruby Schroeder, all of Wheeling, W. Va., and Mr. Muldoon have arrived and will remain in the court during the continuance of the trial.

Their presence in the court room no doubt will act as a stimulus to Irene during the long ordeal that she is now facing.

Policeman Sitting In Booth In Restaurant Heldup Along With Diners

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, March 12.—"Now if you'll kindly give me your gun, please—"

Patrolman Frank Waite, sitting in a booth today in the Regal restaurant here, looked up to find himself dressed with a gun by a neatly dressed youth.

He turned over his gun. Another youth entered, covered the diners and the first intruder relieved Steve Doscalos, proprietor, of $30, rifled the cash register of $15, and the two departed.

They carried Waite's police gun with them.

Changing Lights In Local Streets

System Will Have Been Revamped By Next Wednesday

Louis Round, district superintendent, Penn.-Ohio Power company believes that the street light system will have been practically revamped by Wednesday of next week, after which the Commission Clayton Reeves and he will inspect the system and if further changes are desired they will be made.

Round said that while not all changes as yet have been made the big improvement has already been noticeable.

"Should persons see lights out at night they will be doing their duty by calling the P-O company" said Round.

"We want to have every light burn every night and any 'outrage' should be immediately reported."

The circle will meet March 25 with Mrs. W. H. Schoenfeld of Huron ave.

AClearComplexion

Ruddy cheeks—sparkling eyes—most women can have. Dr. F. M. Edwards for 20 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave his patients a substitute for calomel made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients, naming them Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. Know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, causing a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, take one of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets—now and then to keep fit. 15c, 30c and 60c.

DELPHIANS DISCUSS HEBREW LITERATURE

Mrs. C. G. Farr was in charge of the program when the Castle chapter of the Delphian society met in the parlors of The Castleton Tuesday afternoon.

The Quest of Beauty through Holiness was the general topic for discussion. Mrs. Farr very ably explained "The Varied Character of Hebrew Literature" and Mrs. Anna Wagner described "Wisdom Literature" which included the books of Proverbs and Ecclesiastes. The book of Job, known as "Dramatized Wisdom" was explained by Mrs. T. J. McFate.

The stories of Ruth and Esther were told by Mrs. W. L. Campbell; these books of the Bible are known as the "Stories of Social Life of the Old Testament". Mrs. T. M. Shaffer gave an interesting talk on the "Message of the Prophets".

Hebrew literature has preserved one of the oldest songs which is called "The Song of Solomon". Mrs. D. T. McConahey, president, gave a brief summary, covering the important part of each subject.

A copy of the King James version of the Bible, printed in 1611, was exhibited by Mrs. Charles Metzler. Mrs. Alvin Shumaker, read portions from this to show the translation used in the sixteenth century.

Mrs. Carl Wilson gave the critics report at the close of the meeting. March 25 will mark the date of the next meeting, to be held in the Castleton hotel, with Mrs. S. M. Matheny in charge of the program.

PREPARATION FOR SEVERAL CENSUSES

BESIDES the regular count of population this year, several lateral censuses are under way. Sample questionnaires are in the mails for agriculture. Farmers who operate more than three acres will receive a schedule. Like specimen ballots, these are only for instruction purposes, enabling the recipient to assemble his data for the official report to be made on April 2.

Simultaneously work has been started for a complete "census of distribution." Each merchant will be asked to answer orally about 200 questions on classification of business, character of ownership, volume of sales, etc. Three years ago a partial census of distribution was made from investigations in seventeen principal cities. But the present effort is the first attempt ever made in America on a nation-wide scale.

While rural and urban life are each subject to this special form of scrutiny, along with the decennial enumeration of the people, other surveys to be made include manufacturing, mining, drainage and irrigation. The methods to be pursued in the tabulations will vary widely, as may be seen from the nature of the respective studies. But assurance is given to all that the information will be strictly confidential and will also be protected against possible use for taxation assessments.

As individuals many Americans resent being documented; in the past they have not employed bookkeeping practices for personal expenses. The change came gradually when income tax requirements forced us more or less into the habit of preserving certain memoranda. On the whole the effect has been salutary. Small business enterprises in particular have learned something of profit from the enforced analysis of their systems.

Now the process grows comprehensive. The diary of our private life expands into a card catalogue dealing intimately with daily affairs, and statistical schemata show graphically whether we are increasing in wisdom and stature. The Domesday Book of 1930 will be a cyclopaedia.

SKYSCRAPERS UNDER ATTACK

Of late the tall building—now not uncommon in the smaller cities—has come in for no little discussion, both favorable and unfavorable. Some condemn it and others give it a clean bill of health. There is pretty general agreement, however, that even the skyscraper is here to stay.

In a measure high buildings assist the processes of city-making. Economists may insist that man is not a gregarious animal by nature, but they must admit that he has become one by necessity. Human beings like to draw together, and find profit in doing some kinds of work in close proximity. Skyscrapers help them by bringing together under one roof, or in one block, all sorts of conveniences and interrelated business that never could have been brought together so well or administered so cheaply on the basis of vast lateral expansion.

Evils have followed in the wake of the many-storied building. At first the public was concerned simply with preventing it from shutting light out of streets and windows. It is only within recent years that outspoken critics have centered their attack on the skyscraper as a cause of traffic and transportation congestion.

Real estate men often assert that high buildings are necessary because the land they are built upon costs so much. With building heights restricted the price of land would not rise above the figure upon which low buildings could pay ground rents. It is the skyscraper's tremendous earning capacity that fixes the value of the land upon which it stands.

Communities in which the skyscraper evil has not been felt are prudent and justified in taking preventive measures in the form of building restrictions.

HERE'S TOWNLEY AGAIN

Re-entry of Arthur G. Townley into politics in opposition to the candidate and principles of the Nonpartisan League is a case of father turning against his child.

The Nonpartisan League, a political organization of farmers, was designed to combat exploitation by grain speculators, bankers and other "enemies" of the farmer. It was founded by Mr. Townley at Bismarck, N. D., in February, 1915, after the North Dakota legislature had ignored demands of the Equity Society, a farm organization.

Taking advantage of agrarian discontent and applying high-pressure salesmanship, the league welded the farmers into a compact political group, captured control of the Republican party in North Dakota and elected its candidates for state officers and congress. At the height of its power the league had branches in 12 Western and Middle Western states and was politically powerful in several of them. In North Dakota it succeeded in creating state-owned banks, mills and grain elevators and establishing state insurance against hail, fire and tornadoes. Its economic program always bordered on the socialist.

After the war the league gradually dissolved, many of its members transferring their allegiance to the Farmer-Labor party in order to effect a coalition between the farmers and wage earners. Former Senator Robert La Follette used that combination in his attempts to get into the white house.

This brief history of the Nonpartisan League explains the desertion of Mr. Townley. He is seeking the Republican nomination for congress on a "wet" and "regular" platform in a district that voted "wet" in the state referendum two years ago and has been losing faith in the old socialist nostrums.

Cheap

A live-wire salesman rushed up to the home of a doctor in a small village about 3 a. m. and asked him to come at once to a distant town.

The doctor cranked his flivver and they drove furiously to their destination.

Upon their arrival the salesman asked, "How much is your fee, doctor?"

"Three dollars," said the physician, in surprise.

"Here you are," said the salesman, handing over the money; "the blamed garage keeper wanted $15 to drive me over when I missed my train."

"Every sweet has its sour; every evil its good."

Emerson said it; British Tories believe it. The attack on religion in Russia has created intense feeling in Britain. If Premier MacDonald's Labor government refuses to break off relations with Russia, it will probably be driven from power.

Men and nations, with their radios, movies and other interesting things, may seem to lose interest in religion. But such an attack as Russia makes on established beliefs shows that religion retains its hold on the human race.

Dr. Dittmars, who studies animals from elephant and whale to ant and microbe, will broadcast, by greatly magnifying sound, noises made by ants in their colonies, working, celebrating, etc.

Strange is insect life. Among katydids there are 20 males for every female. This will interest women, for the katydid is one of the noisiest of insects. The males make all that racket.

"Ants," says Dr. Dittmars, "sometimes make fools of themselves." Tiny mites and blind, little, defenseless beetles pat the ants with their feet, and then the ants pat them.

Not so different from human beings that have money. Sycophants flatter them, "Pat them" with compliments, then they feed the sycophants, and sometimes let them marry their daughters.

Chicago police hold seven men and one lady, accused of conspiring to kidnap citizens, torturing them to extort money.

Theodore Koppelman, head of an insurance company, identified the kidnapers. The lady, his former wife, had "tipped" the kidnapers that if they got him, "he would be easy."

He obeyed orders, and paid when threatened with red hot irons.

Police investigators attribute six other "torture-kidnaping" cases to the same gang, and the prosecuting attorney says he will have them all sent to the electric chair. Death is the punishment for kidnaping in Illinois.

That seems a little severe, and capital punishment is barbarous.

From Devil's Lake, North Dakota, comes the sad story of Sioux Indians that drank anti-freeze mixture for the sake of its alcohol.

It was the wrong kind. Jerome Onehouse, Mike Goodhouse, and two other Indians are dead, three more expected to die. They drank "anti-freeze" at a dance, which adds a touch of sadness.

Capt. Rickenbacker talks about flying, with authority. In the war he flew after many German planes, and they did no more flying after that.

General Motors, most intelligently, has secured the cooperation of Capt. Rickenbacker in its flying enterprises.

He says that, within 10 years, there will be regular air travel, from the Atlantic to the Pacific in 10 hours, slow rail service will be as much out of date as the stage coach is now.

And that is no exaggeration. The motto of 1940 will be: "Get there in a hurry by air, or see every foot of the way at your leisure, by motors."

Flying offers a new field and a wide sky to courageous young women.

Elmer Smith, a small young woman, with a big heart, went up in her monoplane. There, at 30,000 feet, fainting at that altitude, she fell with her plane several thousand feet. Then she came to, and landed safely, having set a new record. She went one mile higher than any woman had ever flown.

Somebody took Mrs. A. K. W. Gibbons' husband. She asked for $1,000,000 damages; the jury gave her $500,000.

Our prosperity problem would be solved if a million other wives could do as well. And many of them could congratulate themselves on making an excellent bargain.

Few second-hand husbands are worth $500,000.

A green grasshopper, lively enough to be on the jump has been sighted up in New York state. SAVING BEAUTY

The state of Washington does well with its organization for saving wild flowers and planting trees. The idea is to preserve the natural beauty of the state and increase the number of flowers and trees that grow along the highways. Not to do what we can to preserve the natural beauty around us is to be guilty of the most indefensible stupidity. Man cannot develop into somebody better than he is without contact with beauty. Without beauty, civilization is not real. It is only a system of getting things done.

"President Hoover has again indicated his conviction," in the judgment of the PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN, "that familiarity with business on a large scale is an excellent qualification for diplomatic service."

The Hoover view that economic factors, rightly utilized, are potent for comity and the preservation of peace, and those called on to manage international public business are assisted by their familiarity with the processes of private business, itself in these days inevitably driven by its growth into the international field.

Poland is a country whose problems are largely economic. To the solution of these problems Americans have largely contributed. The economic adviser, Charles S. Dewey, who served in the American Treasury under Mr. Mellon, has written a book, "The Hoover View of the World," in which he has taken up the task of aiding the country's industrial development. American capital is being increasingly invested there and there is every prospect that the old historic ties between the two countries, extending from the Revolutionary period and enduring through the time when partitioned Poland lay under a three-fold foreign tyranny, will be heightened in the future by the mutually advantageous relations developing in the economic field.

"Those who believe that the life cycle of man is fixed by nature or by any other power must explain these inconsistencies," Dr. Fisk says. "If it is fixed, it is shrinking in this country. If it is fixed, why is it extending in other countries?"

"What is there in American civilization that is sapping the vitality of those in later life? We can think of nothing except the great outstanding factor of stupendous industrial expansion and development. Is this shortened life cycle the price we must pay for our prosperity?"

REAL EXPERTS

Although the immediate outcome of disarmament conference or the immediate results of the sessions of the League of Nations may not be apparently important, the general tendency to employ experts in government problems rather than rely on the elected representatives of the people is a good sign. No government conference of great importance in Washington, as well as no international parley, is held without reference to experts rather than merely to politicians. The fact is that the politician is coming to be of less importance in this country and the man who "knows his stuff" is coming to be of vastly more. The tariff, which nobody knows about and which is an exceedingly dangerous and delicate instrument, should never be knocked about in the hands of men who are first of all politicians. It's a business for experts.

Generosity Returned. Give and it shall be given unto you; good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over shall men give into your bosom. For with the same measure that ye mete withal it shall be measured to you again.—Luke 6:38.

Synopsis of Editorial Views By Newspapers of Nation on Important Subjects as Edited by Consolidated Press Association

Choice Of Willys As Envoy Typical Of New Diplomacy

Business Man In Diplomacy Believed By Public To Reflect President's Attitude Toward World Problems Governed By Economic Demand

Selection of John N. Willys as ambassador to Poland is discussed by the public with the conclusion that it is in line with the policy of President Hoover, in looking to business men for the solution of problems such as might come before an envoy to a foreign country. It is assumed by newspapers which comment on the appointment that the President views the world complications as largely economic.

"His is the kind of ability that will be a bargain for the government at the salary which is attached to the office," declares the CLEVELAND NEWS of Mr. Willys, and in support of the appointee's fitness, that paper says, "President Hoover, choosing him for such an important post, probably was actuated by a belief in his capacity to represent his country in an office in which there is a chance to bring the business interests of the two countries closer together. And when that happens, closer friendship follows inevitably. In the school of diplomacy, there was contempt for anything saving of business or of trade. But times have changed in a world absorbed in business. Ohioans, who have watched the career of Mr. Willys from the time he was pioneering with 'horseless carriages' until he built up a great automobile business, are not doubtful of the kind of ambassador he will be."

"Ample wealth, extensive travel, long association with important industry and men of affairs, innate loyalty and a passion for constructive work," according to the ELMIRA STAR-GAZETTE, "combine to make Mr. Willys well qualified for the high position he will occupy when Senatorial approval is given. . . . Those who know Mr. Willys are assured that he will discharge the duties creditably to himself and to his country."

The CHATTANOOGA NEWS suggests that "perhaps he can inject new energy into our diplomatic representatives in Europe," and that paper adds that "Poland has been making strides," that "in 1928 the adverse trade balance for the country was $95,800,000, in 1929 it was reduced to $33,000,000, largely through stimulation of exports."

"President Hoover has again indicated his conviction," in the judgment of the PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN, "that familiarity with business on a large scale is an excellent qualification for diplomatic service."

continuing that custom. Experience in the field of big business appears to have been helpful in the development of those qualities necessary in handling important diplomatic affairs and building up confidence and good feeling."

Pointing to the "new American styles in diplomats," the ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH states: "The world's problems in these times of post-war reconstruction are largely in the involved fields of finance and economics. Our foreign trade, reparations, tariffs, all bring new complexities in their wake. Business men are the logical interpreters of America to the world in these fields. That they may also prove themselves first-rate diplomats in the upbuilding of international good will is proved by the record of Dwight Morrow in Mexico. The world of business is a diplomatic field in itself which fits its leaders to deal capably with international affairs. Valuable as is the training of the 'career man,' commerce and industry also can teach important lessons to the potential diplomat."

"The tragedy of popular government lies in the fact that seldom if ever do a majority of the registered voters decide any question; rarely do a majority elect any man to an office within the gift of the people. Usually it is a pitiful minority who decide public questions at the polls. When the citizens of this nation decide to use their voting privilege en-masse and when able, intelligent and successful men are willing to accept public office, then it will be possible to get somewhere in a businesslike manner in the Legislative, Judicial and Executive Departments of the Nation."

An excellent example of the absurd conditions existing in the City of Los Angeles, the City Council of Los Angeles is no better and no worse than the Legislative Bodies all over the United States, but the visitor to Los Angeles might be led by the Los Angeles Times to think that its City Fathers were more like its City children than "grave and revered seniors." This is what that paper says about some recent actions taken by the City Council.

"The cynical observations of the City Hall's cynical observers expressed some days ago when the City Council voted away from itself the police chauffeurs and automobiles which constitute the aldermanic transportation system, were justified yesterday when the city fathers voted their cars and drivers back to themselves again."

The action was taken on motion of Councilman McAllister to rescind all former measures. He was joined by ten colleagues, Barthel, Henning, Holland, Ingram, Jacobson, Lewis, Martin, Webster, Williams and President Sanborn. Councilmen Burns, Cooke and Randall opposed McAllister's motion. Davis was absent. The result is that the Council has its seven free-ride cars, six policemen and an investigator to drive them.

Cooke expressed disgust for the situation by suggesting that two days of the week be set aside as "reconsideration days." Williams voiced the opinion that the Council is incapable of settling so weighty a problem as that of transportation and suggested a committee. Martin pleaded with the "fellows" not to make fools of themselves and Webster advised him this couldn't be done.

Randall termed the performance a "monkey show" and proposed the collection of an entrance fee, so the City might gain some little revenue from the representatives of "The People."

BEAUTY

"She is a beautiful woman," they said, And I turned my head To look at the lady fair, But I thought as I watched her there, What is it, they seem to see That is strangely denied to me?

I look at that smiling face And find it but commonplace, They think her lovely, but I, Indifferent, would pass her by.

They praise what I coldly condemn Does the fault lie with me or with them?

But perhaps after all both are right, Each sees with his own sense of sight, And what may be beauty to me To others may ugliness be. Thus each with his own content Which is possibly just what God meant. (Copyright 1930, Edgar A. Guest)

One Juror Withdrawn From Schroeder Case On Tuesday Evening

Been Made Some Weeks
Ago, Cause

SPECIAL PANEL OF
JURORS IS CALLED

Only Nine In Jury Box When Court Adjourned Tuesday Night

Following a private hearing which lasted nearly an hour Tuesday evening, E. C. Porter, a contractor of Wayne township, who was juror number four in the case against Irene Schroeder now on trial in the Lawrence County court house, was removed from the jury. The hearing or examination, took place at the opening of the evening session.

Briefly the facts surrounding the removal of Mr. Porter are these. Attorney Charles J. Margiotti, special counsel for the state in the case, learned from Attorney Joseph Humphrey of Ellwood City that Mr. Porter had made statements, which if true would disqualify him for service on the Schroeder jury. He was alleged to have said in a Bible class of the Presbyterian church of Ellwood City, that he thought Irene Schroeder was just a girl who ought to be given another chance, and that he would not vote to convict her of first degree murder.

Call Witnesses
In support of the allegations, E. C. George was called, and Mrs. J. A. Evans, both of Ellwood City. They testified to their recollections of Mr. Porter's statements, and Mr. Porter was himself called.

After some questioning by Mr. Margiotti, Mr. Porter said that he "might have made such statements". The commonwealth then moved that he be excused from further services in the case, to which the defense objected on the grounds that no law could be cited covering such a condition. Judge Hildebrand ordered the removal of Mr. Porter and allowed the defense 5 additional peremptory challenges. They had already exhausted 19 of the 20 allotted to them. The additional five made it possible for them to get rid of jurymen they did not want, but who could not be disqualified for cause.

As he left the court house Mr. Porter said, "there has been a misunderstanding in this affair. I did comment upon the case in the class, but I did not say I was against capital punishment. I was against it five years ago but changed my mind. I said that there were many girls who were led astray by men these days and that the girls were cast out of society. Had I been retained, I would have expected them to do just what Irene Schroeder is doing, a fair, impartial trial, according to the law and evidence."

District Attorney John S. Powers and Attorney Charles J. Margiotti deplored the incident but said that under the circumstances there was nothing for them to do but ask for the removal of Mr. Porter. Defense Attorneys Thomas W. Dickey, Kedgwin Powell and Benjamin Jarrett were satisfied with the court's ruling.

No Mistrial
No mistrial can be claimed as the result of the removal of Mr. Porter, nor can this be taken as grounds for an appeal, should the verdict go against the defendant. While each juror is sworn upon his voir dire, the life of the defendant is not in jeopardy until the jury of twelve has been sworn as a whole.

At 10:15 Tuesday evening the second panel of jurors was exhausted, with but nine jurors in the box. Two were selected in the evening session but one of them, Clement Gardner, took the place of Mr. Porter. Theodore Warnock, a mechanic of Scott township was the ninth juror selected. Two were selected by Powell as to whether the juror understood that a defendant was innocent until the commonwealth proved him guilty. The court sustained the objection of the commonwealth on the grounds that the question could easily lead to many more such questions. The defense passed the juror. He had no scruples against capital punishment. The commonwealth challenged peremptorily.

G. W. Bell, a laborer of the second ward, had no scruples against capital punishment. He was excused. W. S. Nickelson, a railroad worker of the second ward, was called and excused for cause.

Should Start Today
Taking of testimony should start sometime today, probably shortly after the opening of the afternoon session. The prophecy that this would be a long trial seems in a fair way to be fulfilled. Witnesses are arriving from other cities, and the total of commonwealth witnesses to be called will approximate 85 or 90. If they are all called, and it is probable that they will be, the commonwealth will not complete its case before adjournment on Saturday afternoon, and this appears doubtful. The defense has some forty witnesses subpoenaed and they will probably take up four or five days. The examination of Irene Schroeder is expected to take up the major portion of a day, for her story will probably be an account of her activities from the robbery of the P. H. Butler store in Butler, Pa., which she is alleged to have committed with W. Glenn Dague and a third man, thought to be her brother Tom, until she arrived in New Castle after being captured by a posse in Arizona.

The case will probably make history in criminal courts of Lawrence county. Never has there been such wide spread interest in a case being tried here, never has there been such an array of newspaper men and women covering a case in New Castle, and from the indications, never has a criminal case cost the county of Lawrence such a stupendous sum of money as this one will cost before it is finished. After that, there is the same thing to go over for W. Glenn Dague.

The jurors examined on Tuesday afternoon and evening follow:
Tuesday Afternoon
Daniel H. McQuiston, a manufacturer of New Wilmington, was the first juror called in the afternoon session.

He had read of the case but had formed no opinion as to guilt or innocence. Mr. McQuiston qualified but Irene shook her head and he was challenged peremptorily.
Jennie Sankey, a housekeeper of Shenango township was called, had scruples against capital punishment. She was challenged for cause and excused.

Samuel P. Long, a carpenter of the 2nd ward was called. He had formed an opinion but could lay it aside. The defense passed him. Had scruples against capital punishment. Challenged for cause and excused.

Robert Cochran, a laborer of South New Castle Boro, had read of case and had formed an opinion, but could lay it aside. Had scruples against capital punishment and was excused.

This name exhausted the panel and the jurors in the panel in court room number two were taken.

Gertrude Kyle had an opinion which was fixed and was excused. Daniel Kennedy, a clerk of the 2nd ward was called and also had a fixed opinion. He was challenged and excused.

Blanche Bright, a housekeeper of the 8th ward was called. She had read of the case and had an opinion which would interfere with her verdict. Challenged for cause and sustained.

Carrie E. Heitzman, a housekeeper of the 2nd ward was called. Had read of the case but had no definite opinion. Had no scruples against capital punishment. Powers attempted to bring out some statements made in Court Room No. 2 to which the defense objected. Objection overruled. The question was whether or not she would find all defendants equally guilty when one fired the shot. Commonwealth challenged peremptorily.

Harvey Spiker, a plasterer of Shenango township, was opposed to capital punishment and was excused. Seventh Juror.

Charles R. Hill, a laborer of Shenango township, was called and said he had read of the case and had no fixed opinion. The commonwealth passed the juror. The defense accepted him as juror at 2:47 p. m. Albert Cole, a laborer of Union township, was called. He had an opinion in the case but could lay that opinion aside. An argument ensued over a question asked by Powell as to whether the juror understood that a defendant was innocent until the commonwealth proved him guilty. The court sustained the objection of the commonwealth on the grounds that the question could easily lead to many more such questions. The defense passed the juror. He had no scruples against capital punishment. The commonwealth challenged peremptorily.

G. W. Bell, a laborer of the second ward, had no scruples against capital punishment. He was excused. W. S. Nickelson, a railroad worker of the second ward, was called and excused for cause.

Betty McKee, a housekeeper of Hickory township, was excused. Harriet Swogger, a housekeeper of North Beaver township, was excused because of poor hearing.

John Sickafuse, a farmer of Shenango township, was called and said that he was a field agent for the department of agriculture. He had an opinion in the case but could lay it aside he thought. Powell attempted to have him excused because he was a state employee, which was objected to and sustained. The matter of his opinion was gone into. He was excused.

Alfred Marsh, a laborer of the 6th ward was called. He had read of the case but had formed no opinion. The commonwealth passed him. The defense challenged peremptorily.

James Peckles, a farmer of Scott township was called. He read of the case and had discussed it. Had a general opinion. He was challenged peremptorily by the defense.

Robert E. Bowman, a tinworker of the 2nd ward was called. He read of the case and had an opinion and said he was sure whether or not it would bias his judgment. Challenged for cause but objected to by the commonwealth.

Joseph Veon, a laborer of Big Beaver township was called. He was excused because of defective hearing.

William Smith, a farmer of Slippery Rock township was called. He was against capital punishment and was excused.

John Copper, Jr., a farmer of Slippery Rock township was called. Had read of case and had some opinion but thought he could lay it aside. He was excused.

L. Judson Rodgers, a farmer of Plain Grove township qualified and accepted as juror number eight at 4:40.

Bertha Lozier, a housekeeper of Bessemer was called and said she had no opinion and was not opposed to capital punishment. Challenged peremptorily by the commonwealth.

Harry Kelley, a laborer of Hickory township had scruples against capital punishment and was excused.

John A. King, a minister of Ellwood City was called. He had read of the case and had discussed it somewhat. He had an opinion but could lay it aside in the jury box. The defense challenged peremptorily. Court adjourned until seven o'clock.

Evening Session.
Mrs. Maude Parker, a housekeeper of Wayne township, was passed by the commonwealth but was challenged peremptorily by the defense.

William R. Hunter, a teacher of Ellwood City, was called and said that he had read of the case and had discussed it. He had no fixed opinion. The defense challenged peremptorily.

Clement Gardner, a tinworker of the fifth ward, qualified and replaced E. C. Porter as juror No. 4.

Charles Tanner, a tinworker of Newshamock township, had read of the case and discussed it. Had no scruples against capital punishment. The commonwealth passed him. The defense asked him if his opinion could be changed and he said it could. He was challenged peremptorily.

Allen C. Noggle, a farmer of Big Beaver township, was called. He had read the case and discussed it. The defense passed him. Said he could not convict a person who did not fire the shot even though if it was an accomplice. Challenged for cause and excused.

Frank Hogue, a carpenter of Shenango township was called. Had no scruples against capital punishment. Sex of defendant would make no difference. Could not find a defendant guilty if another person fired the shot. Excused for cause.

Theodore Warnock, a mechanic of Scott township, was called. He qualified for both sides and was accepted as juror No. 9 at 9:35.

George Ryan, a clerk of the sixth ward, was called and said that he could not convict a person of first degree murder if an accomplice fired the shot. He was excused.

Dora Cover, a housekeeper of Ellwood City, was called. She had an opinion which she felt could not be changed. She was excused.

Guy McCowan, a stationary engineer of Big Beaver township, was called. He had an opinion formed and felt it might interfere with his verdict. Challenged for cause and sustained.

Lloyd Wimer, a pressman for the New Castle News, was called. He had read of the case and had discussed it. He said he was acquainted with one member of the state police. He had an opinion which he felt was too strong to be laid aside. Challenged for cause and sustained.

Walter L. Ashton, an inspector residing in the fifth ward. Had no fixed opinion and was not opposed to capital punishment. Would not convict if an accomplice fired the shot. Challenged for cause and excused.

George Martin, a farmer of Washington township, was called. Had an opinion which was not fixed. The defense passed the juror. No scruples against capital punishment. Could not convict if an accomplice fired the shot. Challenged for cause and excused.

Edward Slewin, a clerk of Ellwood City, was called. Had no scruples against capital punishment. No prejudice against officers. Passed by the commonwealth. County Detective Lee but said this acquaintance would not interfere with his judgment. Felt he would not be influenced by his opinion. Defense challenged peremptorily. This exhausted the panel at 10:17 p. m.

Bounty Payments
Decrease $33,589

HARRISBURG, March 12.—Final compilation of bounty claims for 1929 made in the offices of the Game Commission showed a total payment of $88,271, a decrease of $33,589 as compared to the previous year.

The decrease was caused largely by the smaller number of wildcats killed and the fact that the bounty on red foxes was removed on May 14. During the year claims were paid for 278 wildcats as compared with 416 in 1928. In 1929 bounty was paid on 6955 gray foxes, a decrease of 2025 over the previous year.

Weasel claims during 1929 made a new high record of 50,335 as compared with 34,870 in 1928.

Clinton Pupils
Make Good Score

HARRISBURG, March 12.—A report from Clinton County to the Department of Public Instruction indicates that during the past school year Superintendent Guy C. Brosius awarded certificates to 100 pupils who had been perfect in attendance for five years. During the past school year 703 pupils of the 4993 enrolled in districts under the supervision of the Clinton county superintendent were neither absent nor tardy, and 349 of these had maintained similar records during some preceding year or years.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

When Back Hurts Flush Your Kidneys As You Clean
Your Bowels

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, sometimes get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is intended to flush clogged kidneys and help stimulate them to activity. It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so they no longer irritate, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

Sage Foundation Honors Dr. Sandy

HARRISBURG, March 12.—Dr. William C. Sandy, director of the bureau of Mental Health, State Department of Welfare, is the author of an article on "Mental Illness," which will be included in the Social Work Year Book of the Russell Sage Foundation.

It has long been the custom of this foundation to include in its publications the work of outstanding men in their lines and Dr. Sandy who has a national reputation through his work in mental health was chosen to handle the subject in this year's publication.

9800 Receive Free Aid At Hospitals

HARRISBURG, March 12.—More than 9800 residents of Pennsylvania receive free or part free treatment in the State-aid hospitals throughout the Commonwealth during February, according to a report to Mrs. E. S. H. McCauley, State Secretary of Welfare today.

A total of 137,391 days of free or part free treatment were given by the fifty-five hospitals included in the report. The report indicates that more free cases were listed than in any previous month.

Invisible POWDER BASE Protects the Skin

.....and Lends Satin-Smoothness to Your Make-up

A vanishing cream that really vanishes—a cream that becomes invisible the instant you smooth it on your skin—that's Plough's Vanishing Cream, the dainty, protective powder base which lovely women everywhere are using with such gratifying results! The snowy lightness and purity of Plough's Vanishing Cream keeps it from becoming sticky or causing powder to cake or streak. Its invisible film of protection prevents the darkening, coarsening effects of dust and weather and makes face powder and rouge adhere for hours with natural beauty.

Today, before going out, smooth on a bit of Plough's Vanishing Cream, then apply Plough's Rouge and Face Powder. You will be so delighted with the refined texture of your skin that you will want to use this cream regularly. It comes in two sizes, attractively packaged and sensibly priced. 30c and 50c at all dealers.

Lutherans Observe Week Of Prayer

Evening In Bethany Lutheran Church

An evening of prayer in the Week of Prayer being observed by the Lutheran churches of the city, was held Tuesday evening in the Bethany Lutheran church by the missionary societies of the different Lutheran churches of the city.

Words of greeting were extended by Mrs. Oscar Woods, wife of the pastor at Bethany, and devotionals were presented by the young women of the church with Mrs. Francis Thomas leading. A service of confession was given by the Katherine Von Bora society of St. John's Lutheran church and a duet was charmingly rendered by Mrs. L. E. Kramer and Mrs. William Runkle. Virginia Woods gave a reading, "Enlarge My Heart" and a prayer period was conducted by the Katherine Von Bora Society.

Mrs. George Campbell read a letter from the general secretary of young women, Nina Diehl and Mary Risser also read a letter from the ex-secretary. Evelyn McMillan gave a reading "The Church".

Mrs. John Latham read a letter from the president of the W. M. S. of United Lutheran churches and a responsive exercise was given by the W. M. S. of St. John's Lutheran church with Mrs. John Rick leading. Emma Thompson gave the parable "The Prayer that was Answered", and a period of intercession for our foreign fields was led by Mrs. O. Woods, the women of the different societies joining in the responses.

A reading was given by Mrs. Warren McMillan and a call for consecration was offered by six women of Bethany church.

Rev. O. Woods made a brief address to the women and an offering was lifted, which is to be used for foreign mission debts.

Mrs. George Miles was in charge of the program arrangements for this meeting.

Much Power Is Developed In Pennsylvania

Ranks Second In Middle Atlantic
Section In Developed
Water Power

WASHINGTON, D. C. March 12.—Pennsylvania ranks second of the Middle Atlantic States and sixth of the forty-eight in the amount of developed water power in plants of 100 horsepower capacity or more, with 50 such plants having a total capacity of 290,596 horsepower, the department of the interior reports. The figures are as of January first of the present year.

Of the 50 water power plants in Pennsylvania of 100 horsepower or more, 49 are devoted to generating power for utilities and municipalities and seven produce electricity for manufacturing and miscellaneous purposes. The utility and municipal plants have a total capacity of 285,655 horsepower and the manufacturing and miscellaneous power centers report a combined capacity of 4,941 horsepower.

California leads the nation in the capacity of such power plants of 100 horsepower or more, with plants having a total capacity of 2,300,529 horsepower. New York comes second with plants reporting a combined capacity of 1,805,195 horsepower.

Way to Get At a Cold Is Through the Bowels

As soon as you catch cold, the pores close, perspiration is checked. Gases and waste can't escape through the skin. That's why your doctor's first advice in case of colds is a mild laxative like Cascarets. Medical authorities agree it actually strengthens bowel muscles. You get cascara in its most pleasant form in candy Cascarets.

Remember this when you catch cold; whenever breath is bad; tongue coated; or you're headachy, bilious, constipated.

Why resort to harsher things when Cascarets activate the bowels so quickly, so harmlessly and pleasantly—and cost only a dime?

Peter's Adventures

HOP-O-MY-THUMBS

Every insect in the crowd was interested in the story of the Frog Hopper baby and all of them strained their eyes to see the cunning youngster in his foam cradle. The Frog Hopper orator continued:

"Of course I know that you and your family make fun of me and my family, but I don't care. Laugh long and he happy, that's my motto and if you don't already know I'll tell you—there's a saying in bug land that runs: 'The bug that makes an insect chuckle is worth his breakfast. Now I and my fellow performers are going to do our stuff! Watch us!'

The speech ended in a somersault and that was a sign for a general mixup. The funny folk hopped, skipped and jumped—tumbled born every one of them. How the insect audience applauded. Suddenly Peter noticed that the crowd was not so great as it had been. The insects had thinned out. What could have happened? As always when he was in the company of the Meadow People, Peter expected danger threatened every time things were different. Quickly he looked about him and above him—saw nothing unusual.

"What is scaring the insects off Biffer?" Peter demanded. But Dragonfly answered.

"Nothing," said he. "Everything's quiet in the meadow, and no danger threatens by water. The circus is over, that is all, and the insects are going about this business. By the way, there's a lovely cool spot beneath a fern by the brookside, just the place for you to spend a quiet hour. Won't you come and be my guest, boy?"

"That I will," cried Peter.

Iron And Steel Trade Summary

Confusing Picture Of Steel
Market Is Presented
This Week

(International News Service.)
PITTSBURGH, March 12.—A confusing picture in the steel market, with business unevenly distributed geographically and demand for different finished products showing sharp contrasts will be noted by the Iron Age in its weekly summary of the iron and steel trade tomorrow.

Ingot production has declined from 78 to 75 per cent of capacity for the country as a whole but specifications show no further recession, while output at Chicago is holding at 95 per cent with the largest bookings in five weeks and that at Birmingham exceeding 90 per cent.

Steel makers with diversified production are faring better than those specializing in flat-rolled products. The outlook is for a continuation of the contrast between heavy and light products, according to the Iron Age, since one of the chief uncertainties confronting the industry is the flow of steel to producers of consumer goods.

Composite prices are unchanged, pig iron holding at $17.75 a gross ton and finished steel at 23 1/2c per pound.

MAD DOG BITES NINE CHILDREN

DAYTON, O., March 14.—Nine school children, all under 12, are recovering today from wounds inflicted by a dog in a school room here Monday afternoon.

Pupils in the first and second grades of Franklin school were attacked by a mad dog which entered a class room as they were busy with their studies and bit them and threatened several teachers before finally being trapped by a janitor.

Investigation showed the animal was suffering from rabies.

All children were given serum treatment for their injuries.

Sage Tea Turns Gray Hair Dark

By RUTH WAITE

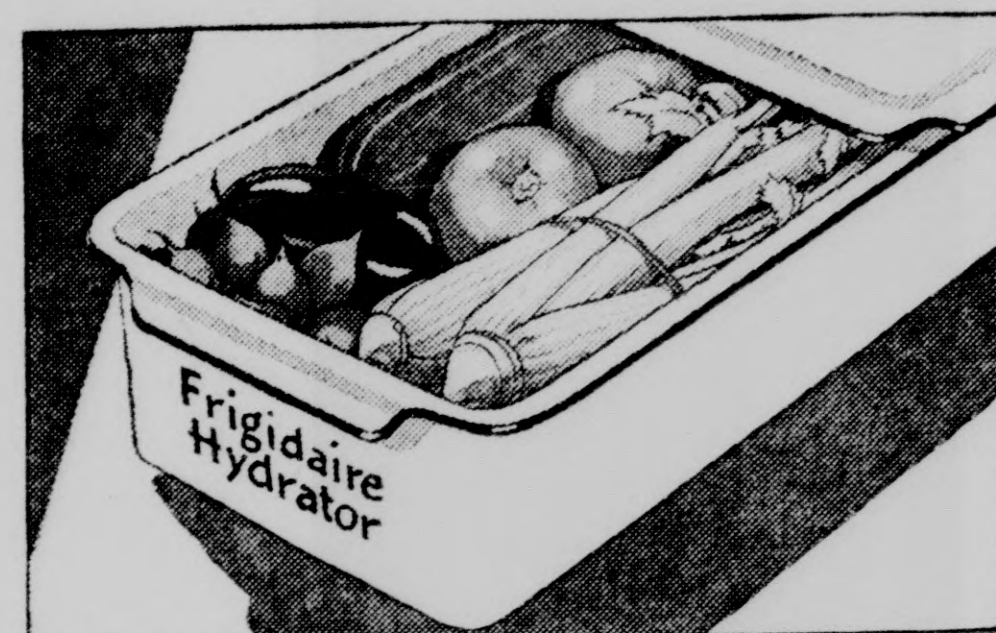

Every woman with gray, faded or streaked hair is entitled to do something about it, for it is every woman's birthright to retain her youthfulness and charm as long as she can. When a woman mentions gray hair to me, I don't hesitate to advise the use of a restorer and I recommend sage tea and sulphur.

A brew of common garden sage, when properly combined with sulphur, restores gray hair to its original color, lustre and beauty. So perfectly does it do the work that its use is undetectable. You may either prepare the mixture at home or buy it already prepared and ready to use. Wyeth's Sage & Sulphur is the name of the prepared article and it costs only 75c a bottle at druggists. Hence there's no need of your bothering to prepare the mixture yourself.

You simply moisten a comb or soft brush with it and draw it through your hair, one strand at a time. The very first application banishes the gray and one or two more sees the hair beautifully restored to its original life and color. One would be surprised if she or he knew of the thousands who use this preparation.

Thursday, March 13th, we start a special 9-day demonstration of the new Frigidaire HYDRATOR

Desserts and salads
will be served. New recipe books will be given away. Be sure to attend

HERE'S your opportunity to find out all about the marvelous new Frigidaire Hydrator.

On Thursday, March 13th, we start a special 9-day demonstration—one of the most interesting ever held in our showroom.

We will show the Hydrator in actual use—just as you would use it in your home. You will see how lettuce is made tender and brittle by the Hydrator's moist reviving cold. You will see how celery and radishes take on added crispness—how tomatoes are improved in texture and flavor.

And that is not all you will see. The latest household cabinets in Porcelain-on-steel will be on display. The famous "Frigidaire Cold Control" will also be demonstrated. You will be shown how this device freezes ice cubes faster—how it permits you to make scores of unusual desserts that require extreme cold.

Will you be our guest?

SPECIAL OFFER

Until Saturday, March 22nd

We are prepared to make a liberal special offer to all who buy Frigidaire during our 9-day demonstration. Let us tell you about this offer. Let us tell you about our easy payment plan. Come in at your first opportunity. We will be open evenings until ten o'clock every day of the demonstration.

Detroit Residence Rule Hits 786
Teachers In Detroit
Schools

DETROIT, March 12.—Adoption of the proposed Detroit residence rules

for teachers would mean dismissal of 786 instructors in the school system, including Mrs. Evangeline L. L. Lindbergh, mother of the famous flyer, reported to the board of education. Mrs. Lindbergh, a chemistry teacher at Cass Technical high school, and a board employee seven years, lives in Grosse Pointe.

The board deferred action on the proposal and likewise on the demand that all employees who are not citizens be discharged.

There are 29 teachers, according to the report, who have obtained only first citizenship papers. Among non-educational employees, 73 lack first papers, 144 have only first papers and the status of an additional 47 is in doubt, the school inspectors learned. The number of employees in the system is 10,563 of whom 7,500 are educational workers.

Baptist Men Have Banquet

Bible Class Has Get-Together
At Church Last Night

STANLEY TRESER IS

Six large turkeys were a part of the vast quantity of food put away last night when approximately 100 members of the Men's Bible class of the First Baptist church gathered at the church for a banquet and merry get-together.

Starting the evening off was the radio program of "Amos n' Andy," following which the bountiful dinner was served. The task of serving was handled efficiently by members of the Women's Missionary society, section 6.

John W. Owens, chorister of the church, was in charge of the singing during the evening, with his daughter, Miss Elizabeth, as accompanist. A song period featured both the opening and closing parts of the program.

W. Stanley Treser officiated as master of ceremonies during the evening, and it was an enjoyable program that he with his committee on arrangements had prepared.

W. C. H. Matthews, who plays a saw just as easily as a violinist plays a violin, was first. Mr. Matthews' numbers were so enjoyed that the class demanded another exhibition of the saw playing later in the evening. Mont Skidmore, accomplished pianist despite his handicap of blindness was next. He played several encore numbers.

A mouth organ trio, composed of Charles Fombelle, Harry Caven and Howard Zeigler entertained next with Mrs. Harry Zeigler at the piano. Like the first performers they too responded to the hearty applause with encore numbers.

The principal speaker of the evening was the Rev. Rees T. Williams, pastor of the First Congregational church who brought a most stirring and inspiring address on the subject "The Fight To Win."

Following the stimulating message on Christianity that Rev. Williams gave, the committee continued with its musical entertainment. Dave Williams was introduced and he responded with an impromptu musical hit.

Songs led by Mr. Owens interspersed the program and then a double quartet sang the closing number. Those who composed it were W. O. Williams, C. M. Fombelle, Dave Williams, George Jones, Charles Brown, Will Harris, Ralph Partison and Ellis Reno.

Before the meeting was adjourned Chairman Treser called on George C. Fox, the president of the class. Fox took the floor and summed up the entire dinner by extending the men's thanks to the ladies of the church and others who united to make the dinner a success. Rev. G. M. Landis, pastor of the church, also spoke just before the program was closed.

Two Slightly Hurt When Auto Upsets

(International News Service)
ALTOONA, Pa., March 12.—Simon H. Sell, 44, Bedford attorney, and his daughter, Mrs. Leone Sponsler, narrowly escaped death today when their car swerved from the highway near Cessna, overturned and was destroyed by fire.

Sell and Mrs. Sponsler suffered only minor injuries. The attorney was enroute to Hollidaysburg to appear in an action in Blair county court.

Autoists Who Violate Parking
Rule To Have Cars
Towed Away

Autoists who persist in violating the ordinance which prohibits parking of automobiles in paved thoroughfares between midnight and six a. m. when spring weather arrives will have their cars towed away.

This was intimated today by Councilman Stanley Treser, department of streets, who announced that all paved streets in the downtown section will be swept and flushed between those hours this spring and summer.

The ordinance has not been enforced for some time but as soon as the city "white wings" flap their brushes and point their hose the ordinance will be enforced, Treser stated.

Superior Court Rules Against Divorce Action

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, March 12.—In an opinion handed down today by the Superior Court it was held that establishing a residence in Pennsylvania for the purpose of filing divorce proceedings does not entitle an applicant to favorable action.

The appellate court's decision set aside the opinion of a Philadelphia court which granted a separation decree to Bertha W. Auerbach and Henry G. Auerbach, of New York. In her action for divorce Mrs. Auerbach charged cruelty and indignities to the person. The charges were denied by the husband who filed an appeal.

In reserving the lower court the Superior Court cited the fact that Mrs. Auerbach moved from New York to Philadelphia in October, 1926. The divorce was granted in December 1927.

Action was brought on grounds upon which a divorce may be granted in Pennsylvania, while in New York only adultery is recognized as a legitimate ground.

Brush Streets To Curb And Arrange Streets For Drainage

City council is preparing to purchase a street sweeper and road machine, it was announced today by Councilman Stanley Treser, superintendent of streets.

The sweeper which will be bought will have a vertical brush so that the thoroughfare close to the curb can be thoroughly swept.

And the road machine will be one that can cut ditches, round streets and the type Treser desires, he said today will make it possible to give proper drainage, as generally water allowed to "pool" causes most trouble.

Tuberculosis Society Investigates Cases

Executive Secretary Of Lawrence County Tuberculosis Society Gives Report Of Month

In the report of the Lawrence County Tuberculosis Society for February it is stated that 33 investigations were made and cases visited by Miss Sara Burkhart, executive secretary of that organization.

Twelve half days were spent at the well baby clinics, which are held every Thursday. Thursday morning a clinic for well babies is held in the New Castle Dry Goods building between the hours of 10 and 12 o'clock, in charge of Dr. William Wallace, with state and county nurses assisting. On Thursday afternoon the weekly clinic for colored babies is held in the Elm street Y. W. C. A.

One patient was taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital during the month, according to the report. Twenty-six babies were visited by a representative of the Lawrence County Tuberculosis Society at their homes.

Accuse Huston Of Trying To Evade Senate Questions

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, March 12.—Claude H. Huston, chairman of the Republican national committee, was accused of trying to conceal information from the Senate lobby committee today when he appeared before the committee to explain his connection with the Muscle Shoals lobby which sought to turn the plant over to private interests.

The accusation was made by Senator Caraway (D) of Arkansas, the committee chairman, after Huston asserted he did not know where the records of contributions to the Tennessee River Improvement Association could now be found.

Huston was first treasurer and later president of the association, which led the fight against government operation of Muscle Shoals. Testimony before the committee has been that the American Cyanamid Co. and the Union Carbide Co., which have been trying to get control of the billion dollar power investment in Alabama, furnished the Tennessee River Improvement Association with funds.

Game Commission Gives More Facts On Birds Of State

RAVEN. The Raven is so rare that it is hardly worthy of consideration from the economic standpoint. From the historical and literary standpoint the species is exceedingly interesting and important. It is known that the chief food of the Raven is dead fish, Crayfish, snakes, and refuse. Hundreds of pellets examined would incriminate the species.

CROW. The Crow has been so widely discussed that everyone is probably pretty well aware of the status of the bird in Pennsylvania. There is no doubt that in the nesting season the Crow destroys a great many eggs and young birds, as well as the young of certain game mammals. The point is that if other food is easily available Crows do not as a rule destroy valuable birds and animal life. They prefer smaller rodents, frogs and snakes, snails, various insects, and a good deal of vegetable matter. During the winter when Crows gather in great numbers and then food may be scarce they doubtless do a great deal of damage and they must be shot or poisoned if the game birds and mammals and to survive. Probably no one should want to see the Crow exterminated but this species has so ably solved its problems of existence and is so adapted that three-fourths of the Crows may be killed without endangering the standing of the species.

BLUE JAY. This species is not protected in Pennsylvania chiefly because of its habits of destroying the eggs and young of smaller birds. The Blue Jay is fairly common and adaptive and probably does not need protection. Some of its food habits are decidedly beneficial.

STARLING. Examinations of the stomachs of many Starlings have thus far shown that they are not particularly destructive to economically valuable vegetation. The species is known to prey upon Japanese beetles and other noxious insects so that may be said in its favor. Its habit of nesting in old buildings and occasionally killing our native cavity-nesting birds is very objectionable, however, and in sections of the State the Starling is becoming so terrifically abundant we will probably have a considerable problem in controlling the species.

ENGLISH SPARROW. The English Sparrow is unquestionably becoming rarer as a result of the disappearance of the horse, or because of the presence of the European Starling. It may be said with some certainty that the English Sparrow now is not a very great enemy of our native birds except in occasional instances. Some of the food habits of the English Sparrows are decidedly praiseworthy. During the nesting period these birds destroyed many insects which our native sparrows and warblers pass by-foul-smelling, hard winged species which are not usually considered palatable.

GREAT BLUE HERON, BLACK-CROWNED HERON, and GREEN HERON. The herons of the State do some damage locally in capturing valuable fish. They are especially destructive in the vicinity of hatcheries and when they become numerous in these localities, must be controlled.

LOON. While the Loon occasionally captures valuable fish, it is usually so rare that it is not of economic importance.

Son Of Attorney Struck By Auto

Driver Of Car Failed To Stop, Neighbors Give Chase

GREENVILLE, Pa., March 12.—Running in the path of an automobile near his home in Columbia avenue, Billie, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Gilkey, was struck and seriously injured.

The child had seen his father, prominent attorney, drive up to the home, and was hurrying to greet him from across the street. He suffered several bruises and possible broken bones. X-ray pictures are to be made to determine the extent of the injuries.

The driver of the car did not stop, and two neighbors chased a car they believed to be the one which had struck the child. They overtook a car driven by Roy Mitchell of Greenville, but he said he had no knowledge of striking a child. He was released by police, pending a more thorough investigation.

Assembles Data On County Schools

HARRISBURG, Mar. 12.—The Department of Public Instruction has placed in the State Library and Museum what is believed to be the most complete collection of data ever assembled on "The County as a Unit of Supervision." This has been done in answer to numerous requests for information on this subject. The Pennsylvania Forensic league has sponsored a state-wide debate on this subject and the material has been gathered as a help to the high schools of the state which are participating in this debate.

Students and others interested may secure this material upon application either to the Department of Public Instruction, or the State Library and Museum.

"Crippled Up" With Lame Sore Muscles?

Overnight Relief If You Put On An Allcock Porous Plaster

Whether those sore muscles have come from over-exertion or from a cold settling in the ligaments there is nothing that will ease the pain and quickly banish all that "achy" feeling like an Allcock Porous Plaster. Just cut the plaster to the shape and size required and apply wherever there is pain or soreness. You'll be amazed at the speedy relief it gives. Allcock's Porous Plasters are the original of all porous plasters and since 1847 they have been used by millions. They are fine, too, for lame backs, aching joints, lumbago, chest colds—in fact any place where pain and soreness exists. Only cost a quarter—little enough for the wonderfully quick relief they bring. Colorless—you can put it on and go any place without embarrassment. Be sure to ask for

Allcock's POROUS PLASTERS

At its regular meeting Tuesday in the Elm street Y. W. C. A. the Ministerial Alliance, ordered published the following appeal.

That whereas the pastor, officers and members of the Union Baptist church have suffered serious financial difficulties, in the past few months, and standing as they do for all that's best and capable of the highest development in our citizenship, and has been and now is an important factor in the religious, social and political life of this community.

And, whereas the Christian while people of this and other communities, are manifesting an unusual interest in this church at this particular time in raising funds to liquidate the outstanding debts so as to make it possible for both pastor and people to serve this community unhampered, and further the benefit given last week at the high school, under leadership of Mrs. Calahan and others, shall forever challenge our lasting gratitude.

And, whereas we believe that any race of people who hope to take their place in the affairs of life, must ever be mindful of self-help.

We therefore, as Ministers of the Gospel and the religious representatives of our people in New Castle, do hereby make the following request, viz:

That Sunday afternoon, 3:00 p. m., March 16th, at which time a religious mass meeting is being held for the benefit of the Union Baptist church, that every citizen of color, vouch his way to said church, with a special offering for the same. We are especially appealing to the Christian forces of our group, let us not forget that the high school auditorium was packed to its uttermost capacity last Friday night, with white people, and a few colored, notwithstanding the fact of the inclement weather, and remember that our good white friends are watching to see just what we are willing to do for ourselves.

A special message will be delivered by Rev. Huntley, pastor of the Second Baptist church of Farrell, Pa., and we are calling upon the community chorus to be present to serve in song if needed, trusting that we have made our position clear in regards to the entire matter, we shall expect you to cheerfully respond.

Signed,
W. W. NELSON, President.

Reduce the Acid

In sick stomachs—instantly

Sick stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually means excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour.

Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless, tasteless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Since its invention, 50 years ago, it has remained the standard. Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end with physicians everywhere.

In five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

Finds Youth's Fountain!

"JUST one thing has contributed more than anything else in my life toward making me the radiantly happy woman I am today," writes Mrs. Walter Ruehl, of Glenbrook, Conn. "If this was selling at ten dollars a bottle instead of the few cents it costs, I would scrape the money together, and I don't mean maybe!"

"I guess a good many others feel the same way, judging by the number of people I know who swear by this 'Fountain of Youth.'"

Millions of people all over the world have discovered this simple secret, which is nothing but giving our bodies the internal lubrication that they need, as much as any machine. After you have taken Nujol for a few days, and have proved to yourself how it brightens your whole life, you will wonder how so simple a treatment can make such a great change in your health and your happiness. The reason is this:

Regularly as clock work, Nujol clears out of our bodies those poisons (we all have them) which slow us up, make us headachy, low in our minds.

Colorless and tasteless as pure water, Nujol cannot hurt you, no matter how long you take it. It is not a medicine. It contains no drugs. It forms no habit. It is non-fattening.

One Happy Woman Tells Where She Discovered It

Try Nujol yourself and see how much better you feel. Get a bottle in its sealed package at any drug store and be sure it's trademarked "Nujol." It costs but a few cents—and it makes you feel like a million dollars! Start taking Nujol this very night!

Government Wants Names Of Airport Managers In State

Directory Of Aviation Is Being Compiled By Department Of Commerce

WASHINGTON, D. C. March 12.—The aeronautics branch of the department of commerce is anxious to compile a complete list of all airport managers and is appealing to aviation officials in Pennsylvania to cooperate by forwarding the desired information to Washington.

The aeronautics branch wishes the names of airport managers in full along with the correct mailing addresses including the names of the nearest towns.

In addition to inaugurating this campaign to procure the correct mailing addresses of all airport managers, the branch is desirous of listing all new ports or landing fields, and it is requested that the branch headquarters here be notified of new fields or ports constructed or put into operation in the state.

Government Scores In Doheny Trial

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, March 12.—The government drew first blood today in the trial of Edward L. Doheny, the aged oil magnate, on an indictment charging him with bribing ex-Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall with $100,000 in connection with the Elk Hills, Calif., oil leases.

Justice William Hitz denied Doheny's plea in abatement, which was offered on Monday by the oil man's attorneys. Counsel for Doheny contended that Doheny, once acquitted of conspiracy in the same case, was being put in double jeopardy now by being tried for bribery.

Screams For Help

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, March 12.—It might have been bravery or it might have been that Mrs. Anna Baird, 25, soda fountain clerk, has a strong antipathy to being "ordered around."

But, aside from the psychology, Mrs. Baird was receiving congratulations today for foiling an attempted hold-up at the West Homestead Pharmacy here last night.

"Come on now, move to the back of the store—and move fast," one of two armed bandits commanded, covering Mrs. Baird with a gun.

"I will not," was the clerk's spirited retort. When the bandit attempted to reinforce his command by striking her with the butt of the pistol, Mrs. Baird ducked, ran from the store and screamed for help.

The frightened bandits fled, empty handed.

Says Naval Parley Is Due To Pirates

(International News Service)
ST. LOUIS, March 12.—The bold, bad pirates who sailed the bounding main in the seventeenth century are presently responsible for the Naval Parley conference in progress in London in the opinion of Roland Green Usher, Ph. D., professor of history at Washington University here.

Mr. Usher in a recent address declared, "The history of piracy is the key to the origin of defensive and offensive navies. Pirates are responsible for the origin of the British fleet and its dominance, and they are responsible for the origin of the freedom of the seas as a practical proposition."

Would Bar Dogs From Atlanta Parks

(International News Service)
ATLANTA, March 12.—Councilman John A. White has asked the City Council to enact legislation barring all dogs from public parks. When informed of the request, Alderman Richards declared that all dogs "must be properly notified" before the legislation could be enacted.

"Hazel May suffered from constipation," says Mrs. M. Hopkins, 7050 Ruskin Lane, Philadelphia. "She was sallow and bilious; didn't have any appetite; couldn't digest her food."

"California Fig Syrup has changed all that. It regulated her bowels quickly; improved her appetite and digestion. She has improved right along until friends say she's a regular prize-winner for health."

Mothers by thousands praise California Fig Syrup. Physicians endorse it. Its rich, fruity flavor appeals to children; its pure vegetable goodness is safe for any child. The prompt relief it brings bilious, headachy, constipated children lasts; because it helps tone and strengthen bowels and stomach. Next time bad breath, coated tongue or feverishness warn of constipation, try it with your child and see how it helps!

When buying, look for the name California! That marks the genuine, famous for 50 years.

Accepts Call To Mercer Church

Rev. John Paul To Occupy U. P.
Pulpit After Graduation
From Seminary

Rev. John Paul, a student at the United Presbyterian Seminary at Pittsburgh, who was recently extended a call by the local U. P. church has announced that he will accept the call, and enter upon his duties as soon as his work is completed at school, which will be in May.

On Saturday Edward Prye was returned to the Western Penitentiary after serving 30 days sentence in the Mercer jail. On a charge of indecent exposure, and disorderly conduct. Prye at the time of his arrest was paroled from the penitentiary after being sentenced to 18 months for breaking and entering. Prye was returned by William Gaffney parole officer of the Western Penitentiary to serve the rest of his term.

HEALTH IS GOOD
While the health condition over the county seems to be worse with a decided increase of diseases reported for last week the report of Mercer shows a great improvement as the town is without a single case of any kind.

SEEK REVENGE
The State troopers are hard at work this week but not arresting people. They are spending every extra second at basket ball so they will be able to have their revenge on Saturday when the Lawyers come to Mercer to play. The defeat of last Saturday was crushing so Corporal White and his men are seeking revenge.

RETURN FROM SOUTH
With a few warm days and the days of March sweeping away many of the Mercer people now in the South are planning on returning home. Dr. Gaylord Buchanan and family are expected home the middle of the month. G. F. Reznor and family will no doubt return the first of April when the Reznor Manufacturing plant resumes its work. Word has been received from Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ayer that they were enjoying themselves in the warm climes. Mrs. Stella Webster who is spending the winter in California rather than Florida reports a pleasant winter.

MASKREY NOT IMPROVING
Harry Maskrey who has been ill for the past two weeks shows little improvement. His many friends over the county will be sorry to learn of his prolonged illness.

Police Magistrate
Victim Of Suicide

Missing Police Magistrate Found
In Parked Automobile Shot
To Death By Own Hand

(International News Service)
CAMDEN, N. J., March 12.—The body of Robert L. Monroe, missing police magistrate of Paulsboro, N. J., was found sitting upright in his automobile parked at the Pennsylvania railroad ferry station here early today.

Monroe had been shot through the heart. A .38 calibre revolver with one cartridge discharged lay on the seat beside the body.

Two policemen discovered the tragedy at 4 a. m. A search had been instituted for the magistrate yesterday when his wife reported he had left home on Friday.

The machine had been parked at the ferry terminal for two days and Cooper hospital attendants where the body was taken expressed the belief Monroe shot himself on Monday. A letter addressed to his wife, Mrs. Effie Monroe, expressing his intentions of committing suicide was found in his coat pocket.

NORWALK, Conn., March 12.—A lady may use a compact and still be moral. While fact is proved by the annual expenditure of over a half billion dollars by the respected womanhood of America for cosmetics and kindred beauty preparations. Which fact emphasizes the necessity for a law demanding the same purity for toiletries that is insured foods and drugs.

This was the consensus of opinion of a meeting of dermatologists, chemists and physicians, who gathered here recently.

"The frank use of cosmetics more than anything else marks the amazing advance women have made in the past generation," John J. Quinn, vice-president of Pinaud, Inc., cosmetic manufacturers, told the gathering. "Cosmetics were not included in the Pure Food and Drug Act of 1906 because they were not at that time in general use. The legislator who then suggested the inclusion of a ban on harmful creams and rouges was denounced as a degrader of the nation's womanhood."

Dr. Maurice Aisen, who supervises the research at the Pinaud Laboratory at Westport, told his fellow scientists that because there is no law governing the manufacture of beauty articles, many now on the market are either injurious or useless.

"A recent analysis showed that many toiletries include as ingredients excessive quantities of the highly dangerous lead salts, paraphenylenediamine, mercury compounds and phenol. Others, not actually harmful, fall short of the scientific ideal in that they cannot fulfill their promises."

The meeting voted in favor of a beauty preparations to state the

Two Brothers Are Fined For Fighting

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, March 12.—A family quarrel concerning the merits of a family quarrel broke out in North Side police court today.

Frank Martin, 32, told the court that his two brothers, Albert and Anthony, quarreled incessantly, to the annoyance of both his mother and himself.

"No, we don't," chorused Albert and Anthony indignantly. "Why, judge, we're the best of friends," they gazed affectionately at each other.

Turnkey Andrew Carter broke the spell of amity.

"Your Honor," interrupted Carter hurriedly. "I had to separate 'em from a fist fight in their cell this morning."

Albert and Anthony were fined $10 each.

Legion Meeting Tuesday Night Well Attended

Banquet Report Shows That It Was A Complete Success In Every Way

Meeting of Perry S. Gaston post No. 343, American Legion, held Tuesday night at the Legion home on North Jefferson street, was very well attended and much business was transacted with marked enthusiasm.

Partial reports were received from the recent national commander's banquet, showed that it had been a success in every way and that although the object of the affair had been to break even, that there would be a small surplus left after all expenses of the affair had been paid.

General Chairman Harry M. Long expressed his appreciation of the work of the various committees and the way they had functioned in making the affair a success.

Letters of commendation from the various posts that had been in attendance were read in which the local post was accorded high praise for the manner in which the affair was conducted and all spoke of the wonderful place in which the affair was held and urged that the local post hold the event again next year.

Reports of the welfare committee were received and approved, showing that work is being done along those lines. A complete report of the American Legion employment bureau was made and was found satisfactory to the entire membership.

Reports made showed that the present membership is now well over 400. The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served. As the members were leaving, in walked Sheriff Frank N. Johnston and Deputy Sheriff William Reynolds and subpoenaed a considerable group of special taxmen in the effort to select a jury to try Irene Schroeder.

Anyway, the free lunch counter has not come back, and that's evidence that prohibition is not quite a failure. —The Cincinnati Times-Star.

Clark Rea, dying on the floor. They got about $50. While they were searching the room some one outside, called, "Make it Snappy."

The three left through the west window, which had also been broken. Soon after Rea ran outside, shouted "murder, murder." He went back inside, placed his dying brother on a bed, and then summoned help.

Window Heel Mark
Among the exhibits which were produced at court this morning was a piece of the window sill from the west window of the Rea home. It bore the imprint of a rubber heel. The heel mark had been made by some one going out of the room.

The bullet, which was taken from the brain of Clark Rea, was exhibited by Coroner Caldwell. It was a .22 calibre, lead bullet. It entered on the right side of the head above the ear.

Most of the testimony at this morning session was given by officials who had made the investigation.

Wednesday Morning
Earl Clayton was the first witness called Wednesday morning. He lives with Bert Easton. On the night of January 15th he saw Elias Rea at Easton's. Telephone was used in calling Bert and Will Cunningham.

When they arrived at Easton's all went to the Rea home.

"We entered the back door," said witness going into the first room. Clark Rea was lying on a bed. He was breathing and there was a gurgling sound in his throat.

"Elias Rea, the Cunninghams and Easton were all in the room at the time. Will Cunningham and I went to Mrs. Stewart to call the police. Sheriff Johnston came in about 25 minutes with state police. I met them on the road and we went to the Rea place. Andy Vendetti, deputy sheriff went to call an undertaker. Mr. Rea was dead the second time I saw him.

Cross examined What time did Rea come to the Easton house?
About 8 o'clock.

And you called Cunningham?
Yes, sir.

Then you went to Rea's and later called the police?
Yes sir.

Why was an undertaker called before Rea was dead?
Mr. Cunningham told Vendetti of Mr. Rea's condition.

Charles Kelly undertaker called. I went to Rea's on the night of Jan. 15. My brother went with me. I arrived there about 8:30. I found Clark Rea lying on a bed. He was dead at that time. I did not touch the body until the corner of the body was then taken to my rooms. Drs. Zerner and Stutz and the coroner held a post mortem on Jan. 16th between 9 and 10 o'clock. I was called by the city police department.

Coroner J. P. Caldwell testified he had gone to the Rea home on the night of Jan. 15th and found Rea dead. On Jan. 16th he had been present at a post mortem held by Drs. Zerner and Stutz. A bullet was found in Rea's brain. The bullet was exhibited. It was a .22 calibre lead bullet.

Sheriff Frank Johnston told about being called to the Rea home on the night of January 15 about 8 o'clock. Deputy Sheriff Vendetti and several state police went with him.

Meeting someone near the house Johnston testified if Rea was dead. He was told that he was not. He directed that an ambulance be called and the man taken to the hospital.

On going into the Rea home Sheriff Johnston found Rea dead.

He left the house in about ten minutes to notify other officials and hunt the perpetrator.

John Gendell, state police officer, told about going to the Rea home with the sheriff and deputy. "We arrived there about 8:25. We were met by Will Cunningham and Earl Clayton on the road. They conducted us to the house.

"Elias Rea was waiting for us outside the house. Bert Easton and Bert Cunningham were there. Clark Rea was lying on the bed. I saw a bullet hole in his right temple.

Windows Smashed.
"I saw a pool of blood on the floor, also that two windows had been broken out of the house and the openings covered with horse blankets. Also noticed a davenport with the back broken.

"While I was looking about Private Shieler called my attention to a heel mark on the west window sill. It was the imprint of a rubber heel. The front of the heel was pointing out. I examined all the shoes in the house, the shoes of the men on the premises at the time, but found it would have been impossible for any of them to have made the mark.

"The next morning with County Detective H. M. Lee I went back to the Rea home and cut out the window sill containing the heel print." Piece of wood was exhibited to witness who identified it as the one cut from the Rea window. It had been left with the county detective.

Calibre of Bullet.
Asked if he was familiar with firearms, witness said he was. Shown bullet taken from head of Clark Rea, he said it was a .22 calibre.

Cross examined: "This heel mark was called to your attention by your assistant."

"You had not seen it since you took it from the window until this morning?"

"I had not."

"Should not the letter on the imprint be as clear now as when it was cut out?"

"No, there may have been some dust got on it."

"Did you make a record of the lettering on the heel print?"

Found Old Rifle
County Detective H. M. Lee told about going to the Rea home on the night of Jan. 15th. He examined the premises with other officers. My attention was called to the heel print on the window sill. Next morning I went with Gendell to the house and cut out a part of the window sill. Witness shown piece of wood. Pointed out heel print. It was a rifle planer when we cut it out, he said.

Witness said a piece of wood found outside the house was brought in and fitted the back of the broken davenport. Walls were searched for bullet holes, but there were so many nail holes, it would have been necessary to wreck the plaster to determine accurately.

A shot gun, barrel of a gun and an old rifle were found in the house. The rifle was covered with cobwebs.

Window sill with heel marks was admitted as an exhibit. It was then passed around among the jurors.

Constable Sharp Leslie told about being at the Rea house with County Detective Lee.

Many Nail Holes
He examined walls for bullet holes, but there were many nail holes and he could not tell if any had been made by bullets.

He found an old fashioned muzzle loading rifle on the stairway. He saw a spot on the floor. Did not know what it was. Saw heel mark on window sill. Examined shoes found in house. None had heels that would fit mark on sill.

Windows on east and west side of house were broken out. Glass inside and outside.

Private Michael Shulak told about going to Rea house with Sheriff Johnston and others. He found windows broken and glass on floor. He discovered heel mark on west side window sill. He did not find anything with which the window had been broken.

Brother Testifies
Elias Rea, brother of Clark Rea, the murdered man, said that he is past 55 years of age. His brother was 61. Neither had ever been married. They kept house together. On the night of January 15th, said he, my brother was shot. It was about 8 p. m.

My brother slept in a bed in the front room and I slept on a lounge. There were three windows in the room, one on south was boarded up. One window on west, one on east. Did not use front door. Used door from kitchen to get into front room.

On the night of the shooting there were 4 chairs in the room. Bed was in southwest corner, sofa on east. Bureau on south. Fireplace on north side.

About 8 o'clock my brother and I were both standing in front of the grate warming our backs. We usually went to bed at 9 o'clock.

As we stood there we were facing south. I was on east side. He was on west.

Someone came with a flashlight to the east window. My brother picked up a chair and hurled it through the window. Then there were shots on the east side. My brother fell to the floor about the center of the room.

Two men came in at the east window and one at the west. The west window had also been broken.

Each of the three had revolvers. I was down in a corner with my hands up begging for my life. One of the men had a revolver to my face. He said where is that money? Hand it over and be quick about it. I handed over 54 cents, all the money I had.

The others went through my brother's pockets. They got about $50. They then searched the house.

A man outside cried "Hurry up boys and make it snappy."

"One of the men told me if I made a move for 10 minutes I would be a dead man. The three then went out the west window. I waited a little while and then went out.

"I called murder several times, but no one came. I then went to Bert Easton's. The men were gray coats. Before I went to Easton's I laid my brother on the bed. He was still alive."

Witness was asked if he could recognize any of the men. He said he could.

"What about the defendant, William Grimm; was he one of them?"

"He was," replied Rea.

Questioned further, Rea said that several nights before him had come to the Rea home and asked for oil. They were told to go away as there was no oil except what was in the lamp. One of the visitors said his name was Black.

On another night men were there wanting to be pulled out of the mud. They were told no help could be given. Witness gave evidence regarding furniture and firearms.

Cross Examined.
Cross examined: "What was the first thing you saw on the night of January 15?"

"A flashlight at the east window."

"Then your brother, in throwing a chair at the window, broke the back of the couch?"

"Yes."

"What did he do then?"

"He stepped forward to about the middle of the room."

"What happened then?"

"Shooting started and my brother fell to the floor."

"You say the boys came in at the east window. How were they dressed?"

"Had gray coats and handkerchiefs over their faces."

"You don't know who the boys were?"

"No, I was so badly scared."

Were there any shots from the west side of the house?

No.

When the men went out they went out the west window?

Yes, they stepped over the bed. There wasn't any shooting done inside the house?

Top, Miss Lovella Rush and Baby Carl Long Jr., below Mr. and Mrs. Carl Long

AKRON, O., March 12—A smiling little boy who was supposed to have been born two years ago to Mrs. Carl H. Long of Barberton, O., was officially recognized in court here Tuesday as the son of Miss Lovella Rush, 20, also of Barberton, who said she "loaned" him at birth to the other woman. If the recognition is made official, as attorneys expect it will be, the child will lose all claim to the $40,000 estate left by Mr. and Mrs. Long when they were killed in the Cleveland clinic disaster nearly a year ago.

Miss Rush, her friends, and several doctors testified at the hearing. She said Mrs. Long had taken the boy at birth to deceive her husband. The boy had been named Carl Long, Jr., but Miss Rush said she would call him "Richard Rush." She named his father but said she does not know that parent's present whereabouts. With the boy eliminated from the case, the court again faced an unusual problem to decide which of the Longs died first in the disaster. If Mrs. Long was the first, Long's four brothers inherit the estate. If Long died first Mrs. Long's son and two daughters by a former marriage will inherit the property.

front of the Leslie hotel. We went and sat down in a car.

They wanted me to go with them to Coalstown. They said there was a couple of old fellows there who had some money. They said they would go about 7 o'clock.

They wanted me to meet them. McDevitt, Martin, Llewellyn and Grimm were all present.

They wanted to know if I had a gun. I told them I had a trip at 7 and could not meet them. I then left. About 8:30 p. m. I saw Martin going across the East Washington street bridge. Later when I was at the P. and L. E. depot I heard of the murder.

During the talk near the hotel how much money did the boys say they could get?

Between $15,000 and $20,000.

Did they say from whom?

They did not.

Cross examination. How long have you been driving a taxi?

About 5 years.

How long had you known Llewellyn?

Not very long.

Had you much acquaintance with Grimm?

Not very much.

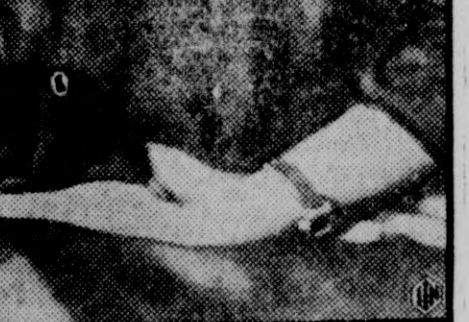

Direct. Did they come back after you at 7 o'clock?

I do not know.

Were you so informed by any one?

I was.

'SKIPSTOP' PLAN MAY BE ADOPTED

Reeves Anxious To Have More
Rapid Movement Of East
Side Traffic

Councilman Clayton Reeves today requested C. C. Coulthard, Penn.-Ohio railway superintendent to try out the Skipstop system on the East Side route, between Croton and West avenues.

He has found that traffic behind cars is stalled on the hill sections and believes that a Skipstop system might help to solve the situation which will be aggravated by the spring travel.

According to the councilman he believes the best stops are at Croton avenue, railroad crossing, County Line street, Millroad street and West avenue.

Superintendent Coulthard, it is reported, will try out the plan.

Chief Horner Seeks Counterfeit Bills

Chief of Police C. C. Horner today issued a request to persons of this city, who may have had counterfeit ten dollar bills passed on them in the past two weeks, there were at least two reported to the police, to bring them to him, as he believes that they may have some connection with those alleged to have been passed by three persons, James A. Vozzolo and M. A. Fuscile of Ellwood City and Dora Kinskey of Pittsburgh, who were arrested at Greensburg, Monday, on a charge of passing bad bills in Vandergrift, Apollo and New Kensington recently. The persons under arrest are now in jail in Pittsburgh and local cases may provide additional testimony needed.

Witnesses Tell Of Scenes In Home Of Clark Rea On Night Of Shooting

Testimony Centres Around Heel Print Seen In Window Sill Of Home

With the work of selecting a jury in the case of William Grimm, charged with the murder of Clark Rea, completed Tuesday afternoon, taking of testimony in the trial of the case was started. The case was opened by Special District Attorney George W. Muse recting the facts which the commonwealth hoped to prove. In the statement, Attorney Muse outlined the case, stating that the commonwealth would show that Clark Rea was shot on the night of January 15. "It would be shown," said Attorney Muse, "that the robbery of the Rea home had been deliberately planned, and that Rea was shot after the windows in the Rea house had been smashed, and three men had entered the room. He said that it would be shown that William Grimm, the defendant, was one of the men, and that a verdict of first degree murder would be asked.

Plot of Surroundings. Albert Treser, civil engineer, first witness called, testified that he had gone to the Rea home with County Detective Peck Lee and Attorney George W. Muse on Feb. 23, 1930.

The Rea house is near the lower Mercer road, sometimes called the valley road. The valley road comes out on the Coaltown road near the Pleasant Valley school house. The Rea home is east of the Coaltown road. Witness reached the house by a footpath from the Coaltown road. Making a sketch of the interior of the house witness was assisted by Elias Rea, brother of deceased.

Witness exhibited a sketch showing that the Rea home faces south. It is a two-story house with porch on southern end.

Blueprints were admitted as exhibits and were shown to the jury while questions were asked by attorneys.

The Stewart house, southeast, is nearest the Rea house. It is 935 feet from the valley road to the Rea house. There is a window opening on the front porch, closed by shutters.

In the front room the bed is against the west wall. It is a little below the window. A sofa sits on the east side of the room, below a window.

Photographer E. E. Seavy testified that he had made photographs of the Rea property on March 9. Photos were produced, admitted as exhibits, and shown to the jury. The photos embraced pictures taken east, west and south and also one taken from the East Brook road, 1,000 feet away.

Neighbor Testifies. Bert Easton, a neighbor of the Reas testified that he lives about one-eighth of a mile northeast of the Rea home. "I live about three or four hundred yards from Bert Cunningham's."

On the night of January 15th I went to the Rea home about 8 o'clock. Elias Rea came to my home and said they had been held up. I got Cunningham's boys by telephone and called them. Earl Clayton was with me when Elias Rea came in.

"After I had telephoned to the Cunningham's, Bert and Will Cunningham came to my house. We all went down to the Rea house. We went in at the kitchen door. We all went into the house, going into the sitting room. There are only two rooms down stairs. We saw Clark Rea lying on the bed. He was making a gurgling sound. The east and west windows were broken. There was an oil lamp in the room. There was a little bit of fire.

Saw Blood On Floor. "There was a sofa under the east window. The top of the back was broken off.

"We saw blood on the floor. It was about half way between the bed and the fire place. I saw a chair near the east window. It was right side up.

"Mr. Cunningham left the house. I stayed there until about 2 o'clock. When we went into the room. Will Cunningham went first. I was last to go in."

"The Reas used the back door to enter their house. Cunningham was the first one to leave. It was not more than 2 minutes after we entered. Earl Clayton went with him. Remaining in the room were Bert Cunningham, Elias Rea and myself.

"As the windows were broken out we nailed up horse blankets to keep out the cold. We then put coal on the fire. It was about 10 minutes after we entered until we tacked up the horse-blanket.

"In about 25 minutes Sheriff Johnston and two state police came."

"Rea died about five minutes after we entered the house. He was dead when Sheriff Johnston came. Rea was unconscious all the time I was there."

"The gurgling sound appeared to come from Rea's throat. It kept up about 5 minutes. It was the absence of the gurgling sound that led me to believe Rea was dead."

"Will Cunningham and Earl Clayton did not come back before the sheriff."

"The sheriff and state police were there only about five minutes when they left."

"Several other officers then came. I think Mr. Leslie was one and the county detective. Coroner J. P. Caldwell also came, around 10 o'clock. No one had touched the body on the bed until the coroner came. Undertaker Kelley took the body out of the room. I do not know who carried the body up to the road."

"I stayed in the house until 2 o'clock. Elias Rea was taken away by the officers."

Heel Mark On Window. "I next saw Clark Rea three or four days afterward."

"There were a number of other persons there that night, among them Joe Brooks, Will Fisher, Herman Lentz, and Ed Lentz."

"District Attorney, John Powers, John Barrett and Louis McAnaney also came."

"My attention was called to the outside sill of the west window. Officers were looking at it with a light. There was a heel mark on the window. I could not tell what it showed."

"The Rea house is in Lawrence county, Pa."

Cross examined: "You say that when you went to the Rea home that night the top of the back of the sofa was broken, do you know if it had been broken that night?"

"No, I do not."

"When had you been there before?"

"Two or three weeks previous."

"Have you told us all that you observed?"

"As near as I can tell."

"Where was the bed located?"

"On the southwest corner."

"Where was the sofa?"

"Under the east window."

"Where was the bureau located?"

"On the south end."

"Where was the fireplace?"

"Between the kitchen and sitting room."

"When you saw the officers looking at the window, you looked also?"

"Yes, sir."

"Could you tell it was a heel mark?"

"No, but the officers said it was."

"Who was looking at it?"

"Mr. Leslie, I think, and the state police. I did not know them."

"When did you leave?"

"About 2 o'clock."

Bert Cunningham

Bert Cunningham testified that he lives about 800 yards from the Rea home.

He went to the Rea home that night in response to a telephone call. He found Clark Rea lying on a bed. There was a bullet wound in his right temple. He died in about 10 minutes after witness arrived.

Blood Spot Described. Witness saw a blood spot about as large as a tin cup near the center of the room. He described the furniture and its location. The bed ran past the window on the west side.

Cunningham told about the arrival of Sheriff Johnston and two state officers. Later the coroner, undertaker, county detective, district attorney and others came.

"The bed" was not disturbed before the officers came," said witness. "After the body had been taken away, Mr. Leslie and the county detective remained."

"I saw a rubber heel print on the window sill. I could see some letters on it. From the time I arrived no one had gone out of the window."

Cross examined: "Was there carpet in the sitting room?"

"Yes, but not on the kitchen. It was reddish."

"There was a good deal of rubbish in the room, was there not?"

"Yes, considerable."

Did Not Touch Spot. "Did you touch the blood?"

"No, I did not. It was a dark stain."

"You do not know now what made that spot except that it was a reddish spot on a reddish carpet?"

"Not positively, but I feel that it was a blood stain. It was fresh."

"What attracted your attention to the mark on the window sill?"

"I saw the state police examining it."

"Did you look at it with your naked eye or through a glass?"

"With my naked eye."

"Did the heel mark indicate the man had been going in or out of the room?"

"Going out, I think."

William Cunningham told about going to the house with his brother, Bert, and the officers. He saw Clark Rea lying on the bed. He was making a gurgling sound.

"I spoke to him but he made no

Called Sheriff

"At Stewart's I called the police station. I could not hear very well and asked for the sheriff's number. I called the sheriff and waited until he came to flag him. When the sheriff came a deputy, and two state police were with him."

"Sheriff Johnston asked me what was the matter and I told him. I went with him down to the Rea house. They looked around the room, stayed a few minutes and then went out. Alex Clayton and I went with the sheriff and others up to the road."

"I went back to the house. Mr. Kelley, undertaker, had come and went with me. I was there when the coroner came. Mr. Kelley was there before the coroner."

"When I went back to the house I found Rea dead. I saw Francis Barrett and Louis McAnaney there. My attention was called to a mark on the window sill. One of the men asked me if I knew where there was a looking glass. I got one in the kitchen. They used it in looking at the mark on the window sill. I saw a heel mark on the sill."

Trade Mark On Heel

Cross examined: "Are you sure it was a heel mark?"

"Absolutely."

"What did you see on it?"

"There was a trade mark and some letters."

"What were the letters?"

"I could not tell you that."

THINK OF YOUR AUTOMOBILE IN TERMS OF TOMORROW

Ultimate cost is as important as first cost in the purchase of an automobile

WHEN you purchase an automobile you are making an investment of a considerable amount of money. It is essential, therefore, that you give careful thought to the best selection and know what you are getting for your automobile dollars.

The first cost is important because it may mean an immediate, satisfactory saving. Of equal importance is the ultimate cost after thousands of miles of service. This ultimate cost is the true measure of automobile value.

THE first cost of the new Ford is unusually low not only because of economies in manufacturing, but because the same principles that inspire these savings are extended to every other step that means greater service to the public. It is easy to see that economies in production would be of little value if they were sacrificed later through high charges for distribution, selling, financing and accessories.

The Ford dealer, therefore, does business on the same low-profit margin as the Ford Motor Company. His discount or commission is twenty-five to fifty per cent lower than that of any other automobile dealer. You gain because he makes a small profit on many sales instead of a large profit on fewer sales.

Mrs. Mary Bentrim, Ellwood City Husband's name John Bentrim, deceased. Came to Ellwood from Butler county. Four children, two married, two at home.

Had not formed an opinion as was not much interested in case. Passed by defense.

Had no scruples against capital punishment. Could find verdict of guilty against any one concerned in a robbery, resulting in murder.

Did not know any of persons concerned in crime. Did not know any of attorneys. Sons are 13 and 16. Girls, 25 and 27. Accepted as twelfth juror.

The jury was then directed to stand up and the arraignment was read by Deputy Prothonotary John Edgar.

Will Prepare Book On Health History

HARRISBURG, March 12.—Secretary of Health Dr. Theodore Appel today announced that he has authorized Dr. W. C. Miller, chief of the bureau of state clinics, to prepare a history of public health in Pennsylvania.

"This material," said Doctor Appel, "will be in narrative form and in popular style. Among the outstanding features will be a chapter on the present activities of the department of health; an account of the Colonial health work; the story of the old board of health and the historical record of the activities of the present state health department."

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Gymnasts To Perform.

Plans are going forward for the annual exhibition of the local association, for which March 23 has been selected as the date. Both men and boys will share the program. Featuring the performance will be fancy apparatus work by special performers and different drills by the boys' classes and junior and senior leaders.

Climaxing the program will be a basketball game in which the Central Christians will play the Temple Israel basketballers.

Choose Banquet Date. Friday, April 4, has been chosen as the date for the annual physical department and basketball banquet.

Henry T. MacNicholas, physical director, announced today. Tentative plans are to have J. Truett Maxwell, state Y physical director, as the principal speaker on that occasion.

Workout For Wrestlers. Wrestlers of the Y are asked to meet tonight at 7 o'clock for their regular weekly workout. Apparatus men who expect to perform in the annual exhibition on March 23 are also urged to attend.

Handball Standing.

The up-to-date standing of the handball tourney now in play follows:

Miz Dart, won 38 and lost 9.
J. Markley, won 31 and lost 20.
Sam Maxwell, won 23 and lost 25.
Oscar Levine, won 28 and lost 37.
Carl Paisley, won 40 and lost 37.
R. L. Meermans, won 30 and lost 35.
A. Venditto, won 10 and lost 14.
Clark, won 2 and lost 9.

TOO ACID?

"Not now," writes Mrs. Mary Evans, 2334 N. 5th St., Philadelphia, Pa. "I wrote to you saying 'Last winter I was almost a cripple. My knees cracked as I walked and the doctor said it was all acid. I purchased a package of ACIDINE and after using the second package I felt like a new woman. I no longer have any aches or pains. God was good to me when I heard of this wonderful medicine ACIDINE.'"

If you, too, suffer from gas, sour stomach, colds, too much acid and the resulting indigestion, go to your druggist and get marvelous ACIDINE. ACIDINE combats stomach trouble, eructs, safety, and, successfully, ACIDINE is guaranteed to help in your case or money back.

Trial Of Gun Woman And Dague Resulting In Enormous Expense

If the total money spent on the trials of Irene Schroeder and W. Glenn Dague could be totaled at the end of the trials, the amount would represent a comfortable fortune, it is estimated. Various amounts have been suggested, but it is probable that it may be from $50,000 to $75,000, a great share of which will be paid by Lawrence county.

The expense of sending officers to Phoenix, the reward, the expense for witnesses and jurors, court costs and the like represent the county's expense. In addition the state of Pennsylvania has special counsel here and the expense attendant to this will be borne by the state.

Good Hotel Business.
The hotels are faring well in the trial. The Castleton has about 45 men and women quartered there who are here because of the trial. This includes the party brought to New Castle by Attorney Charles J. Margiotti, rooms used by the district attorney, county detective, special investigators and witnesses, newspaper men, news photographers, telegraph operators and others.

The Leslie hotel is housing the jury in the case against Irene Schroeder, and tipstaves attending them, while the Colonial hotel is housing the jury trying William Grimm.

Toll costs to the newspapers represented here are mounting into important money. Special representatives are here from International News Service, Associated Press, Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh Press, Ellwood Ledger, New York Daily News, Cleveland Plain Dealer, Youngstown Telegram and Vindicator and others and the number of words sent out daily is stupendous.

To handle the load of copy the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies have special corps of operators on duty, with special wires installed in houses along Court street. On Monday there was a total of approximately 15,000 words filed in the telegraph offices while on Tuesday the total ran near 20,000. This is expected to increase once the taking of testimony starts and when Irene Schroeder takes the stand in her own behalf, there will be a veritable sea of words clicking out on the telegraph keys.

Most Expensive Yet.

The trial is one that will go down in the history of this county as the most expensive yet. And while it is all very interesting to the world at large to know that the Trigger Woman and her paramour are being brought to trial here, the taxpayers of Lawrence county cannot help but remember that all this expense is being engendered to try two people who did not live here, had no business here and only the accident of geographic lines forced the expense upon this county.

To Irene Schroeder, who sought the thrill of banditry, the ballyhoo attending the whole thing must satisfy even her, whose desire for thrills left a courageous state highway patrolman on a concrete road, his life snuffed out in the prime of his youth.

There is some phase of the affair between Irene and Dague which has not yet been brought out. Tuesday, Dague sent word to Irene that he "would never tell, that it would be disloyal to her and unmanly to himself to tell what really happened."

Irene answered his message by urging him to "tell the truth, regardless of what it meant to her." What the "truth" is may never be known, what the secret is may never be divulged, but from the tone of the messages sent it seems that there is something both-ering them and which may come out later.

Pentecost Campaign Will Be Held By Central Christians

The final preparations are being completed by the evangelization committee of the Central Christian church for the Pentecost campaign which begins next Monday with J. Marion Small of Brilliant, O., as the evangelist and Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Hess of Findlay, Ohio as musical directors and children workers.

They will be heard and seen in our city any time after next Monday. If any of the Civic organizations would like to have them for a noon-day entertainment, they will be available for such service and the pastor of the church Rev. Jesse B. Porter, should be called immediately for a date.

Island Craft Is Jammed In Ice

SANDUSKY, O., March 12.—The Messenger, 60-foot oil burner from Sandusky, is fast in the ice in Lake Erie, about 1,000 feet off the Kelleys Island south shore dock.

A tug has been dispatched to her aid by Captain A. G. Morton, commander of the U. S. Coast Guard Station at Marblehead.

At about the time the tug left Marblehead, another tug was sent out from Sandusky, it was reported. As the lake is ice except off the shore of Kelleys Island, the tug will not have much trouble getting near the Messenger.

The Messenger left here this afternoon for Kelleys Island in charge of Capt. John Neuman, Ray Smith and Art Webster, with several male passengers and a small amount of freight for Kelleys Island. The boat has been making daily round trips between Sandusky and Kelleys Island since the ice went out a week ago.

The Messenger is a sister ship of the Mascot which, with Neuman and several others aboard, went down in Lake Erie between Marblehead and Kelleys Island early last December while trying to deliver an emergency cargo of winter supplies to Pelee Island, in Canadian Lake Erie.

War Veteran Wins Disputed Award

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, March 12.—A jury in District Supreme Court has ruled

a World War veteran, disabled in action, should not be deprived of his compensation if he works occasionally. The U. S. Veterans' Bureau intends to take the case to the District Court of Appeals.

The decision was given in the case of Arthur Marvin, Minneapolis, Minn., who was granted $7,450 in back compensation the bureau refused him because he worked at times. He claimed total disability as the result of blindness in one eye and impaired vision in the other. He is also suffering from tuberculosis.

RISEING STAR CLUB

Members of the Rising Star club met Wednesday evening at the home of Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Clark on Moravia street. After a business session the evening was spent in chat. At a seasonable hour refreshments were served by Mrs. Clark, assisted by her sister and Mrs. Theodore Wright. The club will meet this evening with Mrs. Penny Mae Barnes, W. Long avenue.

State Expects To Build 1400 Miles Of Road During Coming Summer

HARRISBURG, Mar. 12.—Approach of favorable weather is eagerly watched by officials of the Highway Department who are anxious to swing into action of the State's largest road building program. With a schedule of approximately 1400 miles to be completed this year they desire to get started so that the mileage can be completed before the close of the summer.

By the time the touring season started after the close of school hardily a section of Pennsylvania will be without its road improvement project. When the first detour bulletin is issued in a few weeks it will resemble a child's face in the early stages of the measles.

Hundreds of miles of incomplete road projects have been held over from last season. During the winter months the department has awarded contracts for the grading or paving of many additional miles. By May 1 it is the aim of the department to have all its road improvement projects advertised.

Department forces also are in for a busy year. Approximately 300 miles of graded road is to be given a macadam surface during the season by the department. Then there will be almost 200 miles of worn-out macadam that will be resurfaced.

Within the next month road building will be moving along at a record breaking pace if favorable weather permits. Contractors will work on hand are being urged to speed up. The department has a balance in excess of $35,000,000 on hand to the credit of the motor fund to pay for this work. In addition other millions will be coming in from the gas tax during the summer months.

Candy Not Forbidden TO THE FAT

No need to deny yourself all good things because you are overweight. Modern physicians do not advise starvation. They know the dangers of it. They know that people who are over-fat have generally an under-active gland. So they supply the factor, for lack of which too much food goes to fat.

This modern method is the basis of Marmola prescription tablets. These tablets were perfected, and are prepared, by a famous medical laboratory. A book in each box states the formula and explains the reasons for results.

For 22 years Marmola has held the top place in his field. Millions of boxes have been used in fighting fat. The people who gained new youth and beauty, new health and vigor, have told others. Now the results are seen everywhere. Excess fat has largely disappeared.

There is usually no excuse for an abnormal figure and the dangers which go with it. If the cause is an under-active gland, Marmola is the right way to combat it. For 22 years, countless people have been learning what it does.

Go try Marmola and learn what they have learned. Read the book in the box, then do as directed. Take four tablets a day. When you see that results are coming, go on and complete them. You owe that to your future. Start today.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 a box. Any druggist who is out will gladly order for you.

Pennsylvania Dry, Poll Shows

Prohibition Vote Taken In Pennsylvania By Pathfinder Shows Drys In Majority

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent of The New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 12.—Pennsylvania is dry at heart, according to a prohibition poll taken by the Pathfinder, weekly published here.

Of the 38,887 votes cast by Pennsylvanians, the drys numbered 25,450 and the wets 13,437. The returns just made public reveal:

In the dry column, 4,539 in the state approved prohibition "as is" and 20,911 approved it and asked for stricter enforcement.

The 13,437 classified under the general heading of "wet" included 5,811 who favor government sale of light wines and beers, 4,002 would have the government sell hard liquor, 1,883 want their saloons back and 1,741 advocate the private sale of liquor at non-drinking places.

Only six states and the District of Columbia indicated a majority enlisted in the wet cause.

Aged Woman Dies, 116 Descendants

CENTRAL CITY, Pa., March 12.—Mrs. Christina Holsopple, aged 91, who had 116 descendants, died yesterday at her home after a long illness. She is survived by eight children, 44 grandchildren, 64 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild.

Mrs. Holsopple's death was the second to occur in this section within the last 24 hours, where a large family of descendants survive. Mrs. Frances Malone, aged 92, died Monday at her home in Spangler. She is survived by 102 descendants.

Big Verdict Is Awarded Widow

WASHINGTON, Pa., March 12.—Damages in the sum of $13,201 were awarded Mrs. Dorothy Baldwin of this city yesterday as a result of the fatal injury of her husband, Arless Baldwin, last June, the defendants in the action being Guy Rock, owner, and Frank Rock, driver, both of Adah, Fayette county.

Baldwin, employed by Irwin & Nelson, contracting firm of this city, was fatally injured when an automobile of the defendants crashed into his motorcycle.

The Most Famous Boys' Suit In The State Is Fisher Bros. Castle Clothes

At $6⁹⁰

Made In Our Own Factory

In these days when people think in millions and speak in billions, Fisher's still sell an immense quantity of Boys' Suits. We don't sell a million of them or a billion either but we do sell as many if not more than most companies. We don't know just how many and haven't time to stop now and count them... but we sell enough to be one of the few, if not the only, retail company in America to make Boys' Suits in their own factory and sell them direct through their own stores... and the quantity each year is growing, growing, growing. Only mass production has built for "Castle Clothes" this renown.

ALL WOOL

"Castle Clothes" are wool (by wool we mean all-wool, chemically tested) and come in a wide assortment of new tweed, blue cheviot, suiting and herringbone materials. They are tailored to 21 point perfection (illustrated above) and offered in a most comprehensive display of new spring patterns. The sizes are 6 to 16 years. Each suit consists of coat, vest and one pair of knickers.

MATCHING TROUSERS

Boys will be boys and none of us wish them otherwise... yet they always do seem to ruin the wrong pair of trousers. And that is just why Fisher's decided to always provide an extra pair of matching trousers for $1.95. You needn't buy them with the suit for any time during the season they will be here for you. Fisher Brothers Suits consist of coat, vest and one pair of trousers because boys grow so fast, and provide for an extra pair of trousers in case of accident or calamity.

OH, THESE WOMEN!

By LEOLA ALLARD

After panning the merry bachelor who wrote me that his is the only life, this comes from Chicago. Is he a bachelor? Wouldn't you know it?

"Dear Miss Allard:"

"My dear" is more formal if he was very much disgusted.

"In order to determine how much it matters whether you 'adore' bachelors or are indifferent to them, it would be interesting to me to know (approximately) how old you are, as most of the ladies I have seen working in an editorial capacity for newspapers have been rather passe."

"That 'approximately' shows he wouldn't believe anything a woman told him anyway, and I certainly hope he doesn't think I'm the kind of a goof to tell him my age! The fact that I won't should tell him something."

"Your parenthetical repartee in the bachelor letter printed this morning is weak. It is almost as silly as the letter itself."

"A bachelor is expected to give up his independence, share his home, and everything he possesses with one woman for life."

"Yah, and in return some of these wives devote their entire time trying to make their men happy and comfortable. While you are 'giving up your life' what is she doing with hers?"

"HE'S bachelor all right! Mister, there isn't any love without faith, life wouldn't be endurable without hope, and if you didn't have charity you would tinkle. If you think what you write you do tinkle, but I don't believe you. Perhaps you want to spread your faith, hope and charity over too great a territory and then you wonder why you don't get the proper returns for your pains? If a man as highly intelligent as you are, believed what you write, he would have jumped off somebody's roof long ago. I notice you didn't mention love."

"Perhaps your trouble is that you all expect to see returns the minute you drop your money in the collection box? I'll wager you haven't met the right kind of women. You have been watching those lake front dancers at your hotel, who don't want you to 'share' what you have. They want the WORKS."

"I know that is too often the case these days, but why is it that men who have been married invariably, in case of death or divorce, get married again? There must be something about it besides wasting your 'faith hope and charity.'"

(If I'm wrong, write again.)

British Army Upkeep Lower

(International News Service)
LONDON, March 12.—British army estimates for 1930 revealed a reduction of 605,000 pounds (about $3,000,000) from army expenditures in 1929 when they were made public today by secretary of state for war Tom Shaw.

In 1929, 41,105,000 pounds (about $205,000,000) were spent for the upkeep of the British army. The 1930 figure was placed at 40,500,000 pounds (about $202,000,000).

Toxin Anti-Toxin Given Students

Under Way; 240 Injections At Shenango

Two hundred and forty Shenango township high school students were given the first of three toxin anti-toxin treatments as a preventative measure against diphtheria, on Tuesday, under the direction of County Medical Director H. C. Harper.

Dr. Harper and his staff of assistants visited the schools at Hillsville and Bessemer to administer injections today, and on Friday they will treat school children at Mt. Jackson.

Three injections are given each student, the medical director said. Shenango high will be visited again next Tuesday and the second treatment given then, and the third some time later. The Hillsville, Bessemer and Mt. Jackson schools likewise will be visited three times.

Assisting Dr. Harper in the work are Miss Bertha Smith and Miss Grace Ackerman, local nurses of the state health department, and Miss Sarah Burkart, associated with the Associated Charities here.

Three Opinions By Judge Chambers

Counsel Fees Of Guardian Of
Eleanor J. McMillin Fixed
At $1200

Counsel fees of William McElwee Jr., guardian of Eleanor J. McMillin, were fixed at $1,200 in an opinion handed down by Judge J. A. Chambers yesterday. Executors of the will of the late Maria J. Book, J. R. Justice, Ella V. Justice and W. C. Justice are directed to pay this amount. The late Marie J. Book took Eleanor J. McMillin to rear and after Mrs. Books' death there was considerable litigation as to what amount should be set aside out of the Book estate for the maintenance and education of Eleanor. Attorney William J. McElwee Jr. was appointed guardian for her and fought the case through the supreme court.

In the case of A. A. Sanders against W. H. Witherow and Herbert C. Coates, Judge Chambers refused a new trial. Plaintiff had been awarded $180 for a hot air furnace and a new trial had been asked.

In the matter of a petition of Florence L. Phillips for a decree declaring rights under a deed of Ephraim Phillips, the petition is dismissed at costs of petitioner.

McBride Post Is Gaining Steadily

Local Veterans Post Stands
Fourth In Stand In Point
Of Membership Gain

Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars is continuing its steady march to state leadership, and now stands fourth in the state of Pennsylvania in point of membership gain during the current year. They are seventh in point of gain in percentage over their previous membership.

The post is very near the 200 mark in membership, which vantage point will place them among the first ten in the state if achieved and a strenuous effort will be made to soon gain the needed members to put them over the top.

An intensive drive for new members will be made by the post in the near future, under the leadership of membership Chairman, Fred Thompson.

Any veteran who has served overseas during any war or offensive by the United States, is eligible to join the Harry L. McBride Post.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY OPENS COMMONWEALTH'S CASE AGAINST IRENE SCHROEDER

Jury Is Completed Shortly Before Noon And Actual Evidence Taking Is Started This Afternoon. Butler Witnesses Are To Be Called First

Joseph D. Kelley, Laborer, Wayne Township.
C. Leroy Shira, Engineer, First Ward.
J. E. McDonald, Repairman, Ellwood City.
Clement Gardner, Tinworker, Fifth Ward.
Jennie Curtis, Housekeeper, Union Township.
Samuel Patterson, Farmer, Plaingrove Township.
Charles R. Hill, Laborer, Shenango Township.
L. Judson Rodgers, Farmer, Plaingrove Twp.
Theodore Warnock, Mechanic, Scott Township.
Gladyes O. Rosenthal, Housekeeper, 2nd Ward.
Thomas Kennedy, Molder, Fourth Ward.
John Fullerton, Salesman, Mahoning Township.

At the opening of court this afternoon, the commonwealth opened its case against Irene Schroeder for the murder of Corporal Brady Paul on December 27th, 1929. After two and a half days of examination, the jury was selected, the last one being taken at 11:40 this morning, and at one thirty District Attorney John S. Powers opened the case to the jury in court room number one.

The opening was a brief one. "We will show you that Corporal Brady Paul met his death on December 27th, 1929, on the Butler Road, just outside of New Castle," said he. "We will show that this defendant Irene Schroeder was the person who shot him. By competent testimony which we will call, we will show you every phase of the case, giving you everything bearing upon the case we could find, and after presenting our case to you, we will ask for a conviction at your hands."

Two Women on Jury.
Two women and ten men comprise the jury, the second woman being selected from the special panel of talesmen brought in by Sheriff Johnston. She is Mrs. Gladyes O. Rosenthal, a housekeeper of the second ward. The other woman is Mrs. Jennie Curtis, housekeeper of Union township.

At 10:20 Tuesday evening the second panel of jurors was exhausted and Judge Hildebrand issued an order of tales de pluribus, in which 40 additional talesmen were to be summoned. Sheriff Johnston had these talesmen in court at 9:30 and their examination started immediately. Mrs. Rosenthal was the first one called.

With the filling of the jury box, Judge Hildebrand excused the other special talesmen from further duty and they were paid for one day's service. The jurors of panel No. 2, who were called and excused for cause, were excused from further service on Further report of proceedings at court in the case of Irene Schroeder, are to be found on page 5.

Tuesday afternoon and also paid off. The balance of the panel No. 1, which is being used in court room No. 2, is being held in the event that the case against William Grimm is disposed of before Saturday morning.

Williams home and at the suggestion of attorneys various points of interest were shown.

"Who Can Smile"
The only incident of the trip occurred when a photographer asked Irene to pose for a picture. As she did he said:

"Smile pretty Irene." With only the suggestion of a grin she said, "Who the—could smile when they are going to the pen for life and their heart is breaking?"

The jurymen, muffled in greatcoats, huddled together in little groups, seeking to escape the piercing north wind that howled across the flat.

The women members of the jury, Mrs. Jennie Curtis and Mrs. Gladyes Rosenthal, were so impressed with their duties as jurors, however, that they conscientiously inspected the terrain in the vicinity heedless of the cold.

Want Dague Brought In.
As the jury returned to the court room, Margiotti moved that Glenn Dague be brought into court for the purpose of identification.

Dickey objected vigorously, arguing that it might jeopardize his client's interest.

Argument ensued with Margiotti offering citation from the supreme court to show authority for such a move.

The conference in the matter was private, counsel gathering around the bench and presenting their arguments.

Apparently there was considerable of an argument as both sides could be seen gestulating and pressing their points home in a vigorous manner.

The motion of the Commonwealth to bring in Glenn Dague was overruled.

First Witness.
Dr. Elijah Kaplan was the first witness called. Questioned by Margiotti.

Q. Where do you live?
A. New Castle for 25 years.
Q. What school are you a graduate of?

A. Jefferson Medical School 1913.
Q. Are you connected with any hospital?
A. Jameson Memorial.

Q. Were you there December 27, 1929?
A. Yes, about 12:30 o'clock.
Q. Where?

A. In the operating room on the fifth floor.
Q. How did you know?
A. I was leaving the hospital when I was told an emergency case had been brought in.

Q. What was his condition?
A. Extreme collapse.
Q. What did you do?

A. I felt he was suffering from internal hemorrhage from a gunshot wound. And we gave him an injection. We called a surgeon, Dr. Loyal Wilson.

Q. What occurred?
A. Dr. Wilson ordered a hypodermic and some ether.
Q. Was he operated on?

A. No, as I was giving him ether we saw he was dying.
Q. Did he die?
A. Yes.

Q. Did you see Mrs. Crowl there?
A. Yes, she was talking to the patient although I didn't hear what was said.
Q. What was the condition then?

A. Restless but still conscious.
Q. Cross examined by Dickey.
Q. You say he was in extreme collapse and did not know what he was doing?

A. Yes.
Q. Did that continue all the time?
A. Yes.
By Margiotti:

Q. Could he talk?
A. Yes, he was weak but he could talk.
Q. Did you hear his statement?

A. Yes while he was on the operating table.
Q. Were they coherent?
Objected to as the doctor hadn't heard what was said.

Objection overruled.
A. Well I was interested in his condition but he said certain words but I don't know what he said.
The doctor explained that what he meant was that the patient was extremely restless but conscious and able to talk.

Q. Could he talk rationally?
A. Yes.
Q. Could he talk rationally when Mrs. Crowl was there?

A. Yes.
Q. Cross examined by Dickey.
Q. What was his mental condition?

A. Well, a man in pain might be restless but know what he was doing. You stated you didn't know what was said?
A. I paid no attention.

Q. You wouldn't say he was coherent would you?
A. Yes.
Q. How long was he in the operating room?

A. I can't say.
Q. Dr. Loyal Wilson was in there?
A. Yes.
Q. Was any anesthetic administered?

A. I started to give him ether but he was dying and I stopped.
Q. Did you give him a hypodermic?
A. Yes, morphine.

Q. Would that have any effect on his speech?
A. It didn't have time to act.
Dr. Wilson Called.

Q. You are a practicing physician and surgeon?
A. I am.
Q. What school?
A. West Penn Medical School.

Q. Are you engaged now and were on December 27?
A. Yes.
Q. Have you had experience in observing gun shot wounds and treating them?

A. Yes, I have.
Q. Any experience in autopsies?
A. Yes.
Q. Were you called to the Jameson hospital on December 27 to see Brady Paul?

A. Yes, just at lunch time.
Q. Where was Brady Paul?
A. On either an operating table or a hospital truck.
Q. What was his condition?
A. Suffering great pain—restless.
Q. What was done?
A. He was so restless we thought it advisable to give him a few whiffs of ether but he was dying and we discontinued it.

Q. Was Mrs. Crowl in the operating room?
A. Yes. She was near Paul's head.

Q. Pay any attention to conversation?
A. No. It was a case of extreme excitement, the patient was in agony.
Q. Were they talking loud?

A. No.
Q. What was his mental condition?
A. It was all right. He was suffering pain, lunging about, crying out.

Q. Did you hear his conversation?
A. No.
Q. When he talked to Mrs. Crowl what would you say about his ability to talk?

A. I would say he was rational.
Q. Was Mrs. Crowl in the hospital when you got there?
A. She was.

Q. Was this conversation between Mrs. Crowl and Brady Paul before the ether was given?
A. It was.
Q. Did you perform an autopsy?

A. Yes, assisted by Dr. Paul Wilson.
Q. How soon after death?
A. About 1:30 or two o'clock. He died at 12:55.

Q. In the autopsy did you notice any wound?
A. Yes. A gunshot wound in left arm, in left leg and two in the abdomen. I extracted the bullet in his arm.
Q. Describe the wound in the abdomen?

A. It was made about one inch from the menth costal cartilage, thru left lobe of liver, under the liver, passing thru the center of the right kidney and left the body between 11th and 12 ribs.

Q. Did it pass thru soft organ?
A. Yes, through the liver and the kidney.
Q. Did you open the abdominal wall?

A. Yes.
Q. Did the bullet strike any bone?
A. No.
Dr. Wilson illustrated on himself where the bullet entered and passed out.

Q. Was there any deflection?
A. Evidently there was not.
Q. Will you describe the wound in the left arm?

A. It entered above the elbow and went through the arm. I took it out with my fingers. It had evidently struck a bone and was marked up.
Dr. Wilson illustrated how the bullet entered the left arm.

Q. Describe the wound in the leg?
A. The wound was about five inches below the knee joint.
Q. Did that pass in front or back of same?

A. Back.
Q. Did you determine cause of death?
A. Gunshot wound in abdomen causing hemorrhage and death.

Q. Who did you give the bullet to?
A. To John A. Funk.
Q. Anything else?

A. Another bullet.
Q. Was Howard Kelley the undertaker present when Brady Paul died?
A. Yes.

Q. Did you place any mark on the bullet from Brady Paul's arm.
A. Yes, I placed a cross on it.
Q. When did Kelley hand you the bullet?

A. In the hospital before the autopsy.
Q. You turned the bullets over to John A. Funk?
A. Yes.

Q. Did you open the left pants leg?
A. No.
Q. Were there any markings at point of entrance to wound in left arm and leg?

A. I didn't notice any.
Q. Did you know Brady Paul in his lifetime?
A. Not until I saw him in the hospital.

Q. Witness shown picture of Brady Paul and identified it as the deceased man.
Q. Was this time you were called in the afternoon?
A. Yes, it was just about lunch time.

Cross examined by Jarrett.
Q. When you got to the hospital room who was there?
A. Dr. Kaplan, Brady Paul, Mrs. Crowl, Howard Kelley and the operating force was coming and going.

Q. You said there was confusion and excitement.
A. Oh, yes.
Q. How long had you been in the room when Mrs. Crowl talked to Brady Paul?

A. A few minutes.
Q. How long was the conversation?
A. Short.

Q. How close was she to Brady Paul?
A. Right up against him, helping to hold him.
Q. He was tossing in pain?

A. Yes.
Q. Did you hear anything Mrs. Crowl said to Brady Paul?
A. No.

Q. Were you there when he died?
A. Yes.
Q. How soon after death did Kelly come in?

A. He was there when he died.
Q. He gave you a bullet?
A. Yes, I think immediately after his death.

Q. From time you got into room did you say anything to Brady Paul?
A. I think not.
Dr. Wilson illustrated on Jarrett's body how bullets penetrated the body of Brady Paul.

Q. How tall was Brady Paul?
A. About 5 ft. 10.
Q. About how heavy?
A. About 180.

Q. How old?
A. In the twenties.
Q. Was he a well developed man?
A. Yes.

Q. Remember the size of the bullet hole at entrance on abdomen?
A. About size of a lead pencil.
Q. At the point of exit did the bullet pass thru muscle.

A. Yes.
John A. Funk came into the court room at this junction and turned over the bullets given him by Dr. Wilson. Dr. Wilson identified the bullets as the ones taken from Brady Paul's body.

Dr. Wilson was excused at 5:12 p. m. and Dr. Kaplan was recalled.
Q. Did you attend the autopsy?
A. No.
Q. Did you notice the wound?

A. Yes.
Q. Did you notice the point of entrance?
A. Yes.
Q. How could you tell it was entrance?
A. It was scorched.
Cross examined.

Q. You've said it was scorched?
A. Yes.
Dr. Paul Wilson was called. He assisted Dr. Loyal Wilson in the autopsy.

Q. Where did you graduate?
A. Harvard Medical 1928.
Q. On the staff of Jameson Memorial hospital?

A. Yes.
Q. Did you assist in the autopsy of Brady Paul?
A. Yes.

He described the wounds. His testimony corroborating the testimony of previous physicians.
Dr. Wilson was excused at 5:18 and court adjourned for the day.

Stage Is Set For Minstrel And Revue Here

Annual Event For Jameson Memorial Hospital To Be Given Thursday And Friday

BIG ATTENDANCE IS FORECASTED

Final arrangements have been completed for the big annual minstrel revue which will be given at the Cathedral Thursday and Friday evenings, for the benefit of the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Some of the finest talent in the city will be seen in action in both the minstrel and revue parts of the show, which will be one of the most stupendous events of its kind ever held in the city.

Snappy choruses, drilled to the minute will cavort in the revue, and there will be a number of specialty dance numbers. One of the features will be the appearance of Miss Dorothy Fletcher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fletcher of North Mercer street, in a series of special dance numbers. There will be a special high school group in addition to other choruses.

The show will start promptly at 8:15 both evenings and every effort will be made to conduct the performance with dispatch, so that there will be no waits between acts. This has all been arranged and the stage is all set for a finished production.

Rehearsals have been in progress for more than a month. Able assistance has been rendered by Miss Betty Rea, who has played at the rehearsals for the revue numbers, and Mrs. H. Reinhart, who has been playing for the minstrel numbers.

Indications point to a record attendance on both evenings of the show, which has now become an annual event for the benefit of the hospital.

Indian Leader Begins March
(International News Service.)
BOMBAY, India, March 12.—Launching his campaign of civil disobedience through which he hoped to force the British government to grant India its independence, Mahatma Gandhi and seventy volunteers today started from Ahmedabad on a two weeks march to the Gulf of Cambay.

More than 100,000 natives cheered the Indian leader and mystic when he and his followers left the city early today determined to spread their dogma of firm but peaceful civil disobedience.

You are paying for a PACKARD

Why not own one? It really costs no more to own a distinguished Packard Standard Eight than a lower priced vehicle of like size. Operating costs are no greater. And the higher first cost is completely offset by the longer period the Packard owner gladly keeps his car.

THERE in a nutshell is the reason so many of your friends and acquaintances are driving Packard cars.

Why not enjoy the distinction and satisfaction of Packard ownership yourself?

Let us give you a Packard demonstration—the new kind of demonstration with facts and figures set down on paper in black and white!

We can quickly show you that gasoline, oil and tire costs are just as great for your present car as for a Packard—if your car compares with a Packard in size. This is true even if your present car cost but half the Packard price.

And we can show you that license, insurance, garaging and repairs for your present car cost just as much in the aggregate as they would cost for a Packard.

This leaves only depreciation to consider. And depreciation on half-price cars traded in every two years or so is just as great as depreciation on a Packard kept twice that long.

That is why we say, "You are paying for a Packard." And that is why we invite you to own one.

We know you will want to keep your long-lived, always-modern Packard far longer—in months and miles—than you ever kept a lesser car. And that its beauty and luxury will be a source of satisfaction long after the purchase price has been forgotten.

The price of the most popular model of the Packard Standard Eight—the five-passenger Sedan—is but $2485 at the factory. Ten other body styles are available on the 127½ and 134½-inch wheelbases at from $2425 to $2885.

Why not let us appraise your present car—and tell you about the convenient Packard monthly payment plan?

The Parent Problem

by GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Parents Should Recognize Jealousy As Source Of Unhappiness In Child

Are you ever jealous? Are your children? Certainly.

To have jealous feeling occasionally is to be alive; never to have it is to be dead.

Go to a social gathering; look and listen for a few minutes to discover on the faces and in the speech of others there, good evidences of jealousy. If you can be very objective with yourself you may observe it in your own feelings when some one you considered of your level has been singled out for very generous compliments. Even you may feel the pang of jealousy betrayed by a curious feeling somewhere above your waist, with a still more curious creeping something in your face.

You may get relief as you keep on trying to say kind words about the other person; or succeed in turning the attention of the group to something else. Or, caught off guard, you may act childishly, directing at some one a "dirty dig," or by shutting yourself in away from everyone.

Jealousy is an unpleasant feeling we have toward another person who wins or seems to win the approval which we hope to get ourselves or felt that we deserved. As a rule we

Such experiences come to all—to parishioners on their bended knees at a prayer service, teachers in a Sunday school, deacons in a church, missionaries at a conference, scholars at a scientific meet, delegates at a hobo convention, relatives at a family reunion, or a family funeral, children by the fireside or ice-box. Some men marry women, some women marry men, for no other reason than to keep other men and women away from them.

Warmly praise a butcher, preacher, lawyer, doctor in the presence of another butcher, preacher, lawyer, doctor, generally considered of the same level of success or eminence, and observe the absence of a genuine commendatory response. Some, by virtue of self-discipline and rare culture, rise above the force of jealousy and prove themselves exceptionally good sports. There seems to be no evidence of jealousy in Jesus, but some of his disciples surely were afflicted by it. It is the spirit of his sermon on the Mount, which is the greatest antidote for this affliction.

In the Child Welfare magazine for January I pointed out that jealous feeling implies that as the other person has received approval we have been robbed of it. His loss has been our gain. This ugly feeling toward him exists whether he purposely caused us to seem to be considered inferior to him, or did so unawares.

As a rule, the one toward whom jealousy is felt, is wholly innocent, particularly among children. The baby is not aware that he caused his older sister or brother to feel jealous of him. Even if he were, he could not keep his parents from devoting so much attention to him, nor could he reduce the adoration of the adult relatives and friends.

The girl of nine who is more prepossessing than her sister one year older, or who has overtaken the older child at school, can hardly be expected to make herself less attractive or more stupid.

Nevertheless, we parents ought to recognize in jealousy a source of much unhappiness in children and of many problems of behavior.

Hundreds of People in New Castle are Poisoning Themselves Every Day and Suffering All the Time

World Tonic Man Says You Can Pick Them Out on the Street by Their Looks

"Yes," said the World's Tonic representative, "I mean what I say when I repeat that a lot of people in this town would be better off if they took a quick poison, instead of permitting themselves to be poisoned every day. You can see them on the street, dragging themselves along in misery, some of them brave about it, but some clear down in despair."

"The pity of it is that their suffering is unnecessary. Stomachs that are too weak to retain their food; eyes that show how they need sleep; weary steps that tell the story—all of these are evidences of slow catarrhal poisoning—not so slow in many cases either. These victims have let catarrh run on until the body is full of waste products, and the blood is so foul that the poisons are not thrown off."

"Stomach, liver, kidneys—something gives way, and is in distress all the time. I'm sorry for these folks, for I have seen thousands in that condition who were speedily restored by this good-working medicine. They have come in different stages of catarrhal poisoning, and after they had taken one or two bottles of World's Tonic I hardly knew them when they came back, they were so much better."

"If the people of New Castle who have catarrh had seen what I have seen they would waste no time in visiting the drug-gist and taking World's Tonic." World's Tonic is for sale by Eckerd's, McKee's, Paisley's, Smith's and all other good drug stores. (A-54)

Who invented the Zeppelin and who holds the patents on it?

Lighter-than-air craft date back to the Montgolfier brothers (French) in 1783. Thenceforward attempts at dirigibility continued almost uninterruptedly until Henri Giffard (also French) attained it, in very calm weather, with a steam engine, in 1851. The modern dirigible's birth year may be regarded as 1898, with Count Ferdinand Zeppelin (German) getting the bulk of the credit but a share of it going to Alberto Santos Dumont (Brazilian). As a whole the dirigible is unpatented, though patents on many of its accessories are variously held.

Has No Gas Now!

Once a woman of her age had to be careful. Today she eats anything she wants! Takes a Stuart Dyspepsia Tablet—and after-eating distress vanishes.

Chew a Stuart Tablet after the heartiest meal, and you, too, can smile at indigestion. Stops gas and belching. Ends sour risings. A modern combination of Calcium Carbonate, Magnesium and other soothing, healing ingredients is the safe anti-acid, (2 1/2 times as effective as soda) offered in these tablets. "A sweet stomach for twenty-five cents!"

MAKE THIS TEST!
Purchase a 25c, handy pocket tin of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at your druggists', use them after meals and avoid the pains, discomforts and distresses due to indigestion. One Stuart's Tablet will neutralize several times its weight of acid material in the stomach.

Prayer In Congress

The house met at 12 o'clock noon and was called to order by the speaker.

The chaplain, Rev. James Shera Montgomery, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, at whose footstool the morning stars sing together and in whom there is perfect love and harmony forevermore, Thy providence hast brought us to another day. How much more intelligently and bravely we can serve our fellow men with Thy truth to guide us and Thy Spirit to inspire us. O bestow upon us the mercy of these blessings. Life's limitations would be bitter, indeed, had we not the assurance that this is God's earth, and it bears testimony of His presence and His goodness. Blessed Father, as we live, make us eager to love and follow Thee. Amen.

Victoriously Proved

... in performance, economy and value

Local Records

"Challenger Week" Results in New Castle were as follows: The Essex Challenger reached a top speed of 73 miles per hour—was driven 58 miles in 69 minutes—topped North Jefferson street hill in New Castle at 52 miles per hour—topped Mount Jackson hill at 49 miles per hour—averaged 20.7 miles per gallon of gasoline—accelerated from 5 to 35 miles per hour in 10 seconds, and from 10 to 60 miles per hour in 21 seconds.

Prove What Every Essex Can Do

Come take a ride yourself. Know by personal experience what this brilliant New Essex Challenger can do. Its exploits of Challenger Week have swept the country. Essex owners led the demonstration.

They were so widely followed and aided by public participation that we are continuing the invitation to Ride—Ride—Ride!

Every locality now knows Essex for the accomplishment of some great feat. Hills seldom attempted in any car were climbed by Essex in high gear. Remarkable economy proofs were established. New acceleration marks were made.

Most important of all—Challenger Week convinced motorists everywhere that Essex represents the greatest dollar for dollar value in car satisfaction that the industry offers. We will gladly give you a personal demonstration of any of these proofs which Essex has established.

Clark House On Diamond Is Furnished Entirely In Style Modern Century Ago

Unheeding the buildings which have been erected beside it and the buildings which have been torn down in the past century, the Clark house, on the Diamond, beside the First Christian Church, stands quietly watching the world's rapid progress. It is a two story frame house, with a shingled roof and is not at all unusual in appearance. But there is something about this house which bein the house and old fashioned beds, large, clear mirrors, and dishes 200 years old.

The house itself is made of stout oak and has resisted well, the steady beating of the winds, through near 100 winters.

NEW OFFICERS ARE CHOSEN BY P. T. A.
Arthur McGill Chapter Ballots Tuesday Afternoon; Program Of Speeches

Officers for the ensuing year were elected by members of the Arthur McGill Parent-Teacher association when they met at the McGill school building Tuesday afternoon for their regular March meeting. The retiring president, Mrs. E. L. Thompson was in charge.

In the balloting which marked the outstanding feature of the program, Mrs. J. L. Reed was chosen as president; Mrs. J. A. McNeill, vice president; Mrs. H. N. Drio, secretary and Mrs. Lucy Daubenspeck, treasurer.

The speaker for the afternoon was Mrs. S. D. Pearson, who has as her subject "Home Gardens." Brief explanatory talks were also given by Miss Jean Laurel and Miss Margaret Reed, who explained their classroom duties. Each talk was immensely enjoyed.

Before the meeting was adjourned, the parents and teachers voted unanimously to confer an honorary membership upon the principal of Arthur the school, Prof. R. G. Leslie.

Snake Oil

STOPS PAIN
From coast to coast this and women are singing the praises of "Anti-Pain Oil"—a most powerful, penetrating, pain-relieving ointment. It will penetrate the deepest tissues in a few minutes. Mrs. B. Werner, New Orleans, La., writes, "Thanks to your wonderful penetrating oil, it relieved me of rheumatism and deep-seated cold after other remedies failed."
I had rheumatism so bad I had to walk on crutches for nine years; says H. C. Hendrix, old soldier of Minneapolis, Minn. "After three months' treatment with Anti-Pain Oil, I laid off my crutches and now can walk like a boy."
J. B. Moore, Pittsburgh, Pa., railroad man, says, "Anti-Pain Oil is the only liniment that ever gave me relief from rheumatism. I use it regularly after being exposed to bad weather. For rheumatism, neuralgia, lumbago, stiff joints, pain in back and limbs, corns, bunions, chest colds, sore throat "Anti-Pain Oil" is said to be without an equal."
Refuse imitations. Nothing like the original. Sold in 70 cent bottles. Get it from your druggist. Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc.

UP TO JULIUS
Somebody told me the other day that Julius Tannen, musical comedy Pooh-Bah, is the creator of "Cohen on the Telephone."

I want to go on liking Julius. He's a Gentleman, after a fashion, and a man whose word I have no reason to doubt, tells me you are the author of "Cohen and the Telephone." For the sake of Gettysburg, Julius, say it ain't so!

I hope he sees this paragraph before we meet. I'd rather have him lie to me than hear the miserable truths from his lips.

PIECES OF ART
Antonio Ajello, candiemaker extraordinary, has one of the most interesting workshops in town. He exercises the same loving care in the creation of a candle that the master craftsman summons when evolving some exquisite jewel setting.

To Ajello they're not merely candles that burn out in a few hours, but pieces of art. "They typify love and romance, not dollars and cents," he says. This, despite the fact that some of his clients pay as much as Five Hundred Dollars a dozen for candles created by him to match their personalities, moods, ensembles.

By a secret process, the scent of fresh flowers and trees is embedded in the wax, and perfume the air like incense when the candle burns. There are long tables of stately, cathedral candles; sensuous tapers, exotically perfumed; dignified alabaster stalks; colored candles for the hall and fireplaces; and candles with flowers for the debutante's dance. A candle that he calls "Blossom Time in Sorrento" is the artist's favorite. A lovely wreath of perfumed orange blossoms, with light green leaves, bringing back memories of sunny Italy.

It is Antonio Ajello who made the Caruso memorial candle which will burn for eighteen centuries, every All Souls' Day, in the church of Our Lady of Pompei, in Pompei, Italy.

NEW YORK, March 12.—A hotel man over in the Snooty Mid-Town Section said the other day:

"You'd be astonished if you knew how many of us regret ever having extended the smoking privilege to women. Some day, soon, when the modern readjustment is completed, we'll be all right. In the meantime our rest rooms and corridors are crowded with idle women who spend no money here in the hotel, mean absolutely nothing to us in a business sense, merely dropping in to kill ten minutes and consume a cigarette."

Be that as it may, the next time we meet I am going "up to him" and say in a cold, unpleasant manner: "Mister Tannen, a man whose word I have no reason to doubt, tells me you are the author of 'Cohen and the Telephone.' For the sake of Gettysburg, Julius, say it ain't so!"

I hope he sees this paragraph before we meet. I'd rather have him lie to me than hear the miserable truths from his lips.

NEW YORK, is to be made ashen conscious, a prize of 750 bucks being offered for the most artistic model submitted—the idea being that beautiful trash repositories on every corner will act as a magnet to Old Hoi Polloi with his banana skins, apple cores, caramel wrappers and passe comic sheets.

It's a waste of money. Having been cautioned, since boyhood, against using the fancy towels in the bathroom, we've put naturally developed a coy reluctance when it comes to making free with anything that bears the least resemblance to the artistic. Hurling an empty banana into a Looie the Quince ash-can would be about as successful a most of us, as shooting craps on the front steps of the Lincoln Memorial.

Ten Taxicabs Are Burned In Fire
YOUNGSTOWN, O., March 12.—Ten taxicabs, owned by the Green Cab company, were destroyed in a blaze which raged in a one-story garage building on Commerce street here this morning. The fire was discovered at 2 o'clock this morning and had gained such a start, that firemen had difficulty in confining it to the building in which it originated.

The loss to the building was estimated at $10,000 and the loss of the taxicabs at a similar amount.

Coach John Lawther Has Developed Many Westminster "Stars"

Lawther Has Great Record In Four Years Of Head Coaching Of Titan Squad

O'Donovan, Crowell And Delahanty, Join Lewis, Gamble And Connors As Floor Luminaries

NEW CASTLE, Pa., March 12.—John Lawther, coach of the Westminster College basketball team for the last four seasons during which time he has developed a number of court performers who have received district regard.

John "Sparky" Connor, New York City, was All-Conference forward on the Titan team in 1927 although he was only a freshman. In the 1928 season, Connor played center and was made All-Conference center for his work that year.

Lewis Ranked High
Tudor Lewis, Farrell, captain and guard on the 1928 team and acting captain during the 1929 season was All-Conference guard twice and All-District guard twice. Lewis was generally regarded as one of the best floormen in the east.

Glenn O'Donovan, Pittsburgh, captain and forward on this year's team, was named the most valuable player in the conference last year and was given a forward berth on both the conference and district first teams. He was designated by many coaches and newspaper men as a par with Hyatt of Pitt.

Kenneth Delahanty, Iselin star forward on Titan teams for the last four seasons, has been All-Conference forward once and has twice been named on conference second teams. He has been the leading scorer for the Titans for three seasons and is regarded as one of the smoothest players in the district.

William Crowell, Sharon, star center on this year's team, has played for four seasons under Lawther at both forward and center. Crowell was last year placed as pivot on the second All-Conference team, and this year has been mentioned on a number of All-Conference and All-District teams. In district games this season, Crowell surpassed Delahanty's scoring record.

Phillip Rice, Duquesne, a sophomore member of this year's championship team, has been mentioned by every sports writer in the district as an outstanding guard. Rice has two more years of service and should be the best backguard performer in the entire section next season.

Grove City defeated Duquesne 23-20 last night at Duquesne. The Crimson won in the last period. Milan Rapenovic caged the shots that toppled the Dukes. Until Rapenovic caged the two field goals the score was 19 to 19.

Horton Smith and Ed. Dudley were eliminated at Miami in the quarter-final 36-hole play in the $5,000 International four ball golf tourney. Neil McIntyre and Harry Hampton won.

The American Horse Easter Hero, owned by J. H. Whitney, won the Cheltenham gold cup yesterday at Cheltenham, England and improved his standing among contenders in the Amiree steeplechase.

Cyril Tolley's long visit to America has cost him the captaincy of the British Walker cup team. It is reported from London, Roger Wethered, 1923 champion, has been appointed in his place.

Uniontown High Defeated Monessen 16-14 in an extra period contest at Pittsburgh. The victory put Uniontown in the semi-finals of the W. P. I. A. League tourney.

Boosters Have Tough Game On Tap For Tonight

New Castle Boosters Try For Revenge For Severe Drubbing At Hubbard, Ohio

Tonight at the Y. M. C. A. gym, the fast New Castle Boosters will oppose the strong Hub club of Hubbard, Ohio. After a week's lay-off the Boosters return to the court primed for their hardest battle of the present campaign.

The Hub club comes here with the reputation of having one of the fastest independent teams in Eastern Ohio. They have established a wonderful record holding victories over all of the leading teams in Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio.

Only recently they handed the strong Boosters their worst defeat of the season a 43-32 pasting on the Hubbard floor. Coach Fraser's lads have lost but one game this season on the "Y" floor and they are out to uphold this record. To date the Boosters have won 23 and lost 7.

Stars Bear Watching
The Boosters will have their hands full this evening watching Weaver, center and McPhee, guard stars of the Hub club. These two boys are wonderful shots and can make them from all angles. They scored 5 baskets apiece against the Boosters at Hubbard.

The largest crowd of the season is expected to witness this game this evening. Manager Tony Tino said today that the Hub club is positively the best attraction here this season. A fast preliminary will precede the main attraction and will begin at 8 o'clock sharp.

Probable Line-ups
New Castle Boosters: Hub Club
Kulich.....F.....Purucker
Fraser.....F.....Rucker
Sid Lockley.....G.....Weaver
Volesko.....G.....McPhee

Rocco Has Won Some 28 Fights

Friedman's Showing With Griffiths Boosts His Stock In Fistania

KEEN INTEREST IN THREE OTHER BOUTS

There'll be a prominent gathering of clans pugilistic at Jolly bowl Monday night when Emmett Rocco, Ellwood City, struts forth to battle Al Friedman, Boston, in a bout scheduled for 10 chapters. Rocco has been fighting since 1927, and of 39 fights he has won 28, dropped five and engaged in six no-decision tilts. Friedman has been featuring for about three years and caused a furore last week when he administered a neat shellacking to one Tuffy Griffiths, Chicago. They fought at Boston.

They say a bad beginning makes a splendid finish and in the case of Rocco it apparently is turning out that way. He was knocked out technically in his first fight, a tilt with Charlie Haddad, a local Syrian. Charlie nailed Em' above an eye and the claret flowed so profusely it was deemed advisable to stop the bout.

He didn't let this drive him from the ring. He came back and knocked out Steve Emerick, Andy Moran, Joe Burke, Sailor Maxted, Quentin Romero Rojas, George Gomas, Frank Florian, Jack Byrne, George Emerick, Jack Hogan, Harold Scarney, Billy Walsh, Tom Kirby and Ed Keeley. He lost bouts to Von Porat, Gross, Risko and Simms.

Looks Like Real Action.
And during the three years he has been boxing he has used his gloves to shave such well known pugilistic mugs as those of Johnny Risko, who recently battled Campolo; Marty Gallagher, Mose Boquillion (who fought Jim Maloney at Miami) and out of two fights with Al Friedman he broke even in the decisions.

So next Monday night Friedman and Rocco will put on the rubber fight. Someone may be flattened like an auto casing. Friedman believes Rocco will be the one and Em' opines that Friedman will be the chap who will hear the dreams that only come to pugilists who have been stretched prostrate.

Since Friedman fought here in 1923 he has improved considerably as his record shows. He has fought Ernie Schaaf, Jack Renault, Jack Gagnon, Babe Hunt, Bud Gorman, stowed away Big Boy Rawson and fought Tuffy Griffith twice and Al Lippe, his manager, sour as Dago Red, means that on each trip to the ring Friedman actually beat Griffith.

Evans Battles Red.
But local fans are not so much concerned over that fight as they are in the Monday night scrap here. Rocco dropped a decision to Frankie Simms at Cleveland but came back and won from Big Ed Keeley at the bowl. He had been off for several weeks prior to the Simms match and no doubt he was out of tune at Cleveland.

Rocco will wind up training Saturday and Sunday at his South Mill street gymnasium. Friedman will come to New Castle and work out for the last time Sunday at Jimmie Dime's gymnasium. It is probable their last preparatory work will draw a gallery which will want to get a line on the merits of the heavyweights.

There is a heap of interest in the semi-final of six rounds between Dick Evans of Youngstown and Red Jadaberg, Jamestown, who claims he is the middleweight champion of Sweden, which won't mean a thing after the bell rings. Both are good punchers but neither is right hand crazy.

Four Sluggers Carded.
Frankie Lands, a local preliminary boy, will tackle Don Morse, Jamestown, N. Y. No one knows much about Morse but his mentor, Tommy Moore, says he can fight and that being the case Lands will be there to prove he can't. They're carded for the second six-round preliminary at 122 pounds.

Billy Murphy of Ryantown will tackle Tommy Arnold of Uniontownship in the first bout of six rounds. Tommy is a southpaw. They have agreed to weigh 145 and Tommy says that if Murphy will stand up and fight he'll promise to show the fans plenty of southpaws when Murr' and he go into action St. Patrick's night.

There are so many American league players with the Reds the club is bound to get homesick passing through the Alleghenies. The mountains will remind them of Babe Ruth. The only American league club not looking to win the junior loop pennant is Cincinnati.

Lincoln-Garfield Team Wins Game

Wolf Of The Winning Team Is Star Of Contest

Lincoln and Garfield school team defeated the 9B5 team of Ben Franklin at the Lincoln gymnasium on Wednesday by score of 12 to 11. Martello scored point to win game in extra period. Score at end of 4th quarter was 11 all. Wolf was star on defense.

Field goals—Lombardo 2, Critch 2, Augustine 2, LaVio, Amodie. Fouls—Lincoln and Garfield 4 out 12, 9B5 3 out of 11. Referee, Wallace. Scorer, Nader. Timer, Pezone.

Falcons To Play Youngstown Five

The Polish Falcons are going after their 17th straight victory on the basketball court tonight when they meet the Green's Toggery Five of Youngstown at the Falcon court. The game is scheduled for 8:15 o'clock and should draw a big crowd as the Ohioans are rated a fast club.

Manager Felix Zuchowski in speaking of the game today was very enthusiastic over the chances of the Falcons of coming through victorious tonight. Friday night the Falcons go to Wampum for a game on the Wampum Opera House floor with the Wampum Independents.

Ben Franklin Cagers Windup Floor Season

Ben Franklin basketballers closed their season on Friday night by a decisive victory over Princeton high school and thus terminated another successful year on the hardwood. Franklin team early in the season looked weak and uncertain but came back strong to win all games played the second semester with a well balanced team that showed an increase in power with each game played.

Coach LeRoy Norton's teams have made an excellent record for the four years he has served at Franklin, winning the junior high title in the league race three successive times and have never been defeated in a league game. A total of 73 games won to 15 lost is the Franklin record for the four year period.

John Teplica was high scorer for the season with 155 points. Dick Jones was second high with 86 points and Andy Lasky, who played only the first semester came third with 69 points. Fifteen members of the squad have earned letter this year and they will be awarded in the near future. Lettermen are Andy Lasky, Mike DiCarbo, Herb McLure, Bob Allen, Walter Konic, John Teplica, Bill Regan, John Morgan, Dick Jones, Tom Jones, Andy Molsko, Harold Sanders, and student managers, Bud Eckles, Bill McBurney and Bob Lennig.

The season's record:

Uniontown Hi Beats Monessen

Uniontown Surprises By Eliminating Monessen In Extra Period 16-14

The biggest surprise of the W. P. I. A. L. tourney race now going on at the Pitt Stadium came on Tuesday night when Uniontown High school undefeated passers eliminated Monessen high 16-14 in an extra period. John Pike center for Uniontown clinched the fracas when he hurled one in early at the start of the extra period.

The surprise of Monessen defeat was that they were picked to win the schoolboy cup. Tonight Duquesne and North Braddock battle it out for the right to meet New Castle on Saturday night in the semi-finals.

The summary:
Uniontown 16.....Monessen 14
Ford.....Everhart.....Rotas
Everhart.....F.....Stevenson
Pike.....C.....Janosik
Harris.....G.....Currie
Rankin (C).....G.....Feldman (C)
Field goals: Ford 2, Everhart 2, Pike, Harris, Stevenson 2, Janosik, Currie, Feldman. Team fouls: Uniontown 4 out of 7, Monessen 4 out of 11. Individual fouls—Everhart 1 out of 1, Pike none out of 1, Harris 1 out of 3, Rankin 2 out of 2, Monessen, Janosik 3 out of 5, Currie 1 out of 4, Feldman none out of 1, Salotti none out of 1. Substitutions—McCleary for Rotas, Salotti for McCleary, J. Johns for Pike, for J. Johns. Referee, Walter Waite. Umpire—Sykes. Reider. Time of quarters 8 minutes.

Paulino Uzcudun has settled a controversy with three ex-managers. He got the decision and they got the money.
No wonder there have been so many holdouts. The boys want to stay up north and keep warm.

Sport Personalities

Matchmaker for Madison Square Garden in the world's pugilistic center—New York City—constitutes one of the most important of all sport jobs and it is no idle bla or puffery to note that Tom McArdle fits the post as snugly as Primo Carnera does a Size 21 (or is it, in fact, a 17?) shoe.

During the regular indoor season, from October through April, the Garden stages a show nearly every week, usually on Friday nights; and in the Summer, two or three big open air shows in one or more of Gotham's huge baseball parks.

It is the matchmaker's job, of course, to arrange shows that will produce the maximum box office receipts, to do so at reasonable costs, and to satisfy both the public and the New York State Athletic Commission that such matches are "for the good of the game" is, not harmful to good sportsmanship.

Indoor shows gross more than a million dollars annually at the Garden, the expected net for 1929-1930 indoor gates there being about $800,000. Tom McArdle has to work at high pressure to pile up such totals. For hours of a wintry day, he fairly lives on a phone fixing this or cancelling that match, arguing with nearly all the adroit gold diggers of the ring racket, placating steaming politicians, tickling the Wall Street temperaments of some of the Garden's far-famed "Six Hundred Millionaires"—and constantly clinching bouts such as will force the genial "Mike" Jacobs, ticket specialist extraordinary, to reinforce joyfully the Garden's own big selling staff!

McArdle—familiar with fight fans from long experience with other clubs—believes in reasonably priced shows, i. e., he prefers to fill the Garden at $5 or $10 "tops"; rather than half-fill it at $15, $20 or $25. In this he differs from the late Tex Rickard.

Lou Brix is McArdle's right hand man. Both are tactful experts in all "ang" of a sport far free from racketeering. Tom seldom loses his temper but, when he does, all he has to do is reach for Brix.

"SO, MY PROUD BEAUTY, YOU WOULD REPULSE ME, EH?" barked DALTON

"I would indeed," said the fairest flower of the countryside. "And how!"

"What is there about me, gal, to bring this disfavor down upon my head?" he demanded.

"Your voice, sir," she answered him haughtily. "The man who wins my heart must smoke OLD GOLDS in kindness to his throat—and to his listeners."

Robinson Hopes Brooklyn Team Will Make Grade

Mostly All "If's" With Manager Wilbert Robinson This Year

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service
Writer

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 12.—"More pep out there!" shouted manager Wilbert Robinson as he sat in the shade of the dugout here today and directed the training workout of the Brooklyn ball club.

"That's what I want—pep," said the genial, roly-poly "Uncle Robbie" in an aside to the International News Service reporter.

"Robbie" tried to look stern. The fans in Brooklyn have been accusing him of being "too soft." And so this spring, his tenth year as manager of the club, he has started out to rule with an iron hand. He has "cut out" a lot of "kidding" and he is making the boys work. He already has assessed $25 fines on Adolpho Luque and Hollis Thurston for reporting a little late and threatened to send one of the veterans to the minors. "Where is this club going to finish this year?" Robinson was asked. "I never predict," replied "Uncle Robbie" as he took a chew of licorice. Mostly All "If's"

Then he told why. You can't tell in the spring how they'll perform in the fall. And besides, right now everything is "if" with Robinson when it comes to discussing the team's chances for 1930.

If Glenn Wright's arm comes back and he is able to perform at short-stop—

If Dazzy Vance has one of his great pitching years—

If Babe Herman's holdout tactics doesn't hurt the temperamental slugger's early season form—

If "Robbie" can develop some more right hand hitters and prevent the other clubs from "left handing us to death"—

And—

If the pitching staff comes through. Well, "if" these things happen Brooklyn will have a real ball club.

Robinson pointed a fat finger at Jim Elliott, the big southpaw who was toiling on the mound.

"There's one guy who is right this year," said Robbie. "He was a corpse last season. The flu put him out of commission for almost the whole year. Why, there wasn't a club in the league that had as much tough luck as we had. Eight of our best men were out of commission at one time. All we want this year is just a few fair breaks."

Outlines Lineup
Asked to outline his probable lineup, Robinson after a little hesitation said:

"De Berry, Pleinich and Lopez will take care of the catching. The pitching staff is in the making. Bissonette will play first, Flowers, who was ill most of last year, is well and strong again and will be at second. If Wright's arm is O. K. the shortstop job is his. If not Eddie Moore will handle it. Wallie Gilbert will play third. The outfield will probably be made up of Herman in right, Frederick in center and Bressler in left. If Herman doesn't start the season in right, I'll put Harvey Hendrick out there. If Bissonette is too weak to start at first I'll use Bressler in that position and put Hendrick in left."

Kandy Kids Will Play Acme Five

The Wampus Kandy Kids, with one of the best floor combinations in the history of basketball at Wampus, will come to New Castle tonight to play the Acme team in a game at the "Y" floor that has been billed as a preliminary attraction to the New Castle Boosters-Hubbard Ohio fust. The game will start at eight o'clock sharp.

The prelin game brings together two strong teams and it will be the first game of a series for the Lawrence county junior title. The Kandy Kids have established a wonderful record this year. Coach Patterson has the Kids primed for this important game at New Castle tonight.

Post Season Game At New Wilmington Causing Furore

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., March 12.—The interest in the post-season game to be played between the Volunteer Fire Department team and the Minter Construction Company team has aroused basketball fans in the town of New Wilmington and local speculation on the outcome of the game is taking a great place in conversation.

Both teams are composed of former college and high school luminaries and a great game is certain. The Fire Companies team has John Lawther, mentor of the Westminster Titans, Skillin, McQuiston and Pitzer, former Scholastic stars, Karsten, former Northwestern star guard, Tom Hutcheson, Howie Eagleson and John Eagleson, former New Wilmington High stars and Black, Anderson, Shaffer, and Earl Hutcheson, all men of no mean ability. Then too, they have Jess Allen, six-foot six center and Rosy White, postmaster of the town and coach and manager. The team has an incomparable roster.

The Minter Construction team has Red Anderson, former Westminster College player, and a flock of good men in Pete James, T. Davis, Glen McConnell, Put Greer, Bill Greer, Dutch McFarland and Art Minter, coach. All of these boys are former high school and college star players and all worthy of note. They also boast of a nice record. In the past season they have played ten games of which only one has been lost. They have been playing in the Titusville District and little can be said as too their opponents.

The referee of the game will be Sheriff Frank Johnston of New Castle. With Sheriff Johnston on the whistle, there is little doubt in the minds of the boys that they will be able to get rough.

The proceeds of the game will go to the Fire Department.

New Castle high basketball team, winners of Section Three of the W. P. I. A. L. and who have reached the semi-finals of the schoolboy tourney held another long workout on Tuesday afternoon, in preparation for Saturday when the Red and Black team plays the winner of the Duquesne North Braddock game at the Pitt Stadium.

Coach Bridenbaugh is eager for his team to win the second trophy in four years and for this reason he drills his lads daily so that they will be in the peak for Saturday. Both Duquesne and North Braddock have good teams. New Castle will have to play better basketball than they played Saturday night to beat either team.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner is arranging for a special train on the Pennsylvania railroad.

Sure Way to Get Rid of Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. Then you destroy it entirely.

To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

ORDINANCE NO. 66

An ordinance providing for the levying and collection of taxes for various borough purposes in the Borough of Enon Valley, Pennsylvania, for the year 1930.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the Borough and the Town Council of the Borough of Enon Valley, in Lawrence County, Pennsylvania, and it is hereby ordained and enacted, that the authority of the same; that there is hereby levied and directed to be collected on all property, offices, professions and persons within said Borough made taxable by the laws of this Commonwealth, for county rates and levies, a tax for general borough purposes for the year 1930, of 10 mills on the dollar on said valuation, to be levied on assessment made by the elected assessor and duly adjusted and equalized by the proper authorities of said county of Lawrence.

SECTION 2. The commissions of the Tax Collector are hereby fixed at 2 per cent on all taxes levied under the provisions of Section 1205 of the General Borough Act of 1927, and 5 per cent on all taxes by him collected after the period for said abatement has expired.

SECTION 3. The Borough Secretary is hereby directed to prepare a Tax Book showing the above rates of tax, and also showing the amount of tax for each taxable, and he is further directed to prepare a duplicate thereof, to which the collection of the same and the Burgess shall deliver said duplicate together with said warrant to the Tax Collector for collection.

SECTION 4. The tax hereinafore levied on 10 mills on each one hundred ($100.00) dollars of assessed valuation of taxable property, 6th day of March A. D. 1930.

NEW YORK STOCKS
Speculative Selling Forces Down Stocks

By W. S. COUSINS

International News Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, March 12.—Sharp declines in prices of the leading industrial stocks this morning accompanied the heavy wave of speculative selling which passed over the whole market.

A 79,000 decrease in freight car loadings as compared with the same week last year and a reported deduction of steel mills operations to 82 per cent of capacity started the selling wave which set the stock tickers behind twenty minutes in the first hour.

Industrial Alcohol lost an additional 6 1/2 points and sold down to 105, compared with yesterday's high at 119 1/2. Westinghouse lost 6 1/2 at 179 1/2. United States Steel broke to 179 1/2 for a loss of 3 points. Simmons was down 4 1/2 at 33 1/2. General Electric down 1 1/2 at 76 1/2. American and Foreign Power down 4 points at 85. National Cash Register down 1 1/2 at 77 1/2.

An early spurt in the oil shares, accompanying the petroleum institute's announcement of an 88,000 barrel daily decline in crude oil production last week, carried Adair and Refining to the year's highest price, at 46 1/2.

Pure Oil, Texas Corporation, Standard of New Jersey and Sinclair sold higher. A 23-cent increase in the selling price of crude oil in California was taken as an evidence of the clearing up of crude over-production in that section of the country.

Uncertainty as to the outcome of the Bethlehem-Youngstown merger was reflected in another dip in Bethlehem to 101 1/2, down 1 1/2, and in the falling off in buying demand for the independent steel shares. Vanadium dropped off about 3 points to 82 1/2.

The trading pace was speeded up in the second hour, the ticker falling behind 27 minutes. There was little difference between prices bulletined from the floor of the stock exchange and those appearing on the tape, showing that market was steady at the lower price levels. There was little sign of a rally in the industrials and specialties which have been leading the upward move in recent weeks.

Commodity markets were fairly steady, with cotton and grain slightly lower, and call money renewed at 4 per cent.

BOSTON TO GET

THREE NEW DIAL

PHONE STATIONS

(International News Service) BOSTON, March 12.—Boston's principal business district will soon be served by a triangle of dial telephone exchanges.

The third point of the three-cornered system has been started on an historic site in Bowdoin Square. When finished it will be the West End telephone exchange rising ten stories in height, with a tower effect created by lofty vertical piers, enhanced by corner setbacks. The other two points of the triangle are the Back Bay—Kenmore—Copley—Commonwealth exchange office in Belvidere Street, and the Liberty—Hancock—Hubbard exchange office in Harrison Avenue.

The foundation work on the Bowdoin Square building has been started and it is estimated that the exchange will be in operation within two years.

Less than 200 years ago, the site of the new exchange flourished with homes and gardens. Two adjoining lots were owned and lived on by Charles Bullfinch, designer of the State House. Later, it became the site of the old Baptist tabernacle, and then was transformed into a hotel and lodging house. It remained thus until the telephone company razed the building to make way for the new exchange.

(International News Service) MISHAWAKA, Ind., March 12.—The Caterpillar club today had a new candidate for membership in Albert De Witt, airmail pilot who cut loose from his airplane in a parachute last night and landed safely three miles southeast of here.

De Witt became lost in a blinding snow storm as he was flying his regular run to Chicago. After circling several times to get his bearings De Witt decided to leap. He landed uninjured, but his plane, the property of the Thompson Aeronautical Corporation, was totally wrecked.

De Witt's plane had previously circled the landing field at South Bend, Ind., but continued westward without landing.

All Firemen In City Battle Wharf Blaze; Investigation Is Under Way

(International News Service) NEW ORLEANS, La., March 12.—Fire marshalls and dock board officials today investigated the fire which practically destroyed the Mandeville street wharf late yesterday and did extensive damage to the steamship Munaries of the Munson

Line and the British Steamship Pacific.

Including the $400,000 damage to the wharf, the loss was estimated at close to $2,000,000. The flames did nearly $100,000 damage to the Munaries.

The whole New Orleans fire department, with fire tugs and fire boats, battled the flames for three hours before the fire was brought under control.
